3 Killed In New Africa Mob Battle

DURBAN, South Africa (UPI)—White police shot three Africans dead and wounded at least three others in the commercial heart of Durban today in the worst incident here to date of the current radical violence.

Three wounded Negroes, including one woman, were taken to a hospital with gunshot wounds.

The incident came when a crowd of several thousand Negroes from Durban's squalid Cato Manor slub converged on the city center in several columns, brandishing sticks, hatchets and sharpened pieces of wire.

As the crowd stormed through the streets, it dragged other Africans out of shops, off bicycles and off the pavements, forcing them to join the march.

Police backed by armored cars and troops with fixed bayonets called on the crowd to halt when it reached West street—which is the Times Square of Durban.

When the warnings were ignored, the police fired into the air. Then shots were fired in the crowd of Africans.

Eyewitnesses said six Africans fell to the ground, three of them apparently dead.

After the firing, the mob scattered, the Africans were dispersed in the side streets.

In Johannesburg, meanwhile, the government mobilized four reserve regiments and some units of the civilian home guard in apparent anticipation of new racial violence.

The police reported "everything under control" early today after a night of sporadic clashes which killed at least one person and wounded seven. The situation remained explosive.

It takes only about five minutes to have your nose counted.

The national census started today, and in Marin 110 enumerators started the door-to-door canvass that is expected to wind up in about two weeks.

Among the first persons in the nation to be counted were members of the first family. Census director Robert H. Burgess and district census supervisor Louis J. Alexis collected information from President Eisenhower in about five minutes.

The Eisenhowers had prepared their census report in advance, jotting down the information on a questionnaire delivered within the past week by mail carriers.

Mrs. J. Lee Chaille of 1421 Butterfield road, Sleepy Hollow, head of the census for the San Rafael area, said there are seven such areas in Marin. Mrs. Chaille said an enumerator is supposed to cover not more than 500 homes.

"Each Monday and Thursday, each of the seven area leaders will report figures to headquarters in Santa Rosa," she said. "We are not allowed to give out

3rd Democrat Enters Race For Assembly

Another Democrat entered the race for Assembly in the Marin-Sonoma District yesterday afternoon making three Democrats and two Republicans seeking the seat being vacated by Richard H. McCollister. Deadline for filing is 5 p.m. today.

Everett A. Matzen, 42, a native of Petaluma who for two years lived in San Rafael, changed his mind yesterday afternoon and took out nomination papers. Last Sunday, after the California Democratic Council convention, he announced he would not file because he failed to get the council's endorsement.

After "evaluating the situation," however, and "receiving increased support and encouragement to run without the endorsement," he decided to file.

"I wasn't satisfied with the way the CDC endorsing convention was conducted," Matzen declared today. "It is not the American principle for the few to make the selection for the many. The people should decide for themselves who their candidate should be."

Major support for Matzen came from Sonoma County labor organizations. At a noon

U.S. Supports U.N. Resolution On S. Africa

But British Veto Of Call To Halt Segregation Hinted

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States today threw its support behind a resolution to have the U.N. Security Council call for an end of South African racial segregation policies.

But reports circulated that Britain would kill the proposal with a veto.

EMERGENCY SESSION

A veto would most certainly mean an emergency meeting of the 82-nation General Assembly to take up the situation which has erupted into violence almost daily for more than a week.

U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge led off this morning's meeting of the council with a declaration that events such as the racial strife in South Africa might be more dangerous to peace than some international disputes.

He appealed to the South African government to reconsider its racial policies in the interest of peace, as well as the interest of justice.

'NOT TOO LATE'

"It is not too late to reverse the tide in South Africa," he asserted.

Lodge spoke as some council members said they had been informed by Britain that the resolution, sponsored by Ecuador, would be vetoed.

The South African government has challenged the right to the U.N. to intervene. Its delegate, Bernardus Gerhardus Fourie, who pulled out of the council debate Wednesday after a similar protest against discussion of racial killings near Johannesburg and Capetown, accused the United Nations today of adopting a "double standard" toward such disturbances.
to the local disturbances which have taken place in South Africa in a serious light."

Ecuador sponsored the resolution before the council after the 29-nation Asian-African bloc demanded the U.N. consider the situation stemming from the slaying of 72 Negro anti-pass demonstrators by South African police March 21.

Detained African Leader Released

A Nyasaland government spokesman said the state of emergency imposed last year in the wake of riots by Nationalists protesting the federation of Nyasaland with the Rhodesias still existed. Banda and 150 other Africans were arrested on March 3, 1959.

U.S. Puts 'Weather Eye' Photo Satellite In Orbit

'THAT'S THE VICE PRINCIPAL'—San Rafael High School students point to ill-stuffed dummy in garbage can after it was cut down from tree on the campus this morning. The effigy bore markings identifying it as Vice Principal Alfred N. Thomson. Students blamed refusal to permit "senior cut day" for the hanging, but Principal Ralph H. Phelps doubted that explanation. (Independent-Journal photo)

270-Pound 'Tiros' Sends Back Reports

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States put up a weather eye satellite today to photograph the earth's cloud cover and quickly started getting back results described as "something good."

The 270-pound robot weather man was boosted into orbit from this missile testing station at 6:40 a.m.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington promptly reported the flight itself was successful.

Then shortly after noon Dr. Harry Wexler, chief scientist for the U. S. Weather Bureau, said signals coming back were "enough to let us know that there is something good there."

Radio orders had been sent out for the new satellite to take pictures of the earth's cloud cover as it swung overhead, and to transmit them back.

ITS ORBIT

Dr. Abe Silverstein, director of space flight projects for the space administration said the satellite had achieved an orbit fairly close to the one originally planned for it, which would be a circle of about 380 miles from the earth.

Silverstein added that the satellite was injected into its orbit at an agle within three one-thousandths of a degree of that planned for it.

The space agency said the orbit actually achieved would take the satellite 435½ miles from the earth at its nearest point and 468.28 miles at its farthest point.

The agency said all the experiments were "currently working and we expect to obtain data from it."

NAMED TIROS

The new satellite was officially named Tiros I.

It carried cameras designed to photograph the earth's cloud cover and relay them back, providing data which scientists hope will help in forecasts of such greater weather phenomena as hurricanes.

Scientists emphasized that the first effort is experimental, mainly to help work out techniques for truly operation launchings later.

The satellite is a package shaped like an oversize hatbox, 42 inches in diameter and 19 inches high. It bears solar cells to replenish its batteries, and radio antenna to receive orders for taking pictures and transmitting them back to earth.

APRIL FOOLISHNESS

Some Guys Are Just Tailor-Made Targets

By DONALD GULL DAVIS

It hasn't been a good day. Not good at all. First thing, when I stumbled in to breakfast the wife said the city editor had telephoned and wanted me to go cover a big story.

I bolted out the door, not knowing where I was going, and she said, "April Fool!" I felt like one. Then I put a big spoon of sugar in my coffee, only it was salt, and the boys said, "April Fool!" I felt like one.

Then I got to work, and the city editor smiled and I brightened. It was going to be an all-right day. Then he snarled, "April Fool!" I felt like one.

Then the wire editor, who always snitches my cigarettes, came over and gave me a pack. I thanked him profusely.

But the package was just a clever paste-up job. It was a pack of sawdust. "April Fool!" I felt like one.

The telephone rang and it was the president of the Marin Pyramid of Peapickers and he said he certainly had enjoyed my little write-up about their election. And before I detected his sarcasm he said I spelled his name wrong. And I felt like a . .

By this afternoon even had I been an eye witness to a catastrophe I wouldn't have believed it.

Later the boss came by and said it had been a rough day and that he would like to buy me a snort. I knew he was fooling—but I felt like one.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—April was off to a sunny start today with fair skies forecast for the next five days throughout Northern California.

The only exception was the possibility of rain in the extreme north early next week.

FOR 'CUT DAY' BAN?

Pupils Hang Effigy Of High School Official

A group of San Rafael High School students hanged Vice Principal Alfred N. Thomson in effigy from a tree on the school campus early today—apparently in protest at school authorities' refusal to allow a senior "cut day" this year.

Principal Ralph H. Phelps was skeptical at this explanation of the "hanging." He said San Rafael High has had no "cut day"—a sort of picnic and recreational day away from classes for the seniors—for at least four years. But some seniors had been planning one this year without authorization, and were told yesterday that it would not be permitted, Phelps said.

The principal said he had reports the effigy-hanging was planned before yesterday's announcement about cut-day, so must have been in annoyance over some other matter.

Students responsible for the "hanging" were "feeling pretty bad about it" later in the day and one of them informed a teacher that an apology was being prepared, Phelps reported.

The effigy was found hanging from a tree near the school cafeteria early today, and was

RED TAG DAYS STORES OPEN TILL 9 TONIGHT

Red Tag Days—San Rafael citywide sale—will go into "overtime" tonight as stores remain open until 9 o'clock.

The late Friday opening hours will prevail in Corte Madera Center and Novato, as usual, as well as at some San Anselmo stores.

San Rafael merchants reported throngs of shoppers grabbing up Red Tag bargains yesterday and this morning, but all said sale tables were being replenished to provide wide variety for those who want to get their bargains tonight.

San Rafael Fire Station Plans Pass

Over-all cost of the station will be about $119,000, including $48,000 for construction, $33,000 for a fire truck, $22,000 for salaries, and other costs such as extending fire alarm communications.

The fire commissioners recommended that the garage area be of tilt-up concrete, the rest frame and stucco. Target date for opening the new station is January of next year.

Because of the new station, the fire department's budget for the coming fiscal year may show an increase of about $125,000 over last year's $250,000, City Manager Dan E. Andersen estimated.

Korean Sailor Charts Marin College Course

A Korean sailor will chart a course of study at the College of Marin in Kentfield starting Monday.

Kim Ik Su, 25, who arrived by plane yesterday from Seoul, may have a full and steady breeze behind him for this part of his career; it's been rough sailing so far. He will finish out this part of the semester and start a full-year course next fall.

Kim is a second class petty officer in the Korean Navy. He has served for more than four years. He was just a teen-ager when war ravaged his country. His family was split, and his father, a doctor, disappeared and never was heard of again. His mother lives with brothers and sisters in Seoul, Korea's capital city.

In Marin he will live with Harry Mack, executive director of the American Cancer Society, Marin County branch, at Mack's home at 121 Humboldt avenue, San Anselmo.

Mack met Kim through the American-Korean Foundation, when Kim was studying electronics with the U.S. Navy at Treasure Island.

"It's so easy to get someone else to do things for you," Mack said, "but I've been interested in other countries and peoples and doing something for them. Kim wanted to go to school here and I decided to try to help him."

About five years ago Mrs. Carter Collins of Berkeley, chairman of the American-Korean Military Study Program, said she would find sponsors for 75 Korean servicemen who wanted to study in the United States.

Finding sponsors was not easy and there were bales of red tape to cut through. The U.S. and Korean governments had to approve, colleges had to approve, all sorts of officials had to approve . . .

Finally, when the 75 eligibles were all approved, years had passed and many of them no longer were interested. Mack asked Mrs. Collins to fit Kim into one of the vacancies.

Again there were bales of red tape. Kim wanted to attend College of Marin, a logical choice with Mack living in San Anselmo as his sponsor. The college said it had a policy of not admitting foreign students. The board of trustees overruled this stand. Then came months of work in getting approval from various governmental agencies on both sides of the Pacific.

But finally Kim, a slightly-built, soft-spoken, wiry and smiling young man, made it.

Next week he will pursue further study of electronics, and during the summer he will study too—on his own.

Students To Be In Model U.N. Meet

Dominican College of San Rafael will represent China at the Model United Nations to be held at the University of California at Berkeley next Wednesday through Saturday.

Two of the delegates, Catherine Silcock and Barney Roddy, are students at Dominican and live in San Rafael.

The model U.N. was started about 10 years ago by college students meeting at Stanford University. It has become an active student conference in support of the United Nations.

Plastering To Be Topic On Radio

"Getting Plastered" will be the subject of tomorrow's "Construction News" on KTIM, says program producer E. Douglas Roberts, manager of Marin Builders' Exchange.

"Your house, not you," he hastened to add. The 12:30 p.m. broadcast will feature an interview with Edwin R. Richmond of Northbay Plastering Co., who is president of the Northbay Plastering Institute, secretary of Marin County Plastering Contractors Assn. and a member of the board of directors of the Builders' Exchange.

Novato, County Officials Hold Discussion Of N. Marin Plan

Mrs. Mary Summers, Marin County planning director, took Novato city officials on a "guided tour" of the North Marin master plan last night.

In passing, she probably landed a job for herself and her staff.

Before adjourning the meeting, Mayor Wayne Womack instructed City Clerk Robert O. Bailey to investigate the cost of hiring the Marin County planning staff to serve the City of Novato for the fiscal year 1960-61.

The basic theme of her talk to city councilmen and planning commissioners was: "Don't plan for only the area you incorporated. Plan for the area you should have and eventually will incorporate."

By this she meant the broad North Marin area from Black Point to the Marin County airport, which is included in the master plan she and her staff have been developing since 1953.

"I urge you to remember—when planning for your subdivisions, recreation areas, industrial sites, roads, schools and shopping centers—that someday you will be a city of 100,000 people," she said.

Surrounded by enlarged maps of the area which had been prepared by her staff, she detailed the current status and future needs of the city in almost every field of its potential growth.

"The whole effort is useless if you figure out your general plan needs, have them printed and then put the whole thing in a drawer to gather dust," she said.

It was apparent that the city officials were definitely interested in employing the services of the county planning staff. Their interest sharpened noticeably when Mrs. Summers—who was "Mary" to the officials and audience before the evening was over—announced that her personal consultation fee was a modest $3.50 an hour.

In recent weeks the city has listened to two other professional planners, Lawrence Livingston Jr. of Sausalito and Herman Ruth of Oakland. Both have offered their services to the city in developing a master plan, Livingston at $25 an hour and Ruth at $17.50.

"Do you think we need a professional planner?" asked Councilman Harvey J. Vicchio.

"If you hired us I would say you do have professional planners," Mrs. Summers answered.

Insisting that she was not "soliciting business," Mrs. Summers said she and her staff are now performing planning staff work for Mill Valley and would consider taking on Novato with approval of the board of supervisors. Services of the planning staff are free to Novato under contract with the county until July 1.

Federal funds would be available to the city whether a private consultant or a county planning staff was employed, she said.

Drunk Driver Draws $150 Fine, Probation

Earl Francis Lawrence, 62, a San Francisco bank employee, must pay $150 fine and remain on six months probation for his first drunken driving offense.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him yesterday for driving while intoxicated on the frontage road north of Richardson Bay Bridge on Feb. 6.

'GO GET HIM, YOURSELF,' THINKS DOG

ROSELLE, N.J. (UPI)—When a bandit entered Frank Mulasz's liquor store and announced a holdup by firing a shot into the floor, Mulasz shouted to his cocker spaniel:

"Go get him!"

The spaniel sat down and the thief escaped with $150.

Retiring Transit Director To Talk

John C. Beckett of Kentfield, retiring director of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, will talk to the League of Women Voters of San Anselmo at its annual luncheon meeting Wednesday at Rubini's, Fairfax.

He will talk on Bay Area problems and their possible governmental solutions. Also on the agenda is the election of officers, presentation of a budget, possible by-law changes and selection of the current-study item for the coming year.

Luncheon tickets may be ordered from Mrs. Mervyn Dowd Jr., 14 Fay drive, Kentfield, and Mrs. Richard Foster, 63 Almenar drive, Greenbrae.

Dominican Pupil First In Area Science Fair

A Dominican Convent eighth grade pupil will receive a first place award tonight for her project in the seventh annual Bay Area Science Fair held in the Academy of Sciences at Golden Gate Park in San Francisco.

Eleven other Marin students also won awards.

Award ceremonies will take place in Morrison Auditorium at the academy.

Selected as grand prize winners in the senior division were Donald Shapero, 17, of Cubberley High, Palo Alto, for a project titled "Precession Magnetometry," and Clare Martin, 17, of El Cerrito High, for a study dealing with "A Theory of Reproduction." Both will be sent with their projects and teachers to compete in the national science fair at Indianapolis May 11-14.

Junior division grand prize winners, who receive special awards of scientific books or equipment, were Warren Anderson, 15, of San Mateo High, for a project on "Polarization Effect of Reflected Light from Metals," and Randy Olson, 12, of Portola Junior High, El Cerrito, for "Skin Resistance; It May Save Your Life."

Other Marin winners:

Eighth grade, Winslow Howard of Maguire School, Mill Valley, second place, physical sciences, "Radiation Through Solids"; Barbara Roth of A. E. Kent School, Kentfield, fourth place, biological sciences, "Taste."

Eleventh grade, Baxter Farley of Tamalpais High, fourth place, physical sciences, "Pascal's Triangle," and Robert Schaaf of Redwood High, third place, biological sciences, "DNA in Cancerous Chickens."

Group projects, seventh grade, Kathleen Sieck, Patsy Hougland, Linda Laybourne and Debbie Hart, Reed School, Tiburon, honorable mention for "How Do Crystals Grow?"

Award winners were announced last night by the judges after reviewing more than 350 projects.

The fair will be open free to the public tomorrow through Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Movie Program Set

Films on children will be shown the Marin County Foster Parents Organization at 8 p.m. Monday at 820 Fourth street, San Rafael. After a short business meeting, the films "The Meaning of Adolescence" and "Little World" will be shown.

Novatans Criticize English Teaching

A standing-room-only crowd estimated at 60 heard a panel discussion last night at Novato High School urging more adequate teaching of English in Novato schools.

The panel members were: Mrs. Peter Yarish, member of the sponsoring Novato Advisory Council for Education; Mrs. Stephen Craig, former Massachusetts school teacher and William Q. Wright Jr., former Marin County supervisor.

Also speaking at their own request from the floor were Kathleen McNally and Serena Pollak, both students at San Francisco State College. Both said they "felt gypped" in their early education and were now "floundering around" due to lack of fundamentals.

Each panel member presented a different view of English teaching. They ended the presentation by offering recommendations prepared by the educational standards committee of the council.

Mrs. Yarish, chairman of the committee, said the council had spent more than a year in preparing the recommendations.

The panel members said the following three views were prevalent in Novato's schools today:

1. The "very outmoded and extreme" view that grammar is taught for itself and not related to composition.

2. The "extreme opposite" view that grammar is unnecessary and there are "no rights and wrongs."

3. The view held in Marin County study courses that English requires a "functional approach" with language adapted to a student's needs as a means of communication.

The fourth view was that of the committee itself. It is being used, the committee said, by certain teachers in Novato.

The committee members reminded the audience that their opposition was not "directed solely at Novato schools" but at general trends in California.

As evidence that California schools are behind those in other parts of the nation, Mrs. Craig offered students' English papers, taken at random from Novato classrooms, as compared with similar papers she had acquired from Massachusetts schools.

Stating that "Me Tarzan, you Jane" is not sufficient for the necessary exchange of complex ideas in today's society, the committee report agreed with Dr. James J. Lynch of the University of California English department, that the three major components of English are grammar, composition and literature, and that they should be taught as a separate unit of study.

The committee report "wholly rejects" the philosophy "approved by some Novato teachers . . . that correct sentence structure is useless, unnecessary and a waste of time."

Recommendations by the committee include:

1. Basic rules of English grammar and sentence structure should be so taught that they are mastered by the average student upon completion of the eighth grade.

2. High school English should be devoted to an application of the rules of grammar and syntax learned in elementary school.

3. High school courses should be designed to "enrich the knowledge and analytical powers of the student, advance his skill in rhetoric and help him to mature in written and spoken English."

4. Students who plan to go to college should be prepared to pass college entrance examinations in English in any reputable college or university in the nation.

5. A full period should be spent in the teaching of English in each grade every day.

Marin Poets Win Honors In Contest

Two Marin poets have received honorable mention in the biennial Ad Schuster-Arthur Price Award poetry contest, according to the sponsoring Ina Coolbrith Circle of San Francisco.

They are Jean Esteve of Stinson Beach for "Song For A Brave Arrival" and Annette Weddell of San Rafael for "Panegyric for Ceres."

Competition was limited to poetry published in California newspapers.

Marin Mayors Endorse Plan For Fire Tax

The Marin Council of Mayors has endorsed the concept of taxing areas outside a city or fire district for structural fire protection which they receive from the county fire department.

As outlined to the council by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, the plan would call upon unincorporated communities to (1) provide the county with funds for structural protection, or (2) establish their own fire departments.

'DOUBLE TAX'

Jensen said this presumably would eliminate complaints from city and fire district taxpayers about "double taxation" for their own fire protection and that of non-city or district residents.

The proposal is contained in one of six alternate county fire service plans which Jensen presented to the Marin County Board of Supervisors in January and to the mayors' council Wednesday night.

"This," said his report, "would correct the irregularity whereby Inverness residents pay approximately 40 cents on their tax rate for fire protection, while Point Reyes Station enjoys the same basic protection, because of the location of a county fire department substation, without a local tax."

VOTE 7-2

Carefully avoiding specifics of the taxing plan explained by Jensen, the mayors voted 7-2 to endorse the general concept. Dissenting were Mayors Arthur W. Smith of San Anselmo and Arthur Kanzee Jr. of Ross. Absent was Mayor Robert P. Watkins of Belvedere.

The council, which met in Larkspur's Blue Rock Inn, declared its action was "in no sense criticism of the present county fire department, and Chief Charles Reilley is to be commended on the job he is doing."

Parents Of Deaf Kids To Meet Wednesday

Dr. Priscilla Pittenger, professor of education at San Francisco State College, will speak to the Parents of Hearing Handicapped Children at the Marin General Hospital annex at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Her topics will include the aural approach to education of the deaf and hard of hearing, films and discussion on HEAR foundation and answers on hearing aids.

Sausalito Candidates Discuss City's Issues

City acquisition of Shelter Cove, the parking situation and the proposed new zoning ordinance were the three major problems discussed by candidates for Sausalito City Council at a Sausalito Woman's Club meeting last night.

Eight of the nine candidates were present. Leonard (Lee) Pieraccini, having recently come out of the hospital, was unable to attend.

None of the candidates felt that the proposed zoning ordinance is right as it is presented. L. Stuart Linton urged a complete withdrawal of the ordinance, but the other candidates felt it could be worked over and that this should be done slowly.

All candidates felt the city should acquire the Shelter Cove area. Edward L. Ripley insisted the appraised value is only $21,400 and said he feels the property can be acquired by condemnation if necessary.

The total price of the Shelter Cove lots has been estimated at $115,000. However, City Councilman Phillips S. Ehrlich Jr. has said it might be possible to purchase the land for as little as $75,000.

Ehrlich said last night that already $21,000 has been raised" and he feels the rest of the money needed should be obtained through a bond issue.

None of the candidates had an answer to the central waterfront area's parking and traffic flow problems. Carl C. Wooley said he discovered that New York had taken care of it in the midtown area by charging $3.50 a day for parking. Linton urged inhibiting tourist traffic into the present entrance and said it should be routed to the city's north end.

Helen B. Kerr told the audience that more fire prevention is needed for the city. Someone in the audience asked if there were any plans afoot for a second firehouse, to which Mayor Howard Sievers, answered "no."

Artist Serge Trubach was again the court jester. He said he feels the city needs an art commission to prevent some of the monstrosities going up. He also said Sausalito should have two donkeys for the Vina del Mar Plaza so the Democrats won't feel hurt. (There are two stone elephants at the plaza's Bridgeway entrance.)

Wooley suggested a street pattern for Marinship and said he would like to see apartments on the Bridgeway frontage with light industry in the rear.

Dr. Ronald B. Mackenzie moderated. Former Mayor Robert Goshen was timekeeper, and Mrs. Warren Zimmer was chairman.

New City Of Novato Gets First Annexation Request

The first application for annexation to the new City of Novato came before the city council last night when contractor John Novak asked that about 10 acres of uninhabited land he plans to subdivide be included in the city limits.

The property is located southwest of Novato boulevard between Walnut Park and a point west of unincorporated Kendon Lane. According to Novak, the property was to have been included in the original city boundaries but was inadvertently omitted.

The council passed a resolution placing the application before the county boundary commission.

Councilman Harvey J. Vicchio urged the other councilmen to give serious thought to asking other persons, now outside the city limits, to join the city by annexation.

The Novato council last night also re-enacted the animal control and food handling ordinances which had previously been adopted as emergency measures.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. advised the council to re-enact both measures to prevent any possible dispute of the laws as emergency measures.

The council was informed by G. M. Henderson, Marin Division manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., that his firm was drawing up a franchise agreement with the city and would request a meeting with the council when the agreement is completed.

The council will meet again on April 5, at 8 p.m.

School Funds For Pro-Bond Ads Illegal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The state attorney general held today that a board of trustees can't use school district funds to buy advertising urging passage of a school bond issue.

The case involves a full-page newspaper ad sponsoring a Madera High School bond election in 1959. The county auditor rejected the newspaper's claim for payment and was upheld by the county counsel.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk ruled that the law prohibits the use of public funds advocating adoption of a proposition which has been opposed by a large number of electors.

"The public funds entrusted to the board," he said, "belong equally to the proponents and opponents of the proposition, and the use of the funds to finance, not the presentation of facts, namely, but also arguments to persuade the voters that only one side has merit, gives the dissenters just cause for complaint."

SOLAR FLARES DISRUPTING RADIO, CABLES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Communications throughout the world were severely disrupted today as a result of solar flare activity.

Radio and some cable circuits between Europe and the United States were especially hard hit.

Astronomers said the disruption apparently was caused by solar flares reported early this week by a number of observatories.

Man Injured In Fall Off Truck

Preparing a load of lumber to take to San Francisco, Hadden slipped from the top of the load. The Sausalito ambulance took him to the hospital, where he was treated for concussion and a cut scalp.

Red Revenge Ambush Kills 3 In Philippines

MANILA (UPI) — Outlawed Communist Huks today ambushed and killed three persons, including the aunt and uncle of actress Cely Carrillo, now starring in New York in the musical comedy "Flower Drum Song."

The vengeance slayings were the first major outbreak of violence in three years by the Communist-led movement which tried to take over the Philippines at the end of World War II and was defeated in mountain fighting.

The victims were wealthy land owner Jose Carrillo, an intelligence officer in the 1950 government drive that crushed the Huks, his wife, Carmen, and Miss Mariana Salas, 25, a teacher. Police called it Communist revenge against Carrillo's anti-Huk activities.

Carrillo's 19-year-old daughter, Zenwida, escaped death by pretending she was dead.

A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK — Caring for her six children and keeping up a house of 25 rooms plus garden would, in themselves, seem to be more than enough work for any one woman. But Mrs. Elizabeth Deedy of Ross takes care of those chores, and still finds time for civic service. Her position as a Marin Junior College District trustee is, in itself, a demanding and time-consuming task. But it is a job into which Mrs. Deedy plunges with her customary vigor and zeal. She also brings to that job some refreshing and frank views on the proper role of a junior college in its community. You will read about those views, and about the life of this interesting woman in an article written for tomorrow's Marin Magazine by Independent - Journal reporter Dorothy Blackman.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

Stanford Confab Slated Tomorrow

"Cigarettes: Smoke Signals From a Thinking Indian," is the title of a talk to be given tomorrow at the Stanford Conference at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio.

The speaker, on one of several panels, will be Lincoln E. Moses, professor of statistics at Stanford University's department of preventive medicine."

The 28-year-old conference is sponsored by the Stanford Club of Marin County, the Stanford Alumni Assn. and the university.

Registration will be held in the lobby at 11:15 a.m., followed by a noon luncheon in the Marinoma Room. The luncheon talk will be given by W. P. Fuller III, a Stanford trustee, on "Stanford's National Visibility." Toastmaster will be William A. Niccolls.

Four different sessions are planned at two meeting times in the afternoon. At 2:10 p.m. in the Marinoma Room, William R. Kimball will be chairman of "Marketing: The Challenge of the '60s," to be conducted by Robert T. Davis, associate professor of marketing, graduate school of business.

At the same time in the Garden Room, Russell R. Klein will be chairman for Moses' talk.

At 3:10 p.m. in the Marinoma Room, John E. Cahill will be chairman of "Will Highways Strangle California?" to be conducted by Clarkson H. Oglesby, professor of civil engineering.

At the same time in the Garden Room, Judge Richard M. Sims of Tiburon, will be chairman of "Crisis Diplomacy," to be conducted by Graham H. Stuart, professor political science.

At 4:10 p.m. in the Marinoma Room will be a group discussion of "What's in the Cards?" Carl G. Brown Jr. will be chairman.

Members of the panel will be James T. Watkins IV, professor of political science, conference faculty coordinator, moderator; Kenneth M. Cuthertson, vice president for finance; William F. Kartozian, 1959 head yell leader; Rixford K. Snyder, director of admissions; Charles A. (Chuck) Taylor, assistant director of athletics; Mrs. Milton M. Teague, trustee; Milton M. Teague, president, Stanford Alumni Assn., and Brown.

There will be a reception in the cocktail lounge at 5:15 p.m.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Eugene F. Kern Jr. of 584 Fairhills drive, San Rafael.

Mollie West Love and Margaret Miller Trembley are co-chairmen. James Reed Jr. is finance and registration chairman; Paula Stephenson Kern, hospitality; Clark M. Palmer, program; Kenneth Paul Todd Jr., publicity, and Marian Righetti Goepp, rooms, equipment and menu.

Corte Madera Gains 1,686 In Population

Corte Madera has a population of 5,850, a gain of 1,686 residents since 1957, according to a new estimate by the state Department of Finance.

The estimate, as of March 1, was reported today by Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow. He said the new total indicates a 40.5 per cent increase since a special federal census of October, 1957, which set the population at 4,164.

The previous state Finance Department estimate, reported as of May 1, 1959, was 5,300. Brandow said the gain of 550 since that date means the town will receive approximately $4,400 additional from the state this year in gasoline tax and motor vehicle license funds.

High School Girls Win Essay Awards In Movie Contest

Several Marin high school girls have won awards for essays on books they would like to see made into movies. The contest was sponsored by the Marin Motion Picture Council, and awards will be presented April 19 at Rubini's restaurant, Fairfax.

Rosemary Barkhurst for her essay of "Mrs. 'Arris Goes to New York," won $10, and Patricia McCallum for an essay on "This Is Goggle," won $5. Both are students at San Rafael High School.

Winners of $3 each were: Shirley Simpson, Woodacre; Bonnie Hoag, San Anselmo, and Linden Press, San Anselmo. These girls are students at Sir Francis Drake High School. Mary Jane Tacchi and Barbara Anne Best of San Rafael won honorable mention an theater tickets.

Marin Girl To Be In College Opera

Claudia Colburn daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Colburn, 10 Seminole avenue, Corte Madera, will appear in the American premiere of the opera, "A Tale of Two Cities," at San Francisco State College.

The performances will be given at 8:30 p.m. Saturday and April 9, and at 3 p.m. Sunday and April 10.

Miss Colburn, 15, a 1959 winner in the Marin Music Chest's scholarship awards. While at Tamalpais High School she played the lead in the opera, "The Telephone." She is a member of the college a cappella choir, and hopes to pursue a professional singing career.

Schools Schedule Music Program

Fourteen bands, orchestras and choruses will give a concert entitled "A Showcase of Musical Performances," starting at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Each group will play or sing several selections under regular directors from their schools in Marin. Orchestras and choruses will play at 1 p.m., and bands will perform at 3 p.m.

There will be choruses from Dixie, Mill Valley, Novato and Ross School districts; orchestras from Mill Valley, Reed and Ross, and bands from Dixie, Mill Valley, Novato, San Jose and West Marin.

Anti-Car-Smog Bill Clears Senate Group

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's first major statewide anti-smog bill, tough on new cars but containing local option for used vehicles, had approval of one Senate committee today.

Only two major steps remained before final adoption of the measure authored by Assemblyman Ronald B. Cameron (D-Whittier). They are:

1. Approval of the Senate Finance Committee on money aspects of the smog control bill. Chairman James McBride scheduled a hearing for Monday.

2. An affirmative vote of the entire upper chamber, expected to get the bill in the middle of next week.

The Senate Transportation Committee approved the bill late yesterday with a minimum of objection and on a unanimous voice vote.

The administration-backed bill is aimed at wiping out smog by requiring motorists to install exhaust-control devices on their trucks and cars.

A stronger bill, by Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles), was dropped by its author.

Two major amendments to the Cameron bill were adopted by a voice vote yesterday. They were submitted by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) and would allow the state to lease a private or public air pollution laboratory and appropriate $500,000 for its first year of operation.

Dr. Albert Schweitzer, celebrated scientist-physician of French Equatorial Africa, is 85 years old.

PULPIT OUSTER CASE

Church To Decide If Pastor To Be Fired

The First Missionary Baptist Church of Marin City will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m., April 15 for an election to decide whether the pastor should be dismissed.

John G. Buresh, attorney for the church, said the deacons and the board of trustees of the church met Wednesday night and set the special election date.

The date of the election and the purpose will be announced at the church on the two successive Sundays before April 15, the attorney said.

Purpose of the April 15 meeting, said Buresh, is to decide whether the pulpit will be declared vacant, whether Rev. James W. Harris should be dismissed, and what action should be taken in connection with the first two decisions.

Rev. Harris and the church just wound up a preliminary court battle on whether the pastor should be allowed to continue preaching. The deacons contend their pastor was voted out at a Feb. 29 meeting, but the judge decided that the legality of that meeting is in doubt.

Attorney Buresh declared that this time, the date and purpose of the meeting will be fully publicized so there will be no question of legality.

Speedy Help Needed Now Trying To Get Canal Funds

Last Lincoln's birthday we discussed in this space the need for bringing pressure to bear on Congress to dredge San Rafael Canal. In answer, Rep. Clement Miller sent us a lengthy explanation about what was going on, the essence of which was that there has been no local support to back up a request for the funds for the dredging.

Since that time several things have happened. The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce sent a letter explaining the economic importance of the canal to the area. Marin Industrial Development Foundation called a meeting of interested persons to see what could be done to help get the needed funds.

All of this activity was none too soon. In fact it was barely in time at all. Next Monday in Washington there will be a hearing held on next year's appropriation for rivers and harbors. Congressman Miller plans to attend and request insertion of funds for the dredging. None are at present contemplated.

This is no move to appease a few rich boat owners. We're talking about a major segment of Marin's economic foundation, the recreation industry. The Chamber of Commerce letter estimated that 15 million dollars worth of boats use the canal weekly. They used more than 185,000 gallons of marine fuel last year sold at pumps on the canal. Boat facility operators have more than $3,500,000 invested in facilities, and that amount is doubled by related industries along the canal.

Unfortunately, even at a critical time such as this, some of the boat facility owners decided to go to court to try to stop development of Richardson Bay's channel with state funds even as they were begging for the dredging of San Rafael canal with federal funds. We can't see how the congressmen could overlook the inconsistency of the actions.

Yet we urge everyone who has interest in or experience with shoaling San Rafael canal to get off a telegram or an air mail letter to Representative Miller in Washington so he'll get it in time for next Monday's hearing.

Marin's Siphon-Tongue Corkpecker

Of all the county's wild creatures none is more mysterious than the siphon-tongued corkpecker. This rare bird is so shy it is seldom seen, but its depradations are notorious.

In appearance it resembles a robin-sized hummingbird with a Burgundy-red throat. It is also like the hummingbird in its fondness for nectars, though it prefers them fermented. This bird is strictly nocturnal in habit.

Have you ever cherished a valuable bottle of wine or spirits and noticed how rapidly the contents sometimes disappear? What is the cause? Obviously it is a siphon-tongued corkpecker which has drilled a microscopic hole in the cork and removed a quantity of the beverage through its siphon-tongue.

It is extremely difficult to capture, but sometimes it can be trapped by a good sherry or a strong martini. Its flight is naturally very erratic. The mating call of the species ranges from a soft "hiccup" to a loud "wowee!"

Although this bird is very rarely seen, those who have wine and liquor about the house have a good chance of meeting this exotic little fellow. He will also be seen by a few April Fools!

THREE MINUTES A DAY

DEATH FOLLOWED QUICKLY

Few people drop dead just after completing their own funeral arrangements. But a 78-year-old Ohio laborer did just that, not long ago.

He took his family to the cemetary one day and, after showing them the plot, stopped at the funeral home, where he had made arrangements for his funeral.

Upon returning home, he gave his nephew a copy of his will, along with some of his belongings, which included canned goods and two shoe brushes.

When the boy protested that he might need them himself, the old man said: "I won't need anything any more." With that, he slumped to the floor, dead of a heart attack.

The angel of death issues his summons in a wide variety of ways. But whether that all important visit comes sooner or later, make sure that you are prepared to render an account of your stewardship to the Judge of Judges.

Fill your life with deeds that honor God and benefit your fellowman and you will always be ready for the final summons.

"Watch therefore, for you do not know at what hour your Lord is to come."

(Matthew 24:42)

Let me so live, O my Redeemer, that I will always be prepared to die.

Only Real Remedy For Baldness Is Philosophy, And It's Just Opiate

NEW YORK (AP)—Some men are born bald — and others just get that way later in life.

Very little is known about baldness except that, like cigarette smoking or martini drinking, it is habit-forming.

A fellow starts with a little baldness and brags he can take it or leave it alone. But he can't. In time he discovers it has the better of him.

Once a fellow has become a real addict of baldness the only known remedy is philosophy, taken in ever-increasing doses, and this remedy is actually more an opiate than a cure.

Baldness is the sternest test of character known to civilized mankind. If you look around the office or factory where you work, you will probably find a few of these familiar types of baldies:

The brave fronter — "My real name is George, but my friends call me cueball," he tells everyone he meets. His theory is that the best defense is a strong attack.

The frightened amateur — His hair is noticeably beginning to fall out but he won't admit it. "My wife pulled it out in a fight," he lies — the coward.

The eternal optimist — he has spent $6,000 on baldness cures over the last 30 years and still won't give up hope.

The romanticist — "It happened all at once with me," he explains. "During the first World War I had to crawl across a barbed wire barricade and through two miles of poison gas in no-man's-land to rescue a buddy. When I got back my hair had turned white — and the next day it all fell out."

THE TIME-SHEARED Romeo — He read somewhere that baldness is really a sign of virility, and since then no stenographer in the office has been safe within 20 feet of him. Behind his back they call him "Lil'l ole coldpaws."

The realist — "So I'm bald — and so what else is new," he tells the jeering gang at the office water cooler. "Laugh, clowns, laugh. Tomorrow it will be my turn to laugh."

ONE THING all guys who lose their hair agree on. Baldness has one consolation — it is the quickest known way to end dandruff.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Regarding your article on March 25, about the Novato Horsemen's first Play Day of the year, Paula Hansen, not Paula Anderson, was the high point junior winner.

The Independent-Journal has always been very cooperative with the Horsemen's publicity. But for six years as a Novato Junior Horsemen I have worked very hard in competition to win awards and it seems for these six years the type-setters in both your paper and our local paper have had an aversion to my name. Usually it is printed Paul Hansen, who is my father, not only not a junior horseman but also does not ride horses.

Now, I've not only lost my last name but I've lost my Danish descent!—

What The Poll On Raggio Means

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Because the question of Mr. Raggio's resignation and the City Council's refusal to rehire him has aroused great feeling amongst Larkspur voters, the request of one of our citizens at the recent candidates' meeting that all candidates answer "yes" or "no" on the question of his reinstatement now seems improper.

The incumbent councilmen gave their answer to the question when they refused to rehire Mr. Raggio. They decided on this course for reasons known only to themselves as no publicity has been given the facts leading to their decision.

The unfortunate result of a "yes" or "no" answer for a candidate who is not an incumbent is that those present probably conclude by his answer that he must if he says "yes" favor Mr. Raggio's reinstatement regardless of the secret facts or that he sides with the present council if he says "no."

Let it be recorded here that my "no" answer at the meeting does not mean that I endorse the action of the council. Surely any one who has had to deal with personnel problems would shudder at these methods. The council's responsibility is to know the personnel of the city administrative departments, to understand their strengths and weaknesses and to take corrective action in the event of difficulties in a timely and positive way.

I answered "no" because I believe that the damage has been done in Mr. Raggio's case. We run grave risk of reopening and deepening old wounds when we talk of reviving this matter. However, we can vote "no confidence" in the incumbents, selecting candidates who, including myself pledge themselves to close attention to personnel matters from this point forward.

Slogans Won't Solve Problem

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Perhaps many of us have a tendency to dislike doctors because we hate illness and the thought of needing help.

Personally, I have always found doctors to be pretty decent types. They wouldn't have put up with the long strain of their training if they hadn't felt a strong desire to help people in trouble. Surely it's unfair to blame some of them for also wanting what the advertisers get the rest of us to want.

It seems to me that the public discussion of health insurance legislation has gotten sidetracked by letters pro or con doctors. We need instead to sensibly weigh the merits of each propose' plan.

Some people aren't getting adequate medical care because they can't afford it. This has to be changed. But what is the best way? I think we have two aims:

1—Everyone should get good medical care; and

2—Bureaucracy should be kept to a minimum (bureaucrats tend to care more about papers than people).

The difficult problem is to achieve both aims. Such slogans as "socialized medicine" and "country-club doctors" won't help solve the problem.

Let Him Save Million Dollars

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May I bring your attention to the enclosed item which was on page 6 in the issue of March 24. It is all with regard to state finances and statements made by Director Robert McCarthy of the Motor Vehicles Department.

If the statements contained in this article can be substantiated as trustworthy and factual then there is something very much out of line in the thinking of some of the political representatives in Sacramento.

If Mr. McCarthy can eliminate 186 positions and still render a good or even better service and is denied the privilege of demonstrating this statement, then I as one taxpayer, and there are many others I am sure, would like to ask the big question. "Why?"

Here is a man who wants to save over a million dollars for the state and it is tucked away in the inside pages. It should be headlined!

JOHN W. BOYD

Larkspur

(NOTE: The Associated Press dispatch referred to by Reader Boyd was both trustworthy and factual. However, cooler heads in the Senate prevailed and the final budget was as McCarthy asked.)

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Out in California, a husky six-foot athlete sued his tiny, Dresden china wife for divorce, charging cruelty. "Give me an example of her cruelty," challenged the skeptical judge. "Well, when I came home from work one evening," recalled the athlete, "I found a brown derby on the table."

"What's cruel about that?" asked the judge. "Your Honor," said the athlete, "I cannot live with a woman who wears a brown derby."

A foreman at a huge construction job collared a new workman and demanded, "How come you're only carrying four bricks when the others carry eight?" "They're just plain lazy, I guess," shrugged the workman. "They won't make two trips like I do."

A night club chanteuse confessed to her maid ,"Gad, but I had a dull time with that false alarm from Washington. He took no for an answer!"

A baseball manager sought out one of his catchers in the locker room. "Joe," he said, putting his arm around the player's shoulder, "it's perfectly OK for you to forget all those batting tips I've given you. We just traded you to Kansas City."

An Open Letter To King George III About Marin Bureaucrats Today

Well, King George III, were you alive today you would be warmed by this information. The sound of defeat, those battles your colonists fought against you and won, would be muffled. You might even think there was some measure of success for your side.

Our forefathers fought hard for liberty, and they have been fighting to keep it ever since those revolutionary days.

Knowing this it makes it all the harder today to accept some of the bureaucratic ways of the government we have developed. This is what happened last week in Marin:

CURIOUS TO learn more about the exemptions given veterans in assessment matters, I went to the courthouse offices of Assessor Bert Broemmel one evening.

I asked a woman clerk for one of the forms that various veterans, standing around the counter, were filling out. She brought forth one from beneath a counter and with it a small white card.

I said all I wanted was the form, just to read. I said I'd like to take it home and look it over.

It was just that simple; a simple request to take with me a government form that was printed from tax funds which I helped pay.

SHE ASKED if I had my discharge papers with me, and I said no. That, she said, would have to be produced first in order to prove that I would be eligible for the form.

The form was one of those printed things with lots of little boxes and squares and lines and numbers, instructions, warnings, etc., that government agencies are wont to get up so that they can look important and scare the public. She handed the paper to me to look at, but said I could not take it with me.

I told the clerk that I was entitled to the form and demanded she give me one. She seemed unimpressed that I was a taxpayer and that the document was a public matter. She said the office wasn't allowed to give them out, that if they did, just about anyone could fill one out and claim an exemption. Finally she sought reinforcements and called over another behind-the-public-counter bureaucrat.

THE SECOND woman attempted to take the paper from me and a mild tug of war ensued. Finally she took it saying she would give it back, and she wrote "sample" in large letters across the face of it, and handed it to me.

That was all right with me, and I told her so. I told her she could write "void" or anything else across it, just so I could have it. I don't know where that woman studied her government, or if she ever took a civics course. Maybe she just doesn't know that there is such a thing as the public, that she is a public servant, and that the public is entitled to public information — and what is more just a little courtesy.

HER PARTING shot, delivered in a crisp I-am-the-government type manner, was "As far as that goes, we don't have to give this form to you at all."

Well, George III, that kind of burned me up. Of course, if you were alive today, I guess you would think it was just fine. Only thing is, we don't have a king.

But once in a while people in government act like they are sitting on a throne.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Some political writers — and politicians — are predicting a falling out between President Eisenhower and Richard Nixon because of policy differences when the campaign approaches. They suggest that privately there is already some strain.

No one knows this for sure; it is speculation. But one thing can be reported with knowledge: Eisenhower feels certain there will be no falling-out between the 1960 Republican nominee and himself. He believes there is no basis for it. He has expressed this opinion strongly to recent visitors at the White House.

PERSONAL FRIENDS outside the government are some times the first to know when the President is "burned up" about something. Their appointment may be for an informal 15-minute chat but, when they get there, Ike will unburden himself for an hour.

Lately he has been unburdening himself about these rumors of an Eisenhower-Nixon rift — of which there are plenty around town, some nourished by wishful thinkers.

The President has been telling his visitors on these occasions — and at some length and with some heat:

THAT HIS endorsement of the Vice President for the Republican nomination, far from being cool and reluctant, is cordial and positive.

That in his basic thinking and philosophy of government, Nixon, as the President sees it, is "clearly the best man to carry on what the Administration stands for."

That for the past seven years and three months, during which Nixon has been at the center of policy formulation, attending Cabinet and National Security Council meetings regularly, there has not been "that much" — and here Eisenhower holds up thumb and forefinger not more than a quarter-inch apart to illustrate his point—"difference between us" over what should be done.

Eisenhower also makes clear to friends that it is reasonable to expect Nixon as the nominee and leader of the Republican party, to have views and proposals not necessarily parallel to the President's in every detail.

But the President is emphatic on one point: he is confident that as the campaign develops, there will be no major Eisenhower-Nixon rifts and no divergencies in policy which would cause the White House any real concern or deter the President from exerting his maximum influence to help Nixon get elected.

THESE ARE spontaneous remarks on the part of Eisenhower and, I am sure, reflect both his instincts and his judgment.

Eisenhower and Nixon may diverge somewhat in two areas. Nixon will be likely to commit himself to more spending than the President would relish and will favor increases in federal activity the President has usually opposed — medical aid to the aged, more federal aid to school construction, a larger space-exploration program, and increased federal authority to guarantee civil rights.

The Country Parson

"The horse was replaced by the tractor because he had to be fed whether he worked or not — which just could have a moral for us."

Few Corte Madera Vote Issues Raised

Corte Madera's municipal election campaign is conspicuous by the absence of inflammatory issues.

That was the indication last night at a public forum featuring the three contenders for two town council seats at stake in the April 12 balloting.

Mayor Roger F. Morse, Ray L. De Young and Jack I. Miller, in that order, addressed a "candidates' night" audience of about 70 in Corte Madera Recreation Center. Moderated by Charles Pendleton, the forum was sponsored by the Corte Madera Lions Club.

Morse, a Standard Oil Co. engineer completing his first council term, stressed "three topics that affect us directly as residents and taxpayers of Corte Madera: Planning for expansion and growth, budget and our relationship with other public agencies."

Describing Corte Madera as "probably the fastest growing community in Marin County," the mayor said the town general plan, adopted in 1956 as a long-range guide for orderly development, is "a very valuable asset" to Corte Madera. He also praised the town subdivision and zoning ordinances and street, park and flood control master plans.

Increasing sales tax revenue, coupled with a broadened property tax base, enabled the council to cut the town tax rate about 10 per cent last year, he noted. He said a "tight rein on the budget" should permit a continued low tax rate.

De Young, a special agent for California Compensation and Fire Co., said he feels qualified for a council seat by virtue of his service on the park and recreation commission and work in affairs of Reed Union School District and Marin Estates Home Owners Assn.

Like Morse, he lauded the town general plan and said it is "imperative to the town that we continue it."

De Young said he favors the existing town manager system. "We have an excellent town manager," he said of Arthur H. Brandow, who was in the audience.

De Young advocateed development of park facilities "within a reasonable budget and a logical priority on the town agenda," and in conformance with the general plan.

Miller, superintendent for Glendale Construction Co., co-builder of Mariners Cove, said there are "three or four things I'd like to see changed in the town."

He claimed that some streets in the older section have been "very badly neglected." The various town commissions and boards, he charged, are sometimes guilty of disrespectful and undignified conduct "in regard to the people who come before them." Without naming names, he said he knows some men ("all intelligent people") who have pleaded their causes and, in return, gotten nothing but "cigar smoke in their faces."

Miller recommended a shakeup of the town board of adjustments to give it broader representation from "different parts of the city." He also urged that more police protection be provided in the fast-growing residential developments east of Highway 101.

During the question period, chairman John Adlard of the planning commission asked Miller if he thought it would be "in keeping with good, clean government" to serve on the council at a time when his home construction work was being "passed on and supervised" by the town building inspector.

"Yes, I do," Miller replied. "I do for a fact. I would still insist that we keep up with all the requirements of the city and do the very best job we can."

Asked about the proposed Larkspur-Corte Madera merger, Morse and Miller advocated a public vote on the question, but the mayor said there is "considerable work to be done before a clearly defined issue can be put on the ballot." He said it has been "fairly well established" that Corte Madera would receive no immediate financial gain from a merger.

De Young, urging no election be held until 1960 census results are known, said he plans to give the merger question close study.

School Playground Law Clarified In Mosk Opinion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — So long as they're competent, school districts may employ non-certified personnel to supervise playground activities, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk says. But they cannot use volunteers.

His opinion, released late yesterday, says hiring non-certified supervisors would not increase the district's liability.

State Board of Education regulations call for qualified teachers for playground supervision, but doesn't require them if other supervision is provided.

Music Chest Drive Will Open Monday

The Marin Music Chest will open its 27th annual summer concert series subscription drive Monday with headquarters at Hoy's, 1133 Fourth street, San Rafael.

The headquarters will be open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mrs. William Rattray is general chairman.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

The Woodlands: Lots Of Tasty Food Without Those Fancy French Names

"No French names on our menu to confuse the diner," says Rosemary Mills of the Woodlands in Kentfield.

Pot roast is simply that and not "boeuf brase" and roast lamb will never be known there as "rote d'agneau" as long as she has anything to do with it.

"Can you imagine someone with a taste for corned beef and cabbage having to order it as 'boeuf de conserve au chou?'" she asked. "They'd never come back for more."

The Mills family is proud of the nice surroundings at the Woodlands and its simple but healthful fare. We agree that there's a place for French cooking and this isn't it.

It's well worth visiting, however. Good place to take the youngsters, too. All sorts of entrees to choose from.

SOMETHING YOU don't see around these parts very often is an English lamb chop. You can get one—more, if you like—at El Paseo in Mill Valley.

Chop is cut clear across the saddle, making it a duplex. Earl Harkins pulls in the two ends and skewers in a slice of lamb kidney and broils it just so. M-m-m!

Another of El Paseo's new delicacies is stuffed manicotti. It's a paste tube on the order of an overgrown macaroni, filled with ground country sausage, spinach and seasoning. Served with tomato sauce it's a real Toscani dish.

Order either of the above along with Mary's popovers and lemon chiffon pie, both of which are getting deeper and fluffier every time I see them.

Lunch menu at El Paseo now offers a selection of Mexican dishes along with the regular fare. These are prepared by Mary's brother, Tony Giannini, who's up from Southern California. Tony is an experienced restaurateur, has been learning south-of-the-border technique to add to his other accomplishments. Mexican dishes are during lunch only. Dinners will continue as usual. Earl is doing the cheffing.

One thing more: Mary's pies are now being offered at El Paseo to take home. They went thataway if you got there too late for yours.

BIG ATTRACTION Friday and Saturday nights at the Ranch Wagon is petite brunette Terry Dillinger, singing cocktail waitress with a voice three times her size. Teamed with the Gene Byrnes Trio she adds to the highway restaurant's entertainment program on weekends.

Baseball season is almost here and both the Ranch Wagon and Sabella's will again offer fans an opportunity to take in home games at the Giant's Stadium now at Candlestick Point, San Francisco.

Opening game is a sellout and no tickets are available, but Sabella's has a package arrangement for Sundays starting April 17 when the Giants play Chicago. Theirs includes fizz, brunch, transportation to and from San Francisco and stadium tickets. Bus will probably leave Sabella's around noon to compensate for the extra time needed to arrive at Candlestick Point.

Ranch Wagon has picked Friday nights—all Los Angeles or Milwaukee games—and will give first preference to those wishing season tickets, singles available thereafter. Their package is for transportation, cocktail and ticket—dinner not included.

First on their schedule is May 13 with Los Angeles. They are also offering the double header with Chicago on Memorial Day, May 30 a daytime game

Both restaurants should move their bookings fast, so pick up early reservations.

IF REGULAR CUSTOMERS at Caprice in Tiburon were crowded this last weekend with extra callers, it was due to Kirby Atterbury's visiting firemen moving in on him.

First it was his stepfather, Maj. Gen. John M. Leutz, retired, followed by George O'Day of Boston, world champion dinghy racer; Bill Crealock, an old shipmate and now naval architect at Newport Beach, along with his parents from England; and Bob Wheeler of Wheeler Yachts in New York. I don't know how many others.

"Meaning what?" I asked.

"I can feed all of the people some of the time, and some of the people all of the time, but I can't feed all of the people all of the time."

Well, I remember what we used to do with stowaways.

BONNIE CLARK
Scholarship winner

Tam Girl Win Teachers' Scholarship

Bonnie Clark, 17-year-old senior at Tamalpais High School, has been chosen to receive a Mill Valley Teachers Assn. scholarship to be used in preparing for a teaching career.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark of 369 Richardson way, Mill Valley. The scholarship will go toward Miss Clark's studies at University of California at Berkeley, where she has been accepted for the fall term.

The senior, chosen on the basis of scholastic ability, personality and need, was selected by a committee consisting of Glenn Skelton, Park School principal, Blanche Jackson and Mrs. Kathleen Ibanez, both Park School teachers.

She will be introduced to persons attending the April Follies revue at 8 o'clock tonight at Park School. The Mill Valley Teachers Assn. has had several fund raising events, one of which is the follies, to raise the scholarship money.

Miss Clark is a member of the Honor T, Spanish Honor Society, Pi Alpha Tau and is Girls' League secretary and head song leader. Her father is an assistant trust officer at the Bank of America in San Francisco. Miss Clark has three sisters and a brother.

2 Marinites Start Active Marine Duty

Two Marin youths started six months of active duty today at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego.

They are Pfc. David C. Brown, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Brown of 197 Tunstead avenue, San Anselmo, and Pvt. Norman J. Paterson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Paterson of 11 Watt avenue, San Rafael. Both are members of the 14th Rifle Company, Marine Corps reserve unit in Kentfield.

MARIN FILM FARE

Rafael Offers Satire By Former I-J Editor

By LESLIE DARD

Details on this week's films at Marin's movie houses:

RAFAEL THEATER

Once upon a time in a far off place called San Rafael, Calif., someone began bottling a wine which caused no end of fiscal trouble in a tiny land named the Duchy of Grand Fenwick.

Grand Fenwick's only export was a similar wine and now, impoverished by the competition, it decided to declare war on the United States. Its hope was for quick defeat—and lots of foreign aid.

This story, a charming and happy bit of satire, was written by Leonard Wibberley, a former editor of the Independent-Journal. It's titled "The Mouse That Roared" and it opens Sunday on the Rafael screen (in color).

It's a made tale. For my part, I greatly enjoyed its healthy humor and the performances (in three different roles) of comedian Peter Sellers.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"Sink the Bismarck" (CinemaScope) is an exciting—and true—tale of how the British navy defeated and sank a Nazi Germany's most dangerous sea weapon.

It is now showing on the San Anselmo screen.

The events happened early in the war when Britain's fortunes were at low ebb. The powerful Bismarck sprinted into the North Atlantic convoy lanes. Britain sent every available plane and ship to hunt it down.

Part of the story is told in terms of action at sea, part of it in the war room of the Admiralty, where Capt. Kenneth More deploys his limited forces. The film—based on a book by C. S. Forester (he wrote "The African Queen") tells how More outwits the Nazis.

MARIN THEATER

"The Last Voyage" (color) is a film that doesn't waste a minute.

For the record, the Claridon is actually the once-proud queen of the French line, the Ile de France, which the producers of this suspense-filled tale fired, flooded and wrecked.

This sea spectacular opens Sunday and is co-featured with a comedy, "The Gazebo," starring Glenn Ford and Debbie Reynolds.

LARK THEATER

It's a good-natured comedy (in color) about his search for a wife who has sturdy legs, wide hips, good health and a knowledge of cows and chickens.

By the time he has gone to the mainland (for the first time in his life) Ewen McEwan (Travers) has more adventures than most men have in a lifetime. He becomes involved with the police and with women, all kinds.

The scenery of Scotland is lovely, the lasses charming, the comedy very pleasant.

The show opens in Larkspur Sunday.

NOVATO THEATER

Cary Grant stars along with James Mason.

Eve Marie Saint is the other important member of the cast. First-rate Hitchcock.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Alec Guinness is the star of "The Horse's Mouth" (color), a notably funny film about a gutter genius, or more specifically, a brilliant artist whose refusal to compromise his principles leads only to farce.

Guinness wrote the script, too, and while his execution of Joyce Cary's best-seller is not always on the mark, it's close enough to make the film well worth seeing.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

This weekend, the peninsula playbox is bringing in a Technicolor combination with a proven record of financial success: "Samson and Delilah," one of DeMille's big coiners, and "Ulysses," which helped make Kirk Douglas a favorite of the tax people.

Hedy Lamarr appears as Delilah and Victor Mature as Samson in the main feature, whose cast also includes George Sanders, Angela Lansbury and Russ Tamblyn.

Silvana Mangano, one of the best-looking of the Italian screen beauties, appears in the co-feature. She plays Penelope, faithful wife of the mighty warrior, as well as Circe, the enchantress who holds him in luxurious bondage during his wanderings.

Estimate: Two adventure epics.

MOTOR MOVIES

Two highly popular films of several seasons back—"Country Girl" and "The Bridges at Toko-Ri"—have been put back in circulation. Both offer Grace Kelly and William Holden and both picked up some Oscars.

Bing Crosby co-stars in the first as a once-great singing star turned lush.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Bramble Bush," a new drama in the "Peyton Place" tradition, takes apart a New England community. It opens Sunday on the Mill Valley screen.

The participants are:

Tom Drake, Richard Burton, Barbara Rush, Angie Dickinson and Jack Carson, an opportunist politico.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, April 1st, the 92nd day of the year, with 274 more to follow in 1960. The national census begins officially today.

It's also April Fools Day.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1815, Otto Von Bismarck, founder of the German Empire, was born.

In 1905, the first traveling library started rolling in Washington County, Md.

In 1918, Great Britain founded the Royal Air Force.

In 1949, Newfoundland became the 10th Canadian province.

A thought for today: German leader Otto Von Bismarck said: "Not by speechifying and counting majorities are the great questions of the time to be solved . . . but by iron and blood."

Papers In Fireplace Touch Off Roof Blaze

Papers being burned in a fireplace today caused a fire that ruined the roof of a home at 216 Belle avenue, San Rafael.

Mrs. Gladys Monti said that about 9 a.m. she put a few bags full of papers in the fireplace and started them burning. At about 10:30 a.m. she heard "a crackling noise." Her call to the fire department coincided with those from neighbors.

Deputy Fire Chief Vance Trivett immediately issued a warning against such burning without adequate protection. He said fire crews brought the blaze under control in five minutes.

The amount of damage was not estimated, but was confined to the roof. There was some water seepage through ceilings, but firemen had covered furniture with waterproof material.

As firemen snapped smoking shingles off the modest two-bedroom frame dwelling, Mrs. Monti's husband, Lee, a driver for a local moving company, arrived from his job in a small, empty moving van.

They said the house and its belongings are covered by insurance.

The couple lives next door to Monti's brother, Chester, at 224 Belle, and Mrs. Monti said they might stay there until the roof is repaired.

Trivett said a burning paper flew out of the chimney, landed on the shingles and started the fire. He said chimney openings should be covered with a heavy gauge metal screen.

Hunt Pressed For Missing AF Officer

Surface craft of the Air Force, Coast Guard and Navy continued to search today for 1st Lt. Richard K. Ratliff, 25, presumed dead since Tuesday when the T33 jet trainer he was flying went down in San Pablo Bay.

At the same time, the 4th Air Force Rescue Coordination Center at Hamilton Air Force Base announced it is taking part in four other search missions for persons missing or overdue.

The body of Ratliff's observer, Capt. Moritz K. Fromme, 32, was found Wednesday afternoon.

Also reported missing and being sought by rescue teams directed from Hamilton, are:

1. A Cessna 172 missing since March 24 on a flight from Modesto to Belmont with three persons aboard.

2. A Stinson Voyager carrying the pilot and his wife missing since March 26 on a flight from San Jose to Redding.

3. A Piper Comanche, carrying two passengers, missing since March 27 between Santa Ana and Marysville.

4. Four Army personnel missing on foot in the mountains east of Ogden, Utah. This search, started today, involves both air and ground teams.

Youth Wounded In Mishap With Gun

Kent L. Woodman, 21, of 18-A Elm avenue, Kentfield, who accidentally shot himself in the leg Tuesday, said today the report of his injury in Wednesday's Independent-Journal was inaccurate in three respects.

In the first place, said Woodman, he was not at the target range near China Camp when the accident happened, although he was in that vicinity. In the second place, the weapon was a six-shot Ruger pistol, not a nine-shot ("they don't make a nine-shot," he said).

In the third place, Woodman staunchly denied that he was practicing the fast draw. He belongs to an organization which frowns heavily on the fast draw, he said. He was putting the gun in the holster when it mis-fired, he reported.

Woodman suffered a minor flesh wound.

the figures locally. And I guess Santa Rosa will give out some information from time to time."

TODAY'S ESTIMATE

As of 8 a.m. today, the Commerce Department, which is doing the counting through the Census Bureau, estimated the nation's population at 179,921,434.

How close this is to the final figure will not be known until some time next fall. Preliminary population totals for local areas will be given out later this month, but state figures will not be published until autumn.

Census takers wear small cards pinned to their clothing. The card is red, white and blue and identifies the wearer as a census enumerator. The words "official and confidential" are printed on the card.

TRANSIENTS COUNTED

Last night was T (for transient) night, Mrs. Chaille said. Motels, hotels and like places throughout the nation with 50 or more rooms were canvassed to count people on the go. In Marin, Bermuda Palms at San Rafael and the Edgewater Inn at Corte Madera were included.

"This first phase—the population count—will be finished by April 14," said Mrs. Chaille. "Oh, there will be a little clean-up after that, but the later part of the month will be devoted to the housing census."

This concerns one family in four that will get special treatment. The family will get a questionnaire to be filled out and returned by mail. In sparsely settled sections, however, the additional data will be collected through personal interviews.

The door-to-door canvass, required once every 10 years by the U. S. Constitution, will continue until census workers personally visit each of the 55 million households in the nation.

MATZEN

meeting yesterday in Santa Rosa, the Sonoma County Labor Joint Council Committee voiced strong criticism of the CDC's convention which endorsed Joseph G. Wilson, San Rafael attorney.

The committee, composed of fulltime officers of unions affiliated with the Sonoma County Central Labor Council and Sonoma-Mendocino Counties Building Trades Council, called the CDC candidate-picking session "cut and dried" and noted that "no attention had been paid to sentiments of labor people and others who felt that no endorsement should be made."

Matzen is business manager for Butchers Union Local 364, which extends from Novato to Willits, and a long-time vice president of the Western Federation of Butchers.

Long active in civic affairs, he is a member of the Petaluma City Council, having been elected in 1957 to a four-year term. Previously he had been a director of the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce, a member of the city planning commission, the Sonoma County Grand Jury for two years, and such groups as the Citizens Water Committee and the Petaluma Schools Citizens Committee.

Born just outside of Petaluma, he has lived there most of his life, but lived in San Rafael from 1940 to 1942, during which time he was manager of the meat department at the Purity Store.

Matzen served in the Coast Guard three years in World War II part of the time in the South Pacific. He is a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He has served as secretary of COPE, labor's political education organization, in Sonoma County, and secretary of the Sonoma Labor Council.

Matzen lives now in Petaluma with his wife, Barbara, and their three children, Linda, 12, Ronald, 10, and Paul, 8.

One of his opponents, Wilson, welcomed Matzen to the primary. His entry "effectively answers the statement that the purpose of the CDC endorsing convention was to force candidates out of the race," Wilson declared.

The third Democratic candidate for Assembly, Mrs. Helen Putnam of Petaluma, was in Washington

Hospital Here Faces Union Strike Threat

A strike next Thursday against San Rafael General Hospital was threatened today by Hospital Workers Union Local 250 of San Francisco.

A single issue blocks agreement between the foundation operating the hospital and the union, which has had a contract at San Rafael General for several years. The issue is the union shop.

Tom Kelly, secretary of Local 250, said 24 of the 35 employees at the hospital—apart from doctors and nurses, who are not covered by the contract—had signed a petition for a union shop. The 24 are all now union members, he said.

OTHER ISSUES

Other issues in dispute during negotiations that began last December were resolved yesterday at a meeting of union and Marin County Labor Council executive board members with Lawrence Corbett of Oakland, attorney for the hospital, said Scott.

However, he said, Scott told the negotiators he was not empowered by the hospital foundation's board to grant a union shop. (A union shop clause provides that all employees not covered by the contract must become members of the union, although they need not be members before they are hired.)

Hugh Cassidy, secretary of the Marin County Labor Council, said he was informed today by John H. Prescott, hospital administrator, that the union shop issue would be discussed again by the foundation's board at a meeting next Monday or Tuesday. It was rejected at an earlier meeting. Prescott confirmed it would be discussed by the board before next Wednesday.

'ARBITRATION REFUSED'

Scott and Cassidy said the union had offered to submit the union shop issue to arbitration, but the hospital directors had refused.

The Labor Council will be asked to grant strike sanction at its meeting next Wednesday night, unless the hospital directors have agreed at least to arbitration in the meantime, said Scott.

"We'll hit the bricks Thursday morning," he declared.

The contract, as agreed upon aside from one issue yesterday, would raise pay by $12.50 to $20 per month in the various categories of employees covered, Scott reported.

Man Arrested On Charge Of Assault

John E. Moncheck, 24-year-old clerk at a title company in San Rafael, was arrested early today by San Anselmo police for assault and drunkenness after he allegedly kicked and broke the leg of William Sitchler at the Hideaway Bar, 2 Tunstead avenue, San Anselmo.

Police said Sitchler, 31, of 309 Greenfield avenue, San Anselmo, told them he was standing at the bar when Moncheck "tried to talk him into a fight." When Sitchler refused, he told police, Moncheck [illegible]ed and then kicked him in the left leg.

Six witnesses at the bar, including the bartender, refused to tell police what happened, said Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani.

Sitchler was admitted to the Marin General Hospital, where he was reported in good condition.

OBITUARIES

McDonough Rites Set For Monday

A Requiem High Mass for Mrs. Beatrice McDonough of Terra Linda, who died Wednesday in a San Francisco hospital after long illness, will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Monday at Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia.

Mrs. McDonough, 52, resided at 398 Holly drive. She had lived in the San Rafael area since 1949 except for a four-year period in Europe with her husband, where he was with the staff of the commander in chief, U.S. Army, Europe, at Heidelberg, Germany.

She was a member of the National Council of Catholic Women of Europe.

She was a native of Jordan, Minn.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley. Interment will be in Presidio National Cemetery, San Francisco.

Visitor To Marin Dies Unexpectedly

A mill owner from Elk, Mendocino County, died in Tiburon last night, apparently of a heart attack while visiting Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Havstad of 2131 Paradise drive.

Percival Warren Daniels, 55, was having dinner at Sam's Anchor Cafe with Mrs. Paula Havstad and Calion Beacon of Elk when Daniels became ill. He had been under Dr. Havstad's care for the past five years for a heart condition.

They went to the Havstad home, where Daniels was pronounced dead at 10:45 p.m. The body was taken to Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley and transferred today to the Robert E. Cain Funeral Home at Fort Bragg.

Funeral Slated For Marinite's Mother

Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen D. McLeod, of Santa Rosa will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the Santa Rosa Memorial Park Mausoleum Chapel, Santa Rosa. Mrs. McLeod, who died yesterday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a long illness, was the mother of Mrs. Myrtle McCarthy of San Quentin Village, wife of prison Sgt. Eugene McCarthy.

Mrs. McLeod, 64, is survived also by her husband, Neil F. McLeod of Santa Rosa; another daughter, Mrs. Neva Alves of San Francisco; three brothers, Ben Carlson of San Luis Obispo, Oscar Carlson of San Francisco and Alex Carlson of Eureka; a sister, Mrs. Christine Paul of San Pablo and three grandchildren.

AAUW Book Meet April 5

The reading arts section of the Marin branch of American Association of University Women will discuss James B. Conant's "The American High School Today" at the meeting to be held in the Kentfield home of Mrs. Hugh G. Marchant, Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Marchant, branch president, will preface the discussion with a review of Conant's major theories on secondary education. Dr. Conant is currently preparing his survey of primary school education and expects to publish a report soon.

The morning and evening arts sections are reserving The Barn for a Friday evening production of "Sabrina Fair" by the Ross Valley Players on May 6. Tickets for this performance are being distributed at all AAUW section meetings this month. Also in May, the morning group will hear a survey on satire, being prepared by Mrs. R. A. Miller of Mill Valley.

Co-hostess for the Tuesday meeting is Mrs. Jay Simon, and members interested in discussing the Conant report are asked to contact Mrs. Thomas L. Rogers of Greenbrae, section chairman.

Baptist Missionary Guild Has Luncheon

The Jessie Drexler Missionary Guild of the Mill Valley Baptist Church recently held a dessert luncheon meeting with Mildred Broome, the hostess. She also gave a review of Dr. Munger's book, "My Heart Christ's House."

Members of the guild are now cutting pieces for quilts to be sent to a missionary working with the Indians. All members of the church and their friends are invited to attend

Mt. Carmel Plans Sunday Food Sale

A food sale after each Mass Sunday has been arranged by members of Mill Valley's Mt. Carmel Women's Club.

Co-chairmen Mrs. J. L. Nannery and Mrs. Paul Henneberry have requested that donors deliver all food before the 10:30 o'clock Mass. Featured will be home cooked foods of many varieties, including hot dishes. Proceeds from the sale will go into the building fund.

On the agenda for the club's next meeting at 7:45 p.m. April 13 in the lower hall of the Mt. Carmel School will be completion of plans for the April 30 Spring Champagne Fashion Show and a demonstration of Japanese flower arranging to be presented by a well known professional.

The president, Mrs. J. J. Rasella, advises members to take advantage of the opportunity to make their Easter decor more attractive.

MV Watercolor Preview April 2

Mill Valley artist Helen Gapen Oehler will have a preview showing of water colors from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Sunday at the Artist Associates Gallery in the El Paseo.

The paintings will be on display throughout the month of April. Anyone interested in attending the preview who did not receive an invitation may make arrangements by calling the Gallery.

Guild Will Sponsor Traffic Boys' Week

Beginning April 4, a full school week of special activities has been scheduled for the Traffic Boys units of St. Raphael's School.

Acting on the recommendation of the National Safety Council, the school's Mothers' Guild is sponsoring this initial Traffic Boys' Week in co-operation with the faculty and the Rev. Daniel McAlister, parish administrator.

It will serve as a means of honoring the young boys on the squads and also emphasize good safety practices on sidewalks and streets for all students.

An address by juvenile officer Sgt. Louis Foster of the San Rafael Police Department, to the student body Monday morning will open the week's events. Tuesday the children will be entertained with motion pictures dealing with safety and traffic problems, which have been made available to the school by the California Automobile Association. On Wednesday a representative of the California Highway Patrol, Officer Paul Zensius, is to conduct a stop-distance program.

Thursday's activities will represent the high point of the week for the traffic boys' units alone. On that day the four squads will perform a drill program on the school grounds for the student body, after which their awards and promotions will be given by their school faculty mentor, Sister M. Alicia, O.P. The squads will round off the day with refreshments, provided by Guild members and served in the cafeteria.

Sergeant Foster is to return to the school on Friday to conduct a bicycle safety inspection. The Guild has donated prizes for the students of each class receiving highest points in over-all bicycle safety observance. Also on that day the traffic units will conduct quizzes on safety for the primary grades. Prizes will be awarded for this event, and each child in the first four grades is to receive coloring booklets on children's safety lessons.

There are 48 boys in Saint Raphael's traffic boys' group, consisting of four squads of 12 members each. Each squad has its own insignia and leader. In the past, the drill work of the units has merited them several trophies in all-city competition.

MARIN CLUB'S THIRD DANCE SCHEDULED

The Marin Club, an organization for single people over 21, is giving its third dance on Friday, April 8. This will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at Bob's, Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. Miss Bobbie Moore of Corte Madera is in charge of the monthly dances. Miss Margaret Schaeffer, San Rafael has been responsible to keeping up the large mailing list. Anyone who wishes to receive the Marin Club's monthly bulletin may do so by getting in touch with Miss Schaeffer. At the dance, installation of officers will be held. These officers will be the first permanent ones. Other officers have been serving pro tem.

Plans Made For Seashore Hearing

Following a luncheon given by Mrs. Russel Merret of Kent Woodlands, meetings were held across the county to prepare for the arrival of the U. S. Senate Interior Committee which will conduct a hearing on the Pt. Reyes National Seashore project April 14 at Olney Hall, College of Marin.

The meetings were held in the homes of Mrs. L. J. Hollmon, San Rafael; Mrs. Stanley Dick, Tiburon; Mrs. Carl Brook, Mill Valley; Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Gutstade, Terra Linda; Mrs. William Searles, Mill Valley; Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Marinwood; Mrs. Daniel Turrentine, San Rafael; Mrs. Martin Griffin of Kent Woodlands; Miss Doris Schmiedell, Ross, and Mrs. Samuel Hanzel of Kent Woodlands.

7 Initiated At Fairfax CDA Court

A reception for new members to Court St. Agnes, No. 1428, Catholic Daughters of America, was held recently at St. Rita's Hall in Fairfax. New members are Mesdames Margaret E. Colteaux, Katherine Colwell, Ralph P. Devlin, John J. Judge, Eulalie Kempt, F. M. Lara and George A. Stevenson.

The Rev. John J. Cunningham, state chaplain of the CDA, greeted the new members. Mrs. Edwin A. Clancy, state regent, welcomed them into the order and told about the work of the courts. Other guests of honor were Mrs. Eleanor Hogan, district deputy; Mrs. Marie Logan, state chairman of extension; Mrs. A. E. Fox, state chairman of missions; Mrs. Mabel Sherry, archdiocesan chairman of Share the Faith; Mrs. Antoinette Cerosi, district deputy from Oakland, and the Grand Regents and members from Court of Our Lady of Miracles in Novato, Court Raphael, and Court Vallejo.

After the installation ceremonies refreshments were served. Chairman of the committee was Mrs. M. T. Anderson. She was assisted by Mesdames Leo Cronin, D. R. Mercer, W. J. McPartland, John Weitzel, and T. E. Weitzel.

'April Showers' Focus Show To Honor Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Social Service Auxiliary of Marin will be the honorees April 5 at the "April Showers Bring May Flowers" fashion show at Rickey's in Ignacio.

Chairman for the day is Mrs. William Donohoe, who is also first vice president of the Juniors.

Juniors who will model the newest Easter bonnets and hair styles are Mesdames Daniel Aughney, Victor Burner Jr., Walter Coyne, William Donohoe, Henry Hillebrand, Norman Sanguinetti, A. J. Simonini and Raymond Zierolf.

The purpose of this Auxiliary is to raise funds for the Catholic Social Service in Marin, a member of the United Crusade. Since the Juniors started in 1947, they have gradually enlarged their membership and their fund-raising activities and their welfare activities.

They have member groups which monthly go to Jonesville Hall and to St. Vincent's School for boys with planned programs and refreshments. They have a yearly Easter Party (this year April 9) for about 90 children of less fortunate homes. Their fund - raising events include the Silver Fantasy Ball, a Junior Theater production, card parties, and the spring fashion show.

All funds derived are turned over to the Catholic Social Service whose purpose is to assist individuals and families in the solution of their emotional and reality problems. The director of the club is the Rev. James D. O'Shea, M.S.W. and the president this year is Mrs. Rome Brusati.

Fashions to be viewed April 5 include those of designer Georgette Trilere with distinctive group of jacket dresses; Designer Man'selle who has an exciting line of comprehensive casual to dressy cottons; designer Townley, who is the successor to Claire McCardell, and the latest creations of Dorothy O'Hara with emphasis on sportswear. Gorgeous spring hats and spring jewelry will be featured. Commentator will be Mrs. John Bellamy Jr. and the public is invited, just phone Rickeys.

SILVER HILLS CLUB GIVING STYLE SHOW

The Silver Hills Country Club in Novato is having a Spring Fashion Show tomorrow night commencing at 8. A color scheme of spring pink will be carried out with carnations for the ladies and programs. Door awards will be pink champagne and flowering plants.

Play clothes, casuals, street, and evening wear will be modeled by club members, Mesdames John E. Bowen, Howard G. Brown, Vaughn T. Butner, Marvin S. Dahlquist, Ronald L. Gibson, Steve V. Hall, John M. Lane, H. G. McFarland, Esther Kennedy, and Betty Tieche. Chairman for the event is Mrs. Juren M. Wolff who is assisted by Mrs. M. E. Verhonik and Mrs. E. G. Yates. Flower girl will be Patricia Handlin and ushers will be Lee Bridgman and Paul Clifford. Commentator for the event will be Lucile Bowen. Refreshments will be served.

Youngsters Tour Local Hospital

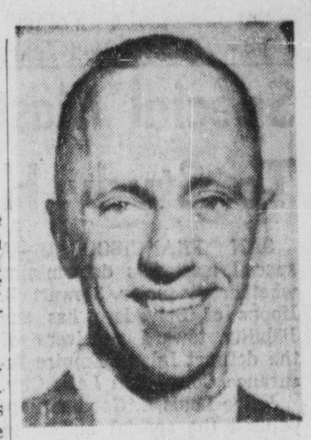
Two bluebird groups and one brownie troop were taken on tour through Marin General Hospital by three members of hospital Service League recently.

Mrs. Hugh Carruthers, Mrs. Ward Hawkins and Mrs. W. S. Anderson conducted the tours and served ice cream and cake to the youngsters.

Hummingbird Bluebirds, under the leadership of Mrs. E. B. Pike and co-leader Mrs. Thomas Carson of Kentfield who toured the hospital were: Sally V. Carson, Cathy Croos, Joanne Harris, Christine Lauder, Michele Perrone, Judith Pike and Lauren Wardlaw.

Another young group taking advantage of a community hospital tour was Brownie Troop No. 160 under leadership of Mrs. George Storz and Mrs. Harley Pryor both of San Anselmo. Girls on this tour were Lynn Dempsey, Yvonne Pryor, Margaret Krinkel, Pat Jones, Maureen Sibbald, Cindy Stoner, Ellen Storz, Patsy Brady, Colleen Whipple and Sandy Butterworth.

Also enjoying the tour through the community hospital were the Babbling Bluebirds of San Rafael, under the leadership of Mrs. Donald Anderson and her assistant leader, Mrs. David Young. Girls in this group were Debbie Anderson, Vickie Bujag, Sue Bartlett, Corey Mallett, Michele Nelson, Wanda Hendrix, Diane Zappettini, Lynette Peterson, Marsha Young, Cathy Taylor, Lorie Fransen, Melinda Holloman, Laura Fulkerson, Trina Hudson and Gloria Humphries.



DON SHOTWELL, Bay Area square dance caller, will be featured at the Buzzin' Boots party night tonight at Star Hall in San Anselmo. Visitors are welcome to the party which begins at 8:30.

Hawthorne Assn. Sets Spring Dance

The Hawthorne Terrace Property Owners Assn. will hold a spring dance tomorrow night at the Southern Marin Recreation Center, according to Stanley E. Behrens, president.

Chips and dips will be available and a planter box complete with succulents will be a prize at the event which will start at 8.

Planning the affair is the recreation committee composed of Mesdames James V. Olson, Donald Learnard and Ronald W. Crawford.

Several parties are being planned to precede the dance. These will be hosted by the J. P. Kampmeyers of Mara Vista drive and the Robert MacCarthys of Hawthorne drive.

Tickets will be available at the door and guests are welcome.

Day Of Recollection For Institutes Set

At the recent meeting of Rosarium Institute 175, of Larkspur, plans were made for a Day of Recollection for members of all the institutes in District 5 to be held on Sunday at the Ursuline Convent High School, 90 Mark West Spring Road, Santa Rosa. Brunch will follow the 11 a.m. mass.

Following the recent meeting of Rosarium games were played, proceeds going to the charity fund of the institute. Miss Rene Tomasi was in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Ed Albertoni presided at the meeting.

Next business session will be held April 7 at St. Patrick's Hall, Larkspur. Members are asked to bring cans of vegetables or fruits to stock the pantry shelf for the luncheons to be held during the summer months.

Special Master Named To Study Hopps Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A special master is determining whether financier Stewart B. Hopps of Belvedere has any liability toward receivers of the defunct Inland Empire Insurance Co. of Salt Lake City.

Judge Louis E. Goodman appointed the special master in federal court yesterday and made a partial ruling in Hopps favor. He said that evidence in the long trial of 1959 failed to "show with any degree of clarity" that Hopps was a controlling stockholder "at the time of the pirating of its (Inland's) assets."

Hopps wass ued for $2,549,701 damages by Continental Bank and Trust Co. of Utah, receiver of Inland.

Continental said Hopps controlled the Leadenhall Corp. of Nevada, which in 1952 acquired 90 per cent control of assets of Inland for $250,000.

Continental accused Hopps of ordering Inland to cancel reinsurance agreements with two concerns and place them with Alabama Insurance Co. which Hopps controlled. It asserted Hopps conspired to divert funds from Inland.

Hopps denied he ever imposed his will on Inland and said he was merely the company's reinsurance broker.

Judge Goodman said he found Hopps was "at all critical times the alter ego of Leadenhall Corp. . . . Consequently if there is liability of Leadenhall to Inland, it is a liability of Hopps."

Judge Goodman said he cannot determine if there is such a liability without an accounting and appointed U. S. Commissioner Joseph Karesh special master to make such an accounting. Judge Goodman added that a final decision awaits a report from Karesh.

New Storms Hit Flooded Middle West

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Snow, sleet and even some April showers today hit the Middle West, already stricken by floods which drove 6,000 persons from their homes.

Winds up to 80 miles an hour and hail battered central Kansas and Oklahoma. Three inches of snow were forecast for Nebraska, hardest-hit state in the Midwest flood belt.

Although almost 4,000 persons were homeless in Nebraska, the floods failed to make a major breakthrough.

National Guardsmen, civil defense workers and volunteers were winning the battle of the levees with around-the-clock sandbag operations against the enraged rivers.

However, the tons of water surging down flooded streams in the country's mid-section were pouring into the Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

U.S. Bond Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury next week will sell a long-term bond issue for the first time in 12 months. It will offer a 25-year issue paying 4¼ per cent interest—the highest rate permitted by law.

The department also announced late yesterday it is prepared to take a number of administrative steps — including the possible imposition of margin requirements — to nip any speculative fever that might break out in the bond market in the months ahead.

Foreign Aid Fund Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee has cut 136½ million dollars from President Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

Although the reductions in the first round skirmish were comparatively small for the $4,175,000,000 program, the big test lies ahead when the Appropriations Committee passes on the actual money bill.

Plane Blast Survivor

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Air Force investigators will rely on the memory of a burned, shocked first lieutenant for details surrounding a jet bomber explosion here.

The B47 blew up over the city at dawn yesterday, raining death and destruction over a wide residential area.

The only survivor from the plane was 1st Lt. Thomas G. Smoak, 26, of Richmond, Va., the co-pilot. He parachuted to safety but three other airmen died. Two civilians were killed in their homes.

X15 Flight Success

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The X15 rocket ship, roaring through the desert sky at 1,300 m.p.h., made another powered flight yesterday — its second in 48 hours.

Pilot Scott Crossfield steered the Black Dart through a violent roll pullout to test the X15's maneuverability under conditions similar to those encountered on re-entering the earth's atmosphere from outer space.

Non-Nuclear Blasts Set

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A series of non-nuclear explosions next month will launch the Atomic Energy Commission's 1960 test program at the vast atomic test site near here.

The tests will provide information for the Plowshare Program, a study of peaceful uses of nuclear explosives. They will last several months.

Strike End Hopes Dim

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hopes dimmed for an early end to the Screen Actors Guild strike yesterday when a negotiating session was canceled—the second cancelation in two days.

No date was set for the next meeting.

Tailors Get Pay Raise

NEW YORK (AP) — A new three-year contract gives 125,000 workers in the tailored men's clothing industry a 17½-cent hourly pay raise.

An industry spokesman said the pact probably will mean a "modest increase" in the price of men's tailored clothing.

Malaya King Dies

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (UPI)—Sir Abdul Rahman Ibni El-Marhum Tuanku Muhammed, 64, first king of independent Malaya, died in his sleep today, apparently of a heart attack.

Malayan Prime Minister Tengku (Prince) Abdul Rahman, no relation to the dead monarch, proclaimed a 44 day period of mourning by his nearly seven million subjects—native Malays, who are mostly Moslems, Chinese and Indians.

Six Die In Fire

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — Two mothers and their four small daughters burned to death early today in a fire which was believed to have started in a television set left on all night.

Another child, the son of one of the women, managed to escape and rouse a next-door neighbor who called firemen.

Nixon Petition Filed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Backers of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's Republican presidential candidacy yesterday filed petitions qualifying a California delegation pledged to Nixon.

Some 10,555 valid signatures are needed to qualify the delegation. Nixon backers said 29,085 names were filed with voting registrars in Los Angeles and in 11 other counties throughout the state.

Air Base Bomb Hoax

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two thousand civilian employees and airmen were ordered from Mather Air Force Base yesterday when the 6,400-acre Strategic Air Command facility received a telephoned bomb threat which proved a hoax.

Trustees At Reed Discuss Capital

After review of more than 100 capital outlay priority items on the 1961 budget at Tuesday night's adjourned meeting, Reed Union School District trustees sent the list back to the admistrative staff for reclassification and recommendation.

The items, amounting to a total of $54,195 were classified in priorities of one, two and three.

"Before we can make any decision on the capital outlay portion of next year's budget, we should have these similar items grouped together and a recommendation from the superintendent," trustee chairman Richard J. MacLaury said.

Apostoli Has Scanlon In Top Shape; Giants Face Gruelling Schedule

No doubt about it, Irish Bobby Scanlon will be in perfect physical condition next Tuesday night when he climbs into the squared circle against fancy Johnny Gonsalves.

This is the word sent us from the backwoods of Nicasio by Big Nick Kobseff, who is the new co-manager of the little Irish lightweight.

BOBBY SCANLON

"Honest, Gil," rasped Kobseff in his well-known gravel-voice, "this little punk is really serious about getting back into the big time. Why, do you know that for 25 straight days now he's had about three to six miles of road work every morning? I'm tellin' ya' he never worked so hard for any fight before."

Apparently Scanlon was never noted for his serious training, but times have changed under the new co-management of Kobseff and restaurateur Lou Sabella and the training of former World Champeen Fearless Freddie Apostoli of Fairfax.

"We're darned lucky to have the services of Apostoli," Kobseff noted. "He knows as much about the game as anyone and has whipped Bobby into perfect shape." Noted manager-trainer Dolph Thomas will serve as a second in Scanlon's corner Tuesday. If moxie means much, the Apostoli-Thomas team will "think" Scanlon to victory, although fancy-dan Gonsalves has been installed the 7-5 favorite.

This is a return match, Gonsalves having won a split nod in their first meeting. Scanlon was decked in that one and was penalized a point for a low blow.

That was such a dandy tiff that Oakland Promoter Don Chargin should have no trouble peddling ducats. We understand several busloads of Marin fans will take in the bout. Kobseff has one, maybe two busses chartered from his Rancho Nicasio. Incidentally, tickets ($6, $5, $3 and $1.50) can be purchased locally at Rancho Nicasio, Sabella's of Marin, Western Hotel in Pt. Reyes Station, Tony's and Peri's in Fairfax, Bit O' Bohemia in San Anselmo and George's Recreation Parlor in San Rafael.

Getting back to Scanlon, the little guy has a 33-4-1 record and has whipped some pretty tough hombres, although inactivity, and a couple of losses to Italy's Paolo Rossi has dropped him from the top 10 ratings. A victory over the ranked Gonsalves could vault Bobby back into the ratings and lead to some juicy matches in the near future.

Apostoli says Scanlon has all the good moves and, despite his "Little, Mr. Innocence" face, can punch with authority. Since he hasn't fought in seven months, Scanlon's timing may be off, his braintrust fears. However, his physical condition and frame of mind may make up for that. Under his new management Scanlon is as happy as a tick in a kennel, they tell us.

Interest is running high locally and Scanlon will have strong vocal support from his new Marin fans.

But a check of the 1960 schedule brings up a good point: They'd better have plenty of depth to carry the club through a gruelling, arm-breaking period starting August 2 and ending on Sept. 20.

In that period the schedule shows the Giants playing 16 consecutive days, finally a day off on Aug. 18, then 33 more consecutive days. With one double-header slated in that period the Giants must play 50 games, or approximately one third of the schedule, in seven weeks.

That is why a deep pitching staff and a capable bench is so important.

WE MAY have a future Olympic skiing champ in our midst if San Rafael High School senior Kramer Herzog continues to improve on the slopes. Young Kramer has won a number of races this season and only last Sunday picked up the top pribe in the annual Dick Buek Memorial Giant Slalom at Donner Ski Ranch.

SEVERAL adults in the Larkspur-Corte Madera area are trying their darnedest to organize a Twin Cities Boys Club but they're running into that big hurdle—lack of parental interest.

John Pagliaro, spokesman for the group, said only 25 persons attended an organizational meeting Wednesday night. "I don't know what's wrong with the people down here," said Pagliaro, "We're trying to do something constructive for the boys in the area and their parents just don't seem to care. Yet, they're the same people who complain about juvenile delinquency."

Pagliaro said the club will sponsor all sorts of recreation for boys 8 to 18 years old, including Pony League ball clubs, basketball teams, track, dances, etc.

Another meeting has been set for next Thursday, April 7, 8 p.m. at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur. So, come on, Mom and Pop, get off your rusty dusty and lend a helping hand.

Newell Stars Hailed As 'The Greatest'

DENVER (UPI)—The NCAA All Stars—four All-American basketball players supported by eight collegians almost as good — swept into tonight's semi-finals of the U. S. Olympic Trials at the astounded expense of the once master Phillips Oilers.

Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati was most brilliant, but all his teammates were impressive as they out-shot, out-defensed and thoroughly humiliated the Oilers, 96-79, at the Denver Coliseum last night. Phillips is the National Industrial League champion.

The University All-Stars meet the Akron Goodyear team and the Naia (small college) All-Stars play the AAU champion Peoria Cats in the semi-finals.

The small college crew whipped NCAA champion Ohio Statt, 76-69, and the Goodyear Wingfoots hustled past the Armed Forces All-Stars, 82-76, in last night's first round. The Cats needed all their skill to defeat the NCAA College All-Stars, 96-89.

NEWELL PRAISED

Phillips Coach Bud Browning, whose club has won nine AAU championships and twice has gone to the Olympics, said University of California Coach Pete Newell did "a tremendous job in three days" to organize the talented University All-Stars into a smoothly functioning team.

"It's the greatest array of talent ever assembled for an Olympic playoff," Browning said. "Every man is a great shooter. They could beat any team anywhere."

Robertson scored 23 points, 17 of them in the first half when the runaway was established. He moved his six-foot, five-inch frame with such grace and skill, on defense and beneath the boards, the turnaway crowd of 10,000 was in constant tumult.

But the Oilers had no answer, either for the abilities of 6-11 Indiana center Walt Bellamy, who scored 18 points and dominated the rebound game, or for 17-pointer Jim Darrow of Bowling Green. Robertson's fellow All-America selections, Tom Smith of St. Bonaventure, Darrell Imhoff of California and Jerry West of West Virginia, were more straws than Newell needed to break the Oilers' backs.

Ortiz To Defend World Title In S. F. On June 1

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Matchmaker Bennie Ford announced that Carlos Ortiz will defend the world junior welterweight title June 1 against Duilio Loi of Italy in a 15-round televised bout at the Cow Palace.

Loi, 30, is rated as the number one contender for the junior welter crown. He has only one loss recorded against him in more than 100 fights.

Ortiz, of New York City, retained the junior welterweight title Feb. 4 in Los Angeles where he stopped Battling Torres of Mexico in the ninth round.

Weightlifters To Perform In Marin Tomorrow Night

Strongmen from throughout the Bay Area will invade Santa Venetia's Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall tomorrow to match their strength in the annual Northern California Weightlifting Championships.

And sharing the spotlight with the muscle department will be two glamor events—Miss Northern California beauty contest and Mr. Northern California physique contest.

Sponsored by the MarVel Athletic Club of San Rafael, the event will start with weightlifting at 5 p.m. The beauty and physique contests will follow at 8 and 9 p.m. A donation of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children will be charged.

According to weightlifting Commissioner Jack MacPhee of San Rafael, "Some of the best lifters in the United States will be on hand to attempt new records. This is an official AAU event and trophies will go to the first three places in each weight class. Also, a trophy will be presented to the highest scoring team."

MacPhee said more than 50 lifters are expected, plus a handsome supply of beauty and physique candidates.

McCovey Blast Cheers Giants Despite Loss

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — When baseball spring training started, fans eagerly awaited the Cleveland-San Francisco games when batting stars Tito Francona and Willie McCovey would meet.

Despite their tremendous batting exploits of last season, when Francona hit .363 for Cleveland and McCovey became National League Rookie-of-the-year for San Francisco with .354, the first half dozen meetings brought nothing exceptional.

Then came yesterday's seventh game and both came through with the long ball.

In the first of the eighth inning, McCovey crashed a drive that traveled 370 feet before hitting a screen that actually was constructed for an adjacent field. It went for a double, driving in two runs, but in any other field would have been a 400-foot homer.

It was the hardest blow of the spring for the 6-foot-4 first baseman who broke into the major leagues last July 30 with two triples and two singles.

That put the Giants ahead 10-6.

Rocky Colavito walked to start the last of the eighth to bring up Francona who had only one extra base hit—a double—this spring.

TRIBE RALLIES

Tito smashed a pitch from Giants rookie Georges Maranda, seeing his first spring action, for a 380-foot home run to start a four-run rally.

Cleveland went on to win 11-10 in the last of the ninth as Russ Nixon singled home the winning run.

Despite the loss, San Francisco Manager Bill Rigney was relatively happy.

"He really smashed the ball," he declared of McCovey's double. "We're looking for a few more."

Cleveland Manager Joe Gordon could be equally elated. Francona hasn't been belting the ball this spring with the authority that won him a regular spot in 1959 and sparked the Indians' pennant challenge.

Just before the game, Tito said, "I haven't been hitting the ball well yet."

To Much Pressure In Little League?

CHICAGO (UPI)—Two doctors said today that Little League baseball could prove harmful to the health of youngsters.

The doctors, writing in the American Medical Association's magazine, Today's Health, said athletic competition for children was undesirable when organized along adult patterns.

Shaffer and his colleague, Dr. John L. Reichert, Chicago, said a child should not be subjected to "forced development of special athletic skills."

Shaffer and Reichert outlined a four-point reform program for the Little Leagues:

End sponsorship of teams by business organizations.

Require medical examination at the start of a season and during the season if accident or illness occurred.

Require trained, experienced individuals in positions of leadership.

The two doctors said Little Leaguers were at the age where they were particularly susceptible to injuries, especially dislocations of joints and bone injuries.

"Competitive drives must be allowed to develop normally and not be overstimulated or suppressed," Richert said.

Giants Once Gave Up On Amalfitano, But Now He's Delivering The Goods

CONNOLLY

The subject is very distasteful to Horace Stoneham, boss of the S.F. Giants.

It is all on account of the fact that Joe Amalfitano, infielder, is hotter than a pistol.

Seems whenever you mention that unpronounceable name, Stoneham shudders so badly he has to pin on his hat.

Amalfitano out of Loyola College in Los Angeles, cost the Giants a bonus of $40,000. And after watching him for awhile Stoneham and his aides were so disappointed they would have gladly paid the State of New York 95 cents to eliminate him via the Sing Sing electric chair method.

But instead of a horrible end we find "Joe Sneezt" Amalfitano back in the Giants fold at an additional cost of $25,000 for the draft.

So that the club that "brought and bought him" in 1954 from Loyola College winds up with the same piece of "damaged goods" they cast adrift after the 1955 season.

But time is a great healer and soother. Although Joe got a full cut of the 1954 World Series melon and a fat and juicy salary in 1955 he was shipped away like a guy with coronary insufficiency or something.

Since that memorable day in 1955 Joe has performed in the upper brackets of the minor leagues serving terms at Minneapolis, Dallas, Phoenix and finally 1959 in Toronto.

THE IRONICAL part of the Stoneham-Amalfitano story is that Joe originally was bought as a third baseman. True, he played all the infield positions with great skill.

In his last season he starred as a second sacker. In 115 games he hit .308 and in the draft Amalfitano was bought once again by the Giants, this time for $25,000 scootes. That last nudge brought his present day value plus two years salary up to a total of $65,000, quite an investment.

All of which is just a preface to bring you up to the cold facts of today . . . Amalfitano is the hottest prospect and the most solid of all utility infielders at present in the Giant fold.

I SAW and watched Joe Sneeze Amalfitano. He isn't a high fly ball hitter or a fence buster. He is a spray hitter who whacks line drives to all fields, can run like a jackrabbit and is built along the lines of a baggage car.

Amalfitano isn't sure whether he prefers second base, shortstop or third base. In fact wherever he is planted he'll do a good job. He's that anxious for steady work.

So today we find the same boy the Giants, while in New York, liked so well they paid a total of $65,000 to acquire, fighting his way back to redeem himself in the eyes of Horace Stoneham.

And on the other hand we find Stoneham inwardly regretting he ever gave up on the player, but all the same smiling through it all.

It takes courage, and it takes money to handle the Amalfitano case as Horace Stoneham has done.

And for the sake of Joe Sneeze and for the fortitude of Stoneham, we hope Joe Sneeze makes good. He's rated as a utility infielder now, but he could be a regular any day if anybody in the infield slips up.

Pringle, McBride Win Cage Honors At Drake High

Most valuable player awards went to basketballers Robert Pringle and John McBride last night as Drake High School's 1959-60 hoop season officially ended with presentation of Drake Benchwarmer awards to junior varsity, freshman and class C team players.

Pringle won the honor for the Jayvees and McBride for both the Freshman and Cs. In addition, McBride was voted team captain for both the latter squads. The two boys live in San Anselmo.

The sportsmanship award for the freshmen went to Kurt Jensen and for the Cs to Larry Fong.

Harry Sannar, Drake Benchwarmer president, was master of ceremonies for the award ceremony, held at Sleepy Hollow School All-Purpose Room. Dessert was served by a committee headed by Mrs. Edward Smith of Fairfax.

Tiger Choice Over Zalazar In TV Fight

BOSTON (AP)—Dick Tiger, the British Empire middleweight king, rules an 8-to-5 favorite over Argentina's Victor Zalazar for their 10-round nationally televised fight tonight.

Tiger, Nigerian who is entering the ring for the eighth time in six months—all for video consumption — and Zalazar, meet at the Boston Arena.

Tiger is ranked the No. 8 challenger by the National Boxing Assn. and No. 7 by Ring Magazine. He has a 22-9-2 record including 10 knockouts. Ace Armstrong, Joe Giardello and Holly Mims have been among his recent victims while he has a draw with Rory Calhoun.

Unranked Zalazar has 15 knockouts among his 29 pro starts. He is the third straight Argentinian to appear on the Friday night TV fight series following Edurardo Lausse and Frederico Thompson. He recently beat Yama Bahama on the TV circuit.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner, who has seen the two battle in Stillman's Gym in New York, says Zalazar never has taken the worst of it from Tiger.

"From experience Zalazar has learned not to go head hunting," Brenner said. "He's become a real good body puncher."

The bout NBC-TV, 7 p.m. (PST) will be conducted under the Massachuetts 10-point scoring system. The winner of a round gets 10 points, the loser nine or less.

Two New Umpires For Nat'l League

CINCINNATI (UPI)—National League President Warren Giles filled two vacancies on his umpire staff today with the appointments of Chris Pelekoudas and Ed Vargo.

The new umpires replace Vic Delmore, who was fired by Giles during the winter, and Hal Dixon, who has resigned because his request for a raise in salary was rejected.

Banks, Cubs Look Set For Big Year

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Chicago Cubs, paced by Ernie Banks' blazing bat, are making National League rivals sit up and take notice.

The Cubs haven't finished in the National League's first division since 1946, but the way they're clicking they could make it this year. They reeled off their seventh straight victory and 10th in 12 games yesterday with a 4-3 win over the Boston Red Sox.

Banks, the N. L.'s two-time most valuable award winner, is the key to the team, of course, and the lithe, homer-hitting shortstop seems set for a tremendous season. He's blasting the ball at a .463 clip, has hit five homers and driven in 12 runs in the Cubs' 17 games.

Banks, who hit 45 homers and drove in 143 runs last season, delivered a key blow yesterday when the Cubs rallied for three runs in the ninth. Lou Johnson, star rookie up from San Antonio, started the rally with a single and Banks promptly weighed in with a double. Singles by Frank Thomas, Sammy Taylor and Moe Thacker completed the flash rally.

The Detroit Tigers dealt the New York Yankees their 12th loss in 18 games, 5-2; the Milwaukee Braves nipped the Washington Senators, 7-6; the St. Louis Cardinals won a comedy of errors over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-5; the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Kansas City A's, 5-4, and the Cleveland Indians outslugged the San Francisco Giants, 11-10.

Lew Burdette pitched five shutout innings for the Braves, but was hammered for six by the Senators in the sixth inning. The Braves finally pulled it out in the ninth on Mel Roach's bad-hop single after an error by shortstop Zorro Versalles gave them their opening. Harmon Killebrew hit his fourth homer of the spring for the Senators.

Pony League Baseball Tryouts In Kentfield

Tryouts for the Kentfield-Greenbrae Pony Baseball League team will be held tomorrow on the College of Marin diamond in Kentfield.

All eligible boys must report at the field at 8:30 a.m. Judges will be Dr. Ed Randol, Joe Reilly and John Newman. Boys must bring their own equipment.

Yankees Seek Trade

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—The New York Yankees, sporting a horrible 6-13 exhibition record, were reportedly today trying to swing a trade with the Detroit Tigers. The Yanks are seeking Tiger right-hander Paul Foytack and Detroit is reportedly after infielder Kent Hadley.

Dasher Class Makes Bay Area Debut

By ALFRED MATSON

Tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. a bevy of guests will be on hand at the Easom Boat Works in Sausalito to witness the launching of the first of the Dasher class sloops to be built in the Bay Area.

It will be a ceremony in keeping with the age-old tradition of the sea—the champagne christening, a toast by the gathering of well wishers for the safekeeping of the ship, her captain and crew and the formal acceptance of the boat by the owner.

In this case the latter part of the ritual will not be affected as the proud new master is the builder and owner of the yard, Hank Easom. First mate, Joy Easom, will employ her fast overhand with the champagne bottle and duly christen the good ship "Serenade."

While this will be the first of its class in the Bay Area the boat has been an outstanding success in southern California waters and undoubtedly will receive equal acceptance here.

It is from the drafting board of William C. Lapworth, a marine architect of national repute, and has proved ideal for the man with a yen for racing and who has an eye for comfortable cruising qualities as well. The Serenade is 32-feet over-all and the hull is of strip plank construction.

ON SUNDAY, April 10, local yachtsmen will be able to witness a match race that has been one of the main scuttlebutt items of the nation's sailing buffs for many years. It will be a match race between James Michael's Baruna and Dennis Jordan's Bolero, two of the greatest racing machines afloat today, well nigh identical and both are of Sparkman and Stephen design. It will be a contest of seamanship and strategy that should prove a spellbinder.

The race involves no awards, no trophies and not even a good five cent cigar, but from the amount of preparation it isn't just a fun race either.

ANOTHER LAUNCHING of note recently took place at the shipyard of Roland Reed in San Rafael. The yard, for many years known as Godtfredsen's, was recently purchased by Reed, long identified with yacht brokerage in Alameda and an active amateur sailor as well.

Reed has moved his main base of operations to San Rafael, but the Alameda office remains a branch.

The launching involved the seventh edition of the Voyager class, designed by the yard's former owner, Harvey Godtfredsen. It is a 33-foot sloop of planked construction that was built to meet the bay's rugged conditions and has met every phase of the challenge.

The yard will continue to build the Voyagers and the general yacht repairs and will also handle a line of cruisers of Monk design which are built in Hong Kong.

NEWEST MODEL—Here is the new 1960, 18-foot Trailorboat manufactured by Trailorboat Engineering Co. of San Rafael. It handles up to two 70 horsepower motors, has built-in glove boxes, storage compartments and bow locker and features Ride-Guide steering. The complete 1960 line includes nine models in five sizes in fiberglas and five models in 15 sizes in aluminum.

L. A. Skipper Deceptively Mild; Howard Discovered The Hard Way

HANLEY

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Rookies here in the Cactus League still can't understand how Frank Howard got himself in the dog house of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"He was a model of deportment in the minors," said Joe Amalfitano, the most promising rookie in the Giant camp.

The big bonus baby of the Dodgers, Minor League Player of the Year after hitting 44 homers (43 in minors, 1 with Dodgers), had the reputation of being a quiet fellow at Victoria and Spokane where he belted the ball at .356 and a .319 clips.

"Well, Walter Alston is a deceptively mild individual," he said. "Perhaps Howard is, too. When you put two like this together, you come to realize all at once the safeness of a match, say, between Charlie Dressen and Leo Durocher.

"ALSTON and Howard were led to debate at Vero Beach when the oversized slugger skipped a minor league game at Vero where he had been left behind as the varsity took off for West Palm Beach. The week before he had missed the plane when assigned to the varsity.

"It is axiomatic in warfare that one know his enemy. Players with the Dodgers often make the calamitous mistake of appraising Alston as a soft touch. Walter is one of those peculiar people who can be equally at ease with a Boy Scout troop as he can with a gang of merchant seamen.

"Once aroused, Alston responds with a fury and fires language that would make a ship's parrot blanch.

"You may recall during the calms of 1958 that Alston leveled on Don Newcombe when Newk forgot to come home one night in Chicago. Then in Philadelphia later that year, Duke Snider and Clem Labine decided on a sociable round of golf the day of a night game. They, too, stepped into the mouth of a connon.

"Of all the ball players encamped at Vero Beach, Howard would appear the least likely to create a disturbance of any kind. As gentle as a basket of puppies, the guy rarely provokes anyone. In fact, he is considered filibustering if he puts together more than two sentences.

"SOMEWHERE within his chemistry, though, the beast must stir. During a winter game in the Dominican Republic recently, a player on Howard's team got a bad call from an umpire. All of a sudden Frank came roaring from the dugout. He grabbed the ump by the lapels and lifted him off the ground.

"While the umpire sustained no physical injury, you can imagine the trauma he suffered being set upon by a man 6 feet 7 and 245 pounds. Howard drew a three-day suspension.

"As we say, both Frank and Alston are the quiet, placid types. When disturbed, this kind goes better in a match against an opposite. Together, the collision is terrible."

France Explodes 2nd Nuclear Test Blast In Sahara

PARIS (AP)—France held its second nuclear test explosion today under the nose of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The blast in the western Sahara came as the Soviet premier met with President Charles de Gaulle for final talks today and tomorrow. Khrushchev leaves for Moscow Sunday.

In the past two days Khrushchev had twice spoken out against further nuclear explosions by any nation, including France. De Gaulle in effect rejected the Soviet premier's call, just as he earlier contradicted Khrushchev's contention that West Germany is bent on new aggression to avenge the World War II defeat.

Informed sources said Khrushchev was told in advance the bomb would be exploded and that the test was not timed to coincide with his visit. It was explained to him that the test date would have fallen after he left France, but for his attack of influenza which delayed his trip more than a week.

The sources said Khrushchev repeated his opposition to all nuclear explosions but accepted the French explanation.

The explosion also underlined de Gaulle's insistence that the Soviet Union as well as the Western allies recognize France as their equal in world councils.

MEET IN CHATEAU

There was no immediate public reaction from Khrushchev, who was secluded with de Gaulle at Rambouillet, the presidential chateau outside Paris.

Technical, scientific or cultural agreements may be announced before Khrushchev ends his 11-day state visit. But no French-Soviet political accord is expected.

TERMED SUCCESS

De Gaulle's government announced that the nuclear blast, just before dawn at the Reggane test site 1,500 miles south of Oran, was successful and that all safety precautions were taken.

A communique said the device exploded was a plutonium bomb of much smaller size than the first French plutonium bomb set off Feb. 13 and of "limited power." The first bomb had a force of about 70,000 tons of TNT, about three times more powerful than the first U.S. atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima in 1945.

Deadline For Registration Is April 14

Voter registration deadline for the June primary election is April 14, County Clerk George S. Jones reminded citizens today.

Those who have moved since the last election or those who failed to vote in either of the last two elections must re-register.

The latest count of voters as of Jan. 15 this year showed 57,577. Of these, 29,670 were Republicans, 26,193 Democrats, and 1,714 non-partisans. The total registration should reach amost 60,000 by the primaries, the county clerk estimated.

In April of last year, the total registration was 56,463. Just before the November election of 1958, the total count was 62,107. Jones said that registration is increasing each year. The total for the November election this year should top the 62,000 figure, he predicted.

Whites Jailed For Lunching With Negroes

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eleven white college students from Illinois making a study of Southern racial problems as part of a sociology course occupied jail cells at Montgomery, Ala., for several hours because they ate in a cafe with Negroes.

This first-hand experience with Dixie's sociological setup also caused the arrest of their teacher, Prof. R. D. Nesmith of MacMurray College at Jacksonville, Ill., his wife and seven Montgomery Negro students with whom they lunched yesterday.

RELEASED ON BOND

Several hours after police raided the integrated luncheon at a Negro cafe and hustled the group off to jail, all were released on bond. When they left the jail the Nesmiths went to the welfare department and picked up their 2-year-old daughter who had been placed there for care.

All except the child are charged with disorderly conduct and activity calculated to create a breach of the peace. Firemen ordered the cafe closed as a public hazard.

The arrest of the 13 white persons was a new development in weeks of controversy in the South over where Negroes shall eat. Hundreds have been arrested and scores fined or jailed for seeking service at white lunch counters and refusing to move at the request of proprietors.

CLASSES BOYCOTTED

Classes at all-Negro Southern University at Baton Rouge, La., were boycotted by about 2,000 students as an aftermath to the ousting of 18 for engaging in sympathy demonstrations. They flooded college officials with applications for withdrawal forms.

School president Felton G. Clark said no withdrawals would be authorized unless permission is received from parents.

U.S. Pressures Soviets For Outer Space Weapons Ban

GENEVA (AP) — The United States appealed to the Soviet Union today to join it in an immedate program to ban weapons of mass destruction from outer space before this problem reaches a point of no return.

U.S. Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton made the appeal to Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin at the 10-nation disarmament conference.

Eaton said at present only the United States and Soviet Union are involved, as other nations are not yet able to fire mass destruction weapons into space.

For this reason, he said, a "unique opportunity" exists now to make some arrangement between the two nations.

Eaton said the world had an opportunity in 1945 to head off a nuclear arms race but let it slip by. He declared a similar opportunity exists now—and may never come again—in the development of space weapons.

The American delegate pointed out there are only two launching sites in the United States. The number in the Soviet Union is known to be small.

This means that no elaborate control machinery would be necessary to make sure an agreement was being kept, he said.

ONE OF 800 RECOMMENDATIONS

Youth Conference Urges Federal Funds To Improve U.S. Schools

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House Conference on Children and Youth called today for an outpouring of federal money to improve America's schools.

It also:

1. Expressed support for southern Negro students conducting sit-down demonstrations against racial segregation.

2. Urged President Eisenhower to "use all means at his disposal, including the prestige of his office," to speed nationwide compliance with Supreme Court desegregation decrees.

3. Endorsed the principle of "family planning" and said both public and private agencies should be prepared to assist married couples who seek "medical advice and services for child spacing."

4. Proposed a general strengthening of public welfare programs, with particular emphasis on relieving social conditions such as acute poverty and overcrowded housing which breed juvenile delinquency.

5. Appealed to parents to give their children a living "example" of moral and spiritual values rather than merely "preach" at them about high ideals.

6. Affirmed "the importance of personal faith in God," as the source and bulwark of all values that Americans hope to transmit to their children.

These were the highlights of some 800 "recommendations" which emerged from the week-long conference called by President Eisenhower to assess the needs and problems of the nation's young people. The conference, concluding today, was attended by 7,570 delegates from all states and territories.

The recommendations formally presented at today's windup plenary session were hammered out late yesterday in 18 separate "forums."

The forum assigned to educational problems approved 268 to 50 a resolution urging Congress to enact "at this session" legislation providing "substantial general federal support" for public schools throughout the nation.

FUTURE OF IMPORTS? — Foreign auto makers, who have established a strong market in this country, anxiously watch the advent of America's new compact cars. Here a Fiat car is unloaded at Port Newark in New Jersey, one of 100,000 foreign vehicles expected to enter through the port

Marin's New Car Dealers Devoting 2 Weeks To Observing 'New Car Week'

Marin new car dealers are in the midst of nationwide observance of National New Car Dealer Week. Characteristically they are doing the thing bigger and better than it's being done elsewhere.

For their "week" of observance is actually two weeks, which started last Monday, and will continue through April 9.

Others are taking one or the other of these weeks according to which seems better for any given locality. But in Marin it seemed that the tremendous local interest in cars fully justified spreading this county's part of the national observance over the longest possible time.

There couldn't be a better year for such a decision, Marin new car men feel. For this year a ferment of forces has created innovations in all categories of automobiles, and full-scale creation of a fresh category which was previously a relatively small group—the realm of the "compacts."

Not only have the new compact automobiles now spurted into a prominent position in public interest by addition of one car from each of the "Big Three" makers to the already existing compacts produced by two independents, but there are two other developments creating interest:

First, a class of "super-compacts" developed this month with display of the new Comet, produced by Ford Motor Co.'s Mercury division as a longer, more luxurious version of the compact Falcon.

Second, sellers of the bigger "standard" cars find stimulation in the public interest stirred by the compacts. They say that people often go and look at the compacts, then decide they need a new car all right but it should be in the class they've had before.

"Anything that stirs interest in cars generally is good for everybody," said one Marin dealer. "Our biggest enemy was the fact that the public was getting too satisfied, taking cars too much for granted and finding in other things the interest cars used to arouse—and now arouse again."

The true compacts, a distinct class smaller than the "standards" yet larger than "economy imports," include the Falcon, General Motors' Corvair, Chrysler's Valiant, added to the two already established compact Rambler of American Motors and Studebaker's Lark.

Also new this year is the Dart added to the Dodge line as a short-wheelbase model yet well over the size thus far accepted as defining the compacts which stop with 110-inch wheelbase, whereas the Dart is 118 inches.

Similarly, the Dart's "economy six" rates 145 horsepower as compared with smaller engines in all the compact "sixes"—80 h.p for Corvair; 90 for both Falcon and Comet, as well as Rambler American and Lark; 101 for Valiant, and 127 for Rambler Six. It is only in optional equipment that the true compacts get up to Dart's power class.

Yet even the smallest of today's standards have engines as potent as those of the biggest and most costly cars of only a decade ago. Virtually every one of the standards has a considerable variety of engine options sometimes including fuel injection instead of carburetors.

While some of these features are mostly of appeal to the male, women's attention is sought by features of comfort, a variety of seat coverings, handsome instruments on the dash and all manner of power controls to put the feminine driver as much in command as any husky trucker.

Even the Mobilgas Economy Run starting tomorrow uses only new 1960 models, and A. C. Pillsbury, chief steward, personally took six of the newest compact entrants—two Falcons, two Corvairs and two Valiants—from factory assembly lines. It's the new cars which are getting the attention everywhere.

Senate Approves More Scholarships

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Senate has approved a bill doubling the number of state merit scholarships and making more flexible the amount of money granted to recipients.

The bill by Sen. Donald L. Grunsky (R-Watsonville) increased the number of awards to 5,210 from 2,560 a year and doubled the maximum number to 16 for each senatorial and Assembly district. It also allowed 3,200 to be awarded at large.

DEMAND'S STILL THERE

Car Makers Continue Foreign Importation

DETROIT (AP) — America's auto manufacturers are going to continue importing European cars in 1960 although they are building their own compact cars in the United States.

Eight foreign makes are imported by the American companies. These are the English Ford and German Taunus by Ford; the English Vauxhall by Pontiac; German Opel by Buick; French Simca by Chrysler; British Metropolitan by American Motors; and Mercedes-Benz and DKW, both of Germany, by Studebaker-Packard.

The English Ford, some models of Simca and the Metropolitan all sell in this country in a price range under the new compact cars. English Ford is third in overall import sales this year while Opel, Simca and Vauxhall all are in the first 10 import sellers.

Buick dealers, who had a relatively poor year in 1959, often turned to pushing Opels and these cars sold as fast as they could be imported.

Strong demand was, in fact, reported in all of these so-called "captive" lines.

As long as this demand continues the American manufacturers probably will continue to import. Since all of the cars are big sellers in their own countries they could lose their American market if necessary and not suffer appreciably.

The connections between these import makes and the American companies vary from wholly-owned subsidiaries to mere sales agreements. The English Ford and the German Taunus are both Ford companies, although not wholly owned by the domestic Ford Motor Co. Vauxhall and Opel are General Motors subsidiaries. Chrysler holds 25 per cent of the Simca stock. The Metropolitan is built for American Motors by British Austin.

Some reports have said Mercedes has not been too pleased with the deal, even though sales have increased in the U.S. The point of complaint is that Mercedes basically is a luxury car while Studebaker's Lark is a compact, economy-style vehicle. These reports are denied in South Bend.

Nine At Dominican Become Members Of Honor Society

Nine Dominican Convent Upper School students whose homes are in Marin County, were admitted into the National Honor Society in ceremonies at the school in San Rafael Sunday.

Honor scrolls from the society's graduate division were presented seniors Catherine Fogarty of Corte Madera, and Mary Cathleen Malley, Mary Teresa Malley and Judy Boss, of San Rafael. All the girls are members of the school's student council.

Undergraduate students admitted to the associate division of the society were Susan Applebaum, Martha Hamilton, Susan Lang, and Carol Lang, all of San Rafael, and Patricia Chapman of Ross.

Qualifications for election by the faculty into the national society are high scholarship, active school and community service, demonstrative leadership and good character, said Sister Thomasine, the society's chapter adviser.

Safety Big Factor In Design Of Cars

DETROIT (AP)—The auto makers' position on traffic safety was stated very simply by one executive when he said: "We want very much to keep our customers alive and driving."

Despite the fact that everybody is in favor of it, safety remains one of the most highly controversial aspects of the automobile business.

How safe are today's cars? Are designers and engineers doing everything possible to make them safer? What can the manufacturers do about the rising toll of death and injury on the nation's streets and highways?

These are questions to which there are no simple answers.

On every side the industry professes extreme concern about safety, Charles A. Chayne, vice president of General Motors in charge of engineering staff, recently wrote: "The first objective of an automobile manufacturer might be said to be to build a car that will move. His second objective is to build one that will move safely. All other objectives are subordinate."

Chayne put the general industry viewpoint this way: "The driver is, of course, by far the most critical element in the whole picture. No matter how easy we may make it for him to drive safely, we cannot make cars 'driverproof' any more than highway engineers can achieve this theoretical objective in the roads they build.

"Traffic accident records indicate clearly that driver errors are responsible for the overwhelming majority of traffic accidents. Even in the small percentage of cases where vehicle malfunctioning is involved, it is almost always traceable to the human error of improper maintenance."

The 1960 model cars carry few if any completely new safety devices. All of the companies say they are constantly refining what they have. More non-glare dashboards are offered. Sealed beam headlights have been improved. Visibility has been increased.

Dr. Andrew A. Kucher, Ford vice president for engineering and research, says, "The design of safety features is constantly being refined as accident experience more accurately pin-points how injuries are inflicted.

"Considerable freedom must be extended to reasearch and design to allow exploration of new solutions to the problem. The danger of formalizing rigid specifications and design criteria while potential improvements are still being evolved is a substantial one."

In this Kucher referred to attempts to pass federal legislation requiring certain safety standards on autos.

Most significant of the recent safety advances has been the use in cars of seat belts, deep-dish steering wheels, safety door locks and padded dashboards.

On many cars some or all of these are optional equipment and the public has made no great effort to buy them. But the safety locks and steering wheel design are almost universal on American cars.

Kucher suggests that any spectacular progress in accident prevention will require at least four evolutionary steps:

1. Extension of human senses by devices that "see" and compute more quickly and accurately than the human driver.
2. Relieving the driver of simple tasks, such as breaking.
3. Extension of automatic control to assure safe spacing between vehicles in traffic.
4. Development of fully automatic operating controls for vehicles, similar to the automatic pilots used in aircraft.

These factors are being tested by all of the auto manufacturers. Eventually they will come, although not this year or next.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Civil Defense, Patrol Expenses Deductible

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Civil Defense and Civil Air Patrol expenses are deductible by businesses as ordinary and necessary business expenses and are deductible by individuals as contributions to a governmental body.

Peter J. Wikel

Capital expenditures, such as bomb shelters, would have to be depreciated over the life of the structure.

Expense items such as blackout material, firefighting equipment, hand tools, the costs of participating in civil defense exercises, etc., would be deductible in the year of the expenditure.

Businesses would include these costs along with their other costs in determining their profit or loss for the year.

Individuals would have to itemize their deductions in order to claim the deduction.

This would be a contribution to a governmental agency and would be subject to the maximum limitations of contributions.

You cannot claim as contributions more than 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income for contributions to governmental agencies, etc. You can claim up to 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income, provided that at least 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income was contributed to churches, educational institution or tax exempt hospitals.

San Pedro School Fathers Finish Sprinkler Fund Drive

The San Pedro School Dads Club has completed its drive to raise $1,250 as its share in the cost of installation of a sprinkler system on the school recreation field in Loch Lomond.

Secretary Ronald Giambastini said the club has sent out letters to all persons missed in the house-to-house canvass and to those who had not donated.

With the proceeds that come in from these letters added to the amount already raised, the club will meet its goal, he said.

The sprinkler system was one of the projects of the Dads Club. Another has been urging construction of an underpass on San Pedro road in front of the school to eliminate the hazard of traffic to children.

The underpass was opened about the first of this year. Construction was jointly financed by the San Rafael School District, city and county, each paying $5,675.

Reports On Sausalito Zone Ordinance Slated

The Sausalito property owners committee on the proposed zoning ordinance will hold a public meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the IDESST hall on Caledonia street to hear reports on the ordinance.

Subcommittees have been investigating various aspects of the ordinance, according to chairman Alan E. Scurfield, and will present their findings to date.

April 15 is a day that Volkswagen truck owners greet with less trepidation—and an appreciably greater net after taxes.

A Volkswagen truck usually costs less to begin with; always saves money every mile you drive. An honest 25 miles per gallon is average, or just about twice what you get in standard half-ton trucks. VW delivers 83% more cargo for its size, too: 1830 lbs. instead of the usual 1000.

Other gains are in proportion. VW's air-cooled engine rarely needs oil between changes. Because Volkswagen trucks weigh half as much, there's half the usual tire wear. You also save on service and depreciation. Result: the average operating cost for a Volkswagen truck is 7¢ per mile, against 14¢ for most half-tons.

Next fiscal year why not plan this 50% refund on your transportation dollar? Your VW dealer will show you how. There are 5 different commercial models adaptable to every business—white-collar or wilderness—that needs wheels.

CHEVY! YOU CAN'T BUY ANY CAR FOR LESS ...UNLESS IT'S A LOT LESS CAR!

Anyone who's looked around knows the majority of Chevrolet models—6's and V8's together—list for less than comparable models of other low-priced cars. But the price tag alone is only one of a whole raft of reasons a Chevy does better by your dollars. For in no other low-priced car will you find such priceless advantages as Fisher Body craftsmanship, an X-built Safety-Girder frame, Safety Plate Glass in every window and countless "extras" that don't cost you a penny more!

The price tags on a '60 Chevrolet and the other cars in its class may look somewhat alike. But there—very abruptly—the resemblance ends.

Nothing near Chevy's size and price can match the Full Coil cushioning of its ride, or the fine, finished workmanship of its Body by Fisher. That even applies to some cars that cost a lot more. You're up in the higher price brackets before you find a car that moves as quietly as a Chevrolet or offers the inner space that Chevrolet does.

Or look at the extras Chevy gives you—at no extra cost—that others in its class can't offer at any price. Shock-cushioned steering. Safety Plate Glass in every window. Keyless locking of all doors. A full wraparound windshield. Vent windows that crank open and closed. Chevrolet offers the widest choice of power teams, too—seven engines and five transmissions—including shift-free Turboglide, an extra-cost option.

Drop by your dealer's and drive a Chevy—just once. You'll have a tough time settling for anything less.

'Arsenic, Old Lace' To Be Presented

The fictional elderberry wine that has been flavored with poison will come out on the boards once more this weekend and next in Ross.

The Ross Valley Junior Players will present "Arsenic and Old Lace" tonight and tomorrow nights at The Barn at Marin Art and Garden Center, and again next Friday and Saturday nights. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

The murderous maiden aunts will be played by Laurie Willingham and Mira Rice. Their nephews, Mortimer, the fiance of a minister's daughter, and Teddy, under the delusion that he is Theodore Roosevelt, will be supported by a cast of 14 under the direction of George Gray and Cassandra Lista.

The junior players have presented "The Drunkard." "The Yellow Scarf," "Love Rides the Rails," and "Desk Set."

The Marin Club, a group for single persons over 21, will hold a dance April 8 at the Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. Installation of officers will be held.

February Traffic Death Toll Drops

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic accidents killed 2,370 persons in February, the first time in three months that the toll was lower than in the corresponding month a year ago, the National Safety Council said yesterday.

Last month's toll was 50 less than in Februarly, 1959, and was the lowest for any February since 1955 when 2,319 persons were killed. The council said severe weather last month probably held down traffic in many parts of the nation.

Square Dance Club Will Enjoy Party

The Charm 'n Farmers Square Dance Club of San Rafael will have the Westernaires Square Dance Band from San Jose play at its party from 8:30 p.m. to midnight tomorrow at the Davidson School, San Rafael.

Refreshments are being arranged by James and Margerie Yates.

The Pan-American Coffee Bureau expects that Americans will be consuming 41 million bags of green coffee a year by 1980, twice as much as they do now.

Road Tests Developing Design For Highways

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—The design for tomorrow's highways is being worked out to the drone of a convoy of trucks driving up and down an eight-mile test road near here.

The 70 trucks, ranging from pickups to semi-trailers and carrying various loads, have traveled nearly four million miles since November of 1958. The 22-million-dollar research project will continue another year.

Findings of the project are expected to have a big influence on future highway design and to provide information for studies in highway user taxation.

Also, they will be used by the Bureau of Public Roads in determining the maximum weights and dimensions of vehicles to be operated on the federal highway system, including the interstate system.

The project, sponsored by the American Assn. of State Highway Officials, is administered and directed by the Highway Research Board of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, a private non-profit organization.

Costs are being shared by all the states, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Bureau of Public Roads, the Automobile Manufacturers Assn., the American Petroleum Institute and the American Institute of Steel Construction.

The test road is built in 836 separate sections, with asphalt thicknesses ranging from a surface treatment up to 31 inches, and rigid pavement ranging from 2½ inches up to 12½ inches on 9 inches of subbase.

There are sixteen 50-foot test bridges — eight with steel beams, four with reinforced concrete beams and four with prestressed concerte beams.

One section of pavement stands relatively idle. It is being used to determine the effects of weather alone on highway pavements.

A million dollars worth of instruments and equipment collects and analyzes data on the behavior of the test pavements.

Some 7,000 small electrical devices are installed on, in, and under the pavements to measure strains, deflections, pressures ,temperatures and frost depths.

Walter B. McKendrick Jr., former chief engineer of the Delaware Highway Department, is in charge of the project. Trucks are driven on their monotonous, 18-hour day, six days a week grind by men of of the Army Transportation Corps from Ft. Eustis, Va.

Final findings of the project will be published in 1961.

Lemon.

This Volkswagen missed the boat.

The chrome strip on the glove compartment is blemished and must be replaced. Chances are you wouldn't have noticed it; Inspector Kurt Kroner did.

There are 3,389 men at our Wolfsburg factory with only one job: to inspect Volkswagens at each stage of production. (3,000 Volkswagens are produced daily; there are more inspectors than cars.)

Every shock absorber is tested (spot checking won't do), every windshield is scanned. VWs have been rejected for surface scratches barely visible to the eye.

Final inspection is really something! VW inspectors run each car off the line onto the Funktionsprufstand (car test stand), tote up 189 check points, gun ahead to the automatic brake stand, and say "no" to one VW out of fifty.

This preoccupation with detail means the VW lasts longer and requires less maintenance, by and large, than other cars. (It also means a used VW depreciates less than any other car.)

We pluck the lemons; you get the plums.

THE NEW DKW-750

FRONT WHEEL DRIVE FOR TERRIFIC TRACTION, INBOARD MOUNTED FINNED BRAKES FOR REMARKABLE ROAD HOLDING AND SAFER STOPPING, THREE CYLINDERS FOR EXTRA ECONOMY. ONLY $1709.

Why Terrific Traction? Front wheel drive pulls the car effortlessly along rather than pushing it. The DKW's ability to travel over mud, sand, ice or snow is absolutely dramatic.

What in the World are Inboard Brakes? The front brakes are positioned on the axle each side of the transmission to improve roadholding. The brakes feature immense finned drums so they won't fade.

How Can It Run on Three Cylinders? Why not? It runs with smooth perfection and tops 70 mph. Think of the gas you save! Has only seven basic moving engine parts, fewer repairs, less maintenance, less expense.

Anything Else? Yes, indeed! Large trunk, flat floors (no drive shaft), exceptionally comfortable seats, heater, defroster, turn signals. Most important . . . the quality of careful craftsmanship throughout.

Convalescent Hospital Schedules Open House

The new $250,000 Hillhaven Convalescent Hospital on San Rafael's Miracle Mile will hold an "Open House Preview" from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday for the public.

Hillhaven is a 55-bed, nonsectarian medical facility designed specifically for the care of chronically ill and convalescing men and women. It is the newest of 17 nursing homes and convalescent hospitals under the management of Hillhaven, Inc., a Tacoma, Wash. corporation, and all in western states.

The red brick, one-level building is located at 233 West End avenue. Designed so that a patient in a wheelchair can get anywhere in the building, Hillhaven has no stairs or ramps, extra wide doors, and "drive-in" showers. The latter accommodate patients in special chrome and canvas wheelchairs rolled right into the showers.

A lounge for patients and their guests is equipped with television and opens on landscaped grounds and a patio. Some of the bedrooms also open on the patio, permitting the patient to be wheeled outdoors in chair or bed.

There are private, semi-private and multiple-bed accommodations. Beds may be raised and lowered from hospital height to standard height. Each bed has a call button to summon assistance.

Food is prepared in a modern kitchen, following doctors' orders for special diets. A modern, automatic laundry on the premises provides a constant supply of fresh, clean linen and towels.

Throughout the building, a home-like, relaxing atmosphere is stressed.

Miss Helen Glea Riggs of 55 Crooked avenue, San Anselmo, heads Hillhaven's 35-member staff. She is a graduate of San Francisco State College, and formerly was a nurse at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco, Morrison Rehabilitation Clinic in San Francisco, and Marin General Hospital.

The building was designed by E. L. Mills and Associates of Tacoma, Wash., and is leased from the contractor, Arthur Nicolaisen Construction Co.

Scout Council Sets Leader Roundtable

The Miwok District of the Marin Boy Scout Council will hold a Boy Scout leader roundtable next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the council office in San Rafael.

Commissioner Vic Myers announces that the coming "Survival Camporee" will be the topic discussed. Scoutmasters and senior patrol leaders will attend to plan the event under leadership of camping chairman E. Bruce Barron. Joseph Alumbaugh is chairman of the roundtable.

A Cub Scout leader roundtable will be held at the same time and place, with the principal topic being the "Scout-O-Rama." Chairman of this roundtable is Don Woods.

Corte Madera Artist's Paintings On Display

Ten paintings by Mathilde Snyder of Corte Madera, including three abstractions and seven figures, are on exhibit at Tia's restaurant in Corte Madera.

A self-taught painter, Mrs. Snyder is a member of the Marin Society of Artists. The exhibit, first public showing of her works, will continue through April.

Drunk Driver Gets 30 Days In Jail

A Novato motorist must pay a $250 fine and spend 30 days in county jail for his fourth drunken driving offense in four years.

Leonard Amuel Trimuar, 25, of 1256 Cambridge street, Novato, was sentenced by Judge Leonard A. Thomas in Marin Municipal Court. Trimuar's driver's license was suspended for six months.

He was arrested on New Year's Day on Highway 101. His previous convictions, all in Marin County, were in February, 1957; April, 1958, and August, 1959.

Four other drunken drivers were sentenced for their first offenses.

Mrs. Marge Jewell Gilmartin, 51, of 1309 Monte Maria, Novato, drew nine months probation and a $150 fine. She was arrested on Highway 101 near Ignacio on March 4.

Joseph Anthony Shedore, 47, of 997 Second street, Novato, also drew nine months probation and $150 fine. He was arrested on South Novato boulevard on March 13.

Leroy A. Ferris, 21, San Francisco, and Michael Henry McFane, 47, Oakland, each drew six months probation and $150 fines. Police arrested Ferris on Greenfield avenue in San Anselmo Monday. McFane was picked up on Highway 101 Sunday. McFane had a prior conviction in Oakland in 1942, but this was stricken from the record.

Congress Approves Bill To Lower Cabaret Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has sent to President Eisenhower a bill to cut the night club and cabaret tax from 20 to 10 per cent.

There was no debate and the measure was approved by the Senate in a voice vote. The House had previously passed it.

Sales Of Car Tires Reach Record High

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Car owners bought a record number of tires in 1959 for the third straight year. And the tire industry confidently predicts another record sale in 1960.

The 1959 figure is about 66 million replacement tires — new tires bought to replace those already on a car. In 1958 the figure was 61,570,000 and in 1957 it was 56,605,000.

The market for retread tires also is booming to record highs. It jumped from 29 million in 1958 to 31 million in 1959 and is forecast at 33 million or more in 1960.

A study by Alfred Politz Research, Inc., for the 12 months through May, 1959, showed that almost half of the car owners bought one or more tires during that period.

One industry executive says whitewall tires now make up about 40 per cent of all auto replacement sales and should increase by another 10 to 12 per cent in 1960. A rise of some 15 per cent in the demand for special mud and snow tires also has been forecast for the coming year.

Sausalito Players Give Amusing Performance

By DOROTHY SLATTERY

The production brought together a cast primed with enthusiasm, vitality and fun; a director who infused a glib tempo keeping the slapstick comedy on its feet and a costume designed who in the tradition of David Beslasco stole the show.

The colorful background is appropriate as the curtin goes up on a bright French spa during the late nineteenth century. The plot builds around two wealthy marriageable girls, three thieves who change disguises with great speed, a titled Englishman, an adventuring English lady and two pompous bankers trying to seek a fortune by way of the marriage contract.

Peggy Evans in the role of a bored yet compassionate Lady Hurf gave a stirring performance and her voice control and ability to pause just at the right moment proved her to be a master of comedy technique.

Contrasting Miss Evans controlled performance, Stan Alsop as Peterbono, leader of the thieves, broke up the house with his "Chestnuts" routine in the first act but later began overstraining his voice and facial muscles—faults that are very noticeable in a small theater.

Don Michaelian and Lou Mason as senior and junior Dupont-Dufort respectively were constantly amusing and Mason's impression of an American gunslinger in the beginning of the third act was one of the show's bright spots.

Hector, a quick change artist with a larcenous soul, was played by Walter Mahoney as though both Hector and the actor had a sense of humor. Mary Anne Hill bubbled over as Eva and David Sell was a properly intense Gustave.

"Thieves Carnival" is a carnival of fun, both for the actors who obviously enjoy doing it and the audience that views it.

The performance will be repeated every Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. through April 23.

Liquor To Minor Hearing Postponed

A hearing on charges that the Black Point Inn sold liquor to a minor has been continued indefinitely, the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control board announced today.

Charges were brought by the state agency against Giles L., Virginia E. and Paul L. Franklin, listed as owners of the tavern at 10 Grand avenue, Novato.

It was first announced that the hearing would be conducted in San Rafael April 13. The date was changed to April 31, and now is on a continued basis.

Advance Census Report Forms Still Available

Additional copies of the advance census report form for the 1960 census are available at the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, 801 B street.

The form is to be filled out in advance and given to the census taker when he calls.

'The Drunkard' Scheduled For April 22, 23

The Terra Linda Little Theater will present "A Night On The Old Barbary Coast," featuring the play about intemperance, "The Drunkard," at 8:30 p.m. April 22 and 23 at the Non-commissioned Officers' Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The program also will include a community sing, vaudeville, a barbershop quartet and gay nineties can-can dancers.

The production will be done in cabaret style, with the audience seated at individual tables. Refreshments will be served during the show. Only persons 21 or over will be admitted.

Marin Builders Group Sets Dinner, Election

The Marin Builders Exchange will hold its annual dinner and elect officers April 29 in San Rafael. Previously it was announced the dinner would be April 22, but a conflict in meeting dates resulted in postponement.

Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. at the Wye Club, followed by the election and dancing.

$1 MILLION A YEAR

Car Makers Spending Fortune Battling Smog

DETROIT (AP)—The automobile industry has spent about one million dollars a year for the past six years in an effort to beat the problem of auto fumes.

Several workable solutions are in the not too distant future.

Certain people, especially air pollution authorities in Southern California, don't think the auto industry has been trying hard enough. They belittle the million dollar expenditure.

Harry A. Williams, managing director of the Automobile Manufacturers Assn., which coordinates the research projects, says: "Although we've grown used to glib talk of government billions, a million dollars a year spent on one problem by one industry is still a substantial outlay."

Some Detroit research scientists prviately express doubt that auto exhaust is as prominent a factor in smog as the Californians believe.

The AMA researchers told the California Assembly in the spring of 1959 that another year should bring a workable unit that would reduce by about 70 per cent the unburned hydrocarbons in auto exhaust.

Three different types of units have been developed. One is a low temperature catalytic converter. This unit runs the auto exhaust through a catalyst at relatively low temperatures and converts the hydrocarbon to other forms of gases.

Another unit is a high temperature catalytic converter. This also works on carbon monoxide fumes present in the exhaust.

The third and possibly most efficient unit is a flame after burner. This works by adding air to the exhaust by means of an auxiliary pump and heating the mixture in a heat exchanger to a temperature at which rapid and complete combustion can occur.

So far this is the most expensive. However, in the catalytic converters the catalysts must be replaced while the after burner can be designed to last the life of a normal car.

The industry committee feels that its job is to come up with a unit that will work at a price that is within reason.

State Won't Need So Much Red Ink After Fund Switch

The 40 million dollars owed from the state's general fund to the water fund was paid back.

The general fund, which finances day to day operations, still owes the architecture revolving fund 48 million, but this also will be paid back within the next two months, said Controller Alan Cranston.

The involved bookkeeping became necessary earlier in the year because state income tax collections and other revenues to the general fund don't come in fast enough to keep up with the bills. The revenue pace steps up briskly at this time of year, however, as the tax deadline approaches.

Thief Steals Liquor, Cash In Forest Knolls

A thief broke into Roma's Market in Forest Knolls sometime Wednesday night and stole about $25 in change and five bottles of whiskey.

Owner Sterling Whitt, who discovered the theft yesterday, said nothing else seemed to be disturbed. A rear window of the store had been smashed for entry.

Jewish Unit Sets Program For Holidays

The program will begin on April 11, with a party in celebration of the Jewish Passover holiday. Children will participate in a scavenger hunt featuring all of the symbols used in the traditional Passover meal and will also have an opportunity to cook and to sample various holiday dishes.

On April 14, the Marin Center will be host to a group of children from the Peninsula Jewish Community Center for a special showing of "Hansel and Gretel" by the San Francisco Marionette Theater.

A trip to the San Francisco Zoo in a chartered bus is scheduled for April 15.

The holiday program is open to center members and will operate from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each of the three days.

Total Of Prisoners Hits Record High

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's prison population topped the 20,000 mark for the first time yesterday.

The actual count reported by the Department of Corrections was 20,036. This figure includes 849 women prisoners, also the highest number in history.

Corrections Director Richard A. McGee said a setup in the state's conservation camp program has aided in absorbing the increase in prison population.

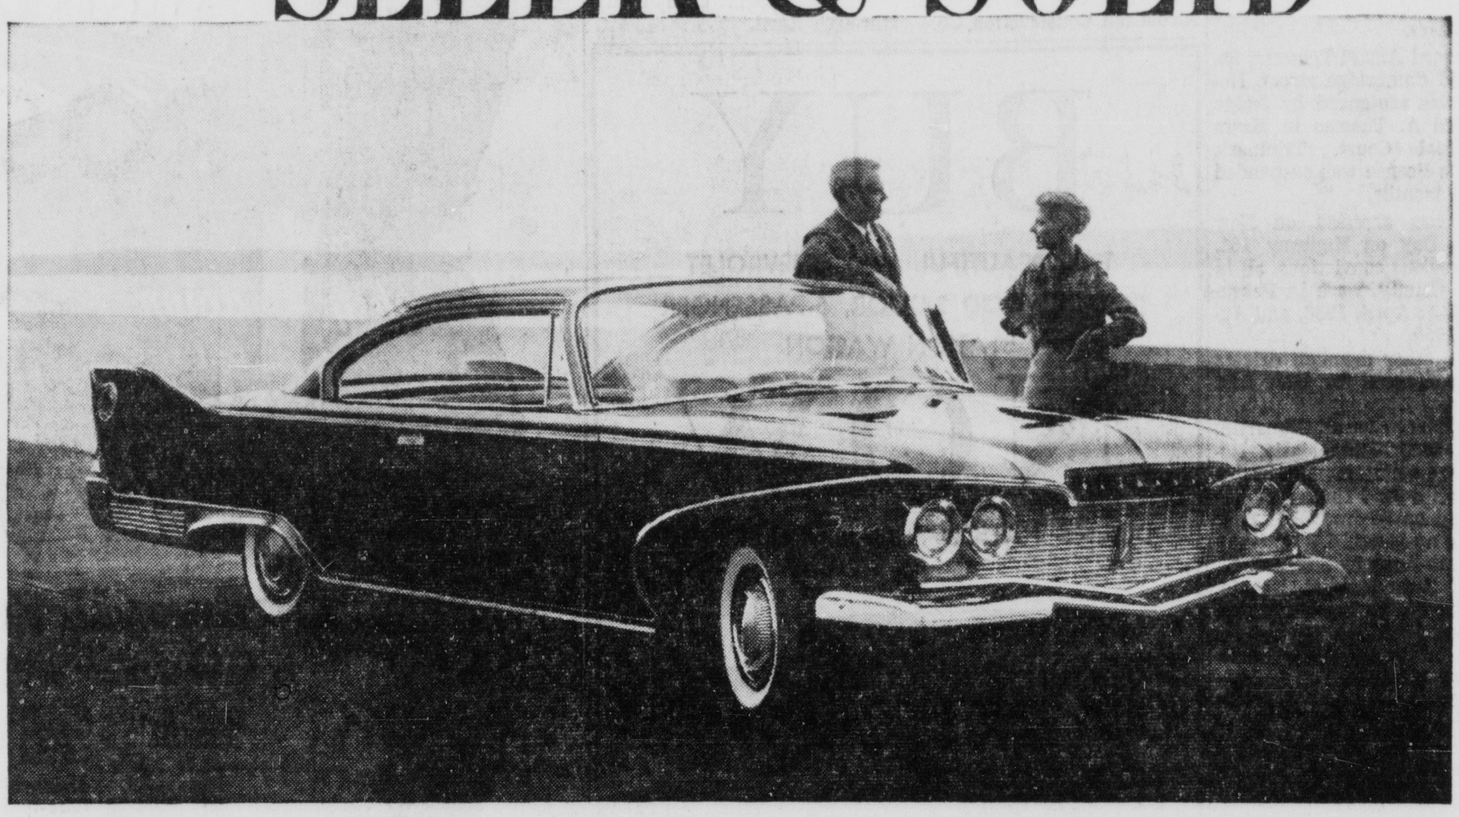
SLEEK & SOLID



Sleek describes what meets the eye. Solid covers the hidden virtues. For sure, you want the beauty. For sure, you want the brawn. Add the Fury V-8 power plant and you get the best of all in the sleek, Solid 1960 Plymouth.

Sleek means several things about the 1960 Plymouth. Neat, trim lines. Styling that says "no wasted metal, no wasted motion." The sure way this car daggers through the wind.

Solid fits, too. It means the strength and durability built into Plymouth's one-piece welded Unibody. It means the steady stance of Torsion-Aire Ride. It means the surging V-8 power up front.

This just might be your car. Best way to find out is to see your Plymouth dealer. This week's a good time. He'll supply the sleek, Solid Plymouth for your once-over. You can supply the rest of the words.

One-Tenth Of Planned Roads Already Built

In the past two years the United States has completed 4,050 miles of new roads as part of its long-range plan to build 41,000 miles if inter-state highways.

The cost to the taxpayers was $1,348,000,000 with the federal government providing $1,085,000,000 of the total.

In addition, 5,229 miles of highways are either under actual construction or contract and will cost $3,275,000,000.

FUNDS OBLIGATED

Funds have been obligated for construction of another 8,271 miles of the highways at a cost of $6,459,000,000.

Under the 1956 Federal-Aid Highway Program the federal government puts up 90 per cent of the cost of roads designated as essential to national defense, while the states put up 10 per cent.

The program is not to be confused with the regular highway program in which the federal government puts up 50 per cent of the necessary funds and the states put up 50 per cent.

PRESENT-DAY NEED

A report to Congress by the Bureau of Public Roads noted that "while the goal for the system is its ultimate adequacy for the traffic forecast for 1975, the pressing need is to cope with present-day traffic."

"The objective," the report continued, "has been to complete as much mileage as possible adequate for current needs and to defer improvement to 1975 standards. . . ."

Film On Nature Will Be Shown

"The Great Adventure," a film on nature, will be shown at 10 a.m., April 14, at the Marion School, Novato, by members of the Novato Overseas Relief Depot.

The film, to be shown free for children, will be over by 11:30 a.m. Admission will be an article of clothing in good condition. It will be used by the relief depot in its work with the American Friends Service Committee in responding to the needs of refugees in Algeria.

The film begins with a spring day on a Swedish farm. It has won a number of awards.

Any other contributions to the refugees may be made to the Friends committee, relief depot, 766 Kendon lane, Novato.

Production Of Small Cars Running Right On Schedule

This means they were built to the normal Detroit lead time of some 2½ to three years and are not the result of crash programs.

The average time from drawing board to assembly line in Detroit runs the best part of three years due to the many technical problems that must be solved before an automobile is ready for mass production.

In early 1957 General Motors, Ford and Chrysler decided the time had come to build smaller economy cars. They envisioned machines with a lower initial cost and good gas mileage, bigger than the small imports but smaller than standard Fords, Chevrolets or Plymouths.

"We wanted new cars," says one Chrysler official, "not just a little Plymouth." And the same attitude was shared by the other two big makers.

Even when Detroit starts to work in earnest on a new car, signals can be changed. It has happened before. One small General Motors' car which was designed for American buyers was scrapped for the domestic market but turned up in Australia as GM's Holden.

Ford has a similar experience and converted its model to the Vedette of Ford of France. Chrysler built several prototypes of a small car in 1949 before junking its program.

The Big Three like to pride themselves on keeping ever alert to the market trends and constantly dabble in research projects. Usually such experimental projects can be converted to production if market surveys indicate the time is ripe.

Chrysler, Ford and General Motors many times indicated they would give serious consideration to building smaller, domestic cars if the market for the small imports reached 500,000 units annually.

This figure will be beaten for the first time this year and Detroit has its smaller cars ready.

Positions not listed above will be allocated in accordance with the definitions which appear in the contract special provisions, as interpreted in the light of this classification.

Any classifications omitted herein shall be paid not less than the minimum basic rate per hour shown below plus employer payments set forth in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the class or classification of the workman or mechanic involved, as defined in Section 1773.1 of the Labor Code.

SKILLED LABOR....$3.29, INTERMEDIATE LABOR....$2.865
UNSKILLED LABOR....$2.865

Employer payments other than those itemized above, as defined in Section 1773.1 of the Labor Code, are to be paid in accordance with the terms of the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the type or classification of the workmen or mechanics employed on the project.

Overtime, Sundays and Holidays—not less than one and one-half (1½) times the basic hourly rate plus applicable employer payments. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification or type of workman employed on the project.

Copies of all collective bargaining agreements relating to the work as set forth in the aforementioned Labor Code are on file and available for inspection in the office of the Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Labor Statistics and Research.

Attention is directed to Section 7-1.01G of the Standard Specifications providing for employment of apprentices on the work. Every such apprentice shall be paid the standard wage paid to apprentices under the regulations of the trade at which he is employed. Information relative to employment of apprentices shall be obtained from the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations, who is the Administrative Officer of the California Apprenticeship Council.

Plans, specifications, and proposal forms to be used for bidding on this project can only be obtained at the office of the State Highway Engineer, Public Works Building, Sacramento, California.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the State Highway Engineer at Sacramento, at the offices of the District Engineers at Los Angeles and San Francisco, and at the office of the District Engineer of the district in which the work is situated.

No bid will be considered unless it is made on a blank form furnished by the State Highway Engineer and is made in accordance with the provisions of the Standard Specifications and special provisions. Each bidder must be licensed and also prequalified as required by law.

4-Dr. Hardtop $1895

A model 75. The most expensive Buick built in 1957. This is really luxury. Every conceivable power feature—steering, brakes, windows and 6-way seat. Original silver mist paint hasn't a scratch on it. The interior is absolutely like the one on our showroom floor. We took it in from original owner, who will pick up new Buick when he returns from world cruise.

4-Dr. Hardtop $1795

A standard Roadmaster 4-Dr. Hardtop in arctic white and red. Beautiful black and white interior like new. Full power-steering, brakes, windows and 6-way seat. Just over 30,000 miles put on by local family. We're the the only one who has ever serviced this car since the day we sold it new in 1957.

'POSSUM, CATS ARE BUDDIES; DOG ALOOF

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (UPI)—Farmer Paul Thatcher said today an opossum began taking his meals with the Thatcher cats last winter when heavy snows drove the 'possum from his natural habitat.

When spring arrived the 'possum remained but the cats didn't mind. In fact the only objector, Thatcher said, is his dog, Bandit, who eats alone.

Lawsuit Filed On Alleged Land Option

A Belvedere attorney, who says he has an agreement to buy almost 1,000 acres of Dr. M. R. Ottinger's land near Inverness for $350,000, has gone to court complaining the doctor refuses to honor the agreement.

Benjamin P. Bonelli of 21 Cove road, Belvedere, filed suit to force Dr. Ottinger to live up to an agreement to sell which he alleged was signed last December. San Anselmo attorney Lawrence E. Wright is representing Bonelli.

According to the complaint, Dr. Ottinger owns 979 acres of what is called Upper Muddy Hollow ranch near Inverness.

A written agreement made on Dec. 12, 1959, gave him a 90-day option to buy, Bonelli alleges. On March 3 this year, Bonelli says, he tried to exercise the option and tendered the entire purchase price, but Dr. Ottinger refused to sell.

Bonelli asks for a court order to compel Dr. Ottinger to convey the property to him.

Sausalito Little Theater Sets Tryouts For Play

Tryouts will be held at 2:30 p.m., Sunday at the Sausalito Little Theater for "East of the Rockies," in the theater's summer melodrama program.

Words and music for the lyric Western drama are by Jahn Sutton, with embellishments to the original drama by Lou Mason.

3 Killed In New Africa Mob Battle

DURBAN, South Africa (UPI)—White police shot three Africans dead and wounded at least three others in the commercial heart of Durban today in the worst incident here to date of the current radical violence.

Three wounded Negroes, including one woman, were taken to a hospital with gunshot wounds.

The incident came when a crowd of several thousand Negroes from Durban's squalid Cato Manor slub converged on the city center in several columns, brandishing sticks, hatchets and sharpened pieces of wire.

As the crowd stormed through the streets, it dragged other Africans out of shops, off bicycles and off the pavements, forcing them to join the march.

Police backed by armored cars and troops with fixed bayonets called on the crowd to halt when it reached West street—which is the Times Square of Durban.

When the warnings were ignored, the police fired into the air. Then shots were fired in the crowd of Africans.

Eyewitnesses said six Africans fell to the ground, three of them apparently dead.

After the firing, the mob scattered, the Africans were dispersed in the side streets.

In Johannesburg, meanwhile, the government mobilized four reserve regiments and some units of the civilian home guard in apparent anticipation of new racial violence.

The police reported "everything under control" early today after a night of sporadic clashes which killed at least one person and wounded seven. The situation remained explosive.

U.S. Census Starts; 110 Work In Marin

It takes only about five minutes to have your nose counted.

The national census started today, and in Marin 110 enumerators started the door-to-door canvass that is expected to wind up in about two weeks.

Among the first persons in the nation to be counted were members of the first family. Census director Robert H. Burgess and district census supervisor Louis J. Alexis collected information from President Eisenhower in about five minutes.

The Eisenhowers had prepared their census report in advance, jotting down the information on a questionnaire delivered within the past week by mail carriers.

Mrs. J. Lee Chaille of 1421 Butterfield road, Sleepy Hollow, head of the census for the San Rafael area, said there are seven such areas in Marin. Mrs. Chaille said an enumerator is supposed to cover not more than 500 homes.

"Each Monday and Thursday, each of the seven area leaders will report figures to headquarters in Santa Rosa," she said. "We are not allowed to give out

3rd Democrat Enters Race For Assembly

Another Democrat entered the race for Assembly in the Marin-Sonoma District yesterday afternoon making three Democrats and two Republicans seeking the seat being vacated by Richard H. McCollister. Deadline for filing is 5 p.m. today.

Everett A. Matzen, 42, a native of Petaluma who for two years lived in San Rafael, changed his mind yesterday afternoon and took out nomination papers. Last Sunday, after the California Democratic Council convention, he announced he would not file because he failed to get the council's endorsement.

After "evaluating the situation," however, and "receiving increased support and encouragement to run without the endorsement," he decided to file.

"I wasn't satisfied with the way the CDC endorsing convention was conducted," Matzen declared today. "It is not the American principle for the few to make the selection for the many. The people should decide for themselves who their candidate should be."

Major support for Matzen came from Sonoma County labor organizations. At a noon

U.S. Supports U.N. Resolution On S. Africa

But British Veto Of Call To Halt Segregation Hinted

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States today threw its support behind a resolution to have the U.N. Security Council call for an end of South African racial segregation policies.

But reports circulated that Britain would kill the proposal with a veto.

EMERGENCY SESSION

A veto would most certainly mean an emergency meeting of the 82-nation General Assembly to take up the situation which has erupted into violence almost daily for more than a week.

U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge led off this morning's meeting of the council with a declaration that events such as the racial strife in South Africa might be more dangerous to peace than some international disputes.

He appealed to the South African government to reconsider its racial policies in the interest of peace, as well as the interest of justice.

'NOT TOO LATE'

"It is not too late to reverse the tide in South Africa," he asserted.

Lodge spoke as some council members said they had been informed by Britain that the resolution, sponsored by Ecuador, would be vetoed.

The South African government has challenged the right to the U.N. to intervene. Its delegate, Bernardus Gerhardus Fourie, who pulled out of the council debate Wednesday after a similar protest against discussion of racial killings near Johannesburg and Capetown, accused the United Nations today of adopting a "double standard" toward such disturbances.
to the local disturbances which have taken place in South Africa in a serious light."

Ecuador sponsored the resolution before the council after the 29-nation Asian-African bloc demanded the U.N. consider the situation stemming from the slaying of 72 Negro anti-pass demonstrators by South African police March 21.

Detained African Leader Released

A Nyasaland government spokesman said the state of emergency imposed last year in the wake of riots by Nationalists protesting the federation of Nyasaland with the Rhodesias still existed. Banda and 150 other Africans were arrested on March 3, 1959.

270-Pound 'Tiros' Sends Back Reports

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States put up a weather eye satellite today to photograph the earth's cloud cover and quickly started getting back results described as "something good."

The 270-pound robot weather man was boosted into orbit from this missile testing station at 6:40 a.m.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington promptly reported the flight itself was successful.

Then shortly after noon Dr. Harry Wexler, chief scientist for the U. S. Weather Bureau, said signals coming back were "enough to let us know that there is something good there."

Radio orders had been sent out for the new satellite to take pictures of the earth's cloud cover as it swung overhead, and to transmit them back.

ITS ORBIT

Dr. Abe Silverstein, director of space flight projects for the space administration said the satellite had achieved an orbit fairly close to the one originally planned for it, which would be a circle of about 380 miles from the earth.

Silverstein added that the satellite was injected into its orbit at an agle within three one-thousandths of a degree of that planned for it.

The space agency said the orbit actually achieved would take the satellite 435½ miles from the earth at its nearest point and 468.28 miles at its farthest point.

The agency said all the experiments were "currently working and we expect to obtain data from it."

NAMED TIROS

The new satellite was officially named Tiros I.

It carried cameras designed to photograph the earth's cloud cover and relay them back, providing data which scientists hope will help in forecasts of such greater weather phenomena as hurricanes.

Scientists emphasized that the first effort is experimental, mainly to help work out techniques for truly operation launchings later.

The satellite is a package shaped like an oversize hatbox, 42 inches in diameter and 19 inches high. It bears solar cells to replenish its batteries, and radio antenna to receive orders for taking pictures and transmitting them back to earth.

'THAT'S THE VICE PRINCIPAL'—San Rafael High School students point to ill-stuffed dummy in garbage can after it was cut down from tree on the campus this morning. The effigy bore markings identifying it as Vice Principal Alfred N. Thomson. Students blamed refusal to permit "senior cut day" for the hanging, but Principal Ralph H. Phelps doubted that explanation. (Independent-Journal photo)

FOR 'CUT DAY' BAN?

Pupils Hang Effigy Of High School Official

A group of San Rafael High School students hanged Vice Principal Alfred N. Thomson in effigy from a tree on the school campus early today—apparently in protest at school authorities' refusal to allow a senior "cut day" this year.

Principal Ralph H. Phelps was skeptical at this explanation of the "hanging." He said San Rafael High has had no "cut day"—a sort of picnic and recreational day away from classes for the seniors—for at least four years. But some seniors had been planning one this year without authorization, and were told yesterday that it would not be permitted, Phelps said.

The principal said he had reports the effigy-hanging was planned before yesterday's announcement about cut-day, so must have been in annoyance over some other matter.

Students responsible for the "hanging" were "feeling pretty bad about it" later in the day and one of them informed a teacher that an apology was being prepared, Phelps reported.

The effigy was found hanging from a tree near the school cafeteria early today, and was

Some Guys Are Just Tailor-Made Targets

By DONALD GULL DAVIS

It hasn't been a good day. Not good at all. First thing, when I stumbled in to breakfast the wife said the city editor had telephoned and wanted me to go cover a big story.

I bolted out the door, not knowing where I was going, and she said, "April Fool!" I felt like one. Then I put a big spoon of sugar in my coffee, only it was salt, and the boys said, "April Fool!" I felt like one.

Then I got to work, and the city editor smiled and I brightened. It was going to be an all-right day. Then he snarled, "April Fool!" I felt like one.

Then the wire editor, who always snitches my cigarettes, came over and gave me a pack. I thanked him profusely.

But the package was just a clever paste-up job. It was a pack of sawdust. "April Fool!" I felt like one.

The telephone rang and it was the president of the Marin Pyramid of Peapickers and he said he certainly had enjoyed my little write-up about their election. And before I detected his sarcasm he said I spelled his name wrong. And I felt like a . .

By this afternoon even had I been an eye witness to a catastrophe I wouldn't have believed it.

Later the boss came by and said it had been a rough day and that he would like to buy me a snort. I knew he was fooling—but I felt like one.

RED TAG DAYS STORES OPEN TILL 9 TONIGHT

Red Tag Days—San Rafael citywide sale—will go into "overtime" tonight as stores remain open until 9 o'clock.

The late Friday opening hours will prevail in Corte Madera Center and Novato, as usual, as well as at some San Anselmo stores.

San Rafael merchants reported throngs of shoppers grabbing up Red Tag bargains yesterday and this morning, but all said sale tables were being replenished to provide wide variety for those who want to get their bargains tonight.

San Rafael Fire Station Plans Pass

Over-all cost of the station will be about $119,000, including $48,000 for construction, $33,000 for a fire truck, $22,000 for salaries, and other costs such as extending fire alarm communications.

The fire commissioners recommended that the garage area be of tilt-up concrete, the rest frame and stucco. Target date for opening the new station is January of next year.

Because of the new station, the fire department's budget for the coming fiscal year may show an increase of about $125,000 over last year's $250,000, City Manager Dan E. Andersen estimated.

Korean Sailor Charts Marin College Course

A Korean sailor will chart a course of study at the College of Marin in Kentfield starting Monday.

Kim Ik Su, 25, who arrived by plane yesterday from Seoul, may have a full and steady breeze behind him for this part of his career; it's been rough sailing so far. He will finish out this part of the semester and start a full-year course next fall.

Kim is a second class petty officer in the Korean Navy. He has served for more than four years. He was just a teen-ager when war ravaged his country. His family was split, and his father, a doctor, disappeared and never was heard of again. His mother lives with brothers and sisters in Seoul, Korea's capital city.

In Marin he will live with Harry Mack, executive director of the American Cancer Society, Marin County branch, at Mack's home at 121 Humboldt avenue, San Anselmo.

Mack met Kim through the American-Korean Foundation, when Kim was studying electronics with the U.S. Navy at Treasure Island.

"It's so easy to get someone else to do things for you," Mack said, "but I've been interested in other countries and peoples and doing something for them. Kim wanted to go to school here and I decided to try to help him."

About five years ago Mrs. Carter Collins of Berkeley, chairman of the American-Korean Military Study Program, said she would find sponsors for 75 Korean servicemen who wanted to study in the United States.

Finding sponsors was not easy and there were bales of red tape to cut through. The U.S. and Korean governments had to approve, colleges had to approve, all sorts of officials had to approve . . .

Finally, when the 75 eligibles were all approved, years had passed and many of them no longer were interested. Mack asked Mrs. Collins to fit Kim into one of the vacancies.

Again there were bales of red tape. Kim wanted to attend College of Marin, a logical choice with Mack living in San Anselmo as his sponsor. The college said it had a policy of not admitting foreign students. The board of trustees overruled this stand. Then came months of work in getting approval from various governmental agencies on both sides of the Pacific.

But finally Kim, a slightly-built, soft-spoken, wiry and smiling young man, made it.

Next week he will pursue further study of electronics, and during the summer he will study too—on his own.

Students To Be In Model U.N. Meet

Dominican College of San Rafael will represent China at the Model United Nations to be held at the University of California at Berkeley next Wednesday through Saturday.

Two of the delegates, Catherine Silcock and Barney Roddy, are students at Dominican and live in San Rafael.

The model U.N. was started about 10 years ago by college students meeting at Stanford University. It has become an active student conference in support of the United Nations.

Plastering To Be Topic On Radio

"Getting Plastered" will be the subject of tomorrow's "Construction News" on KTIM, says program producer E. Douglas Roberts, manager of the Marin Builders' Exchange.

"Your house, not you," he hastened to add. The 12:30 p.m. broadcast will feature an interview with Edwin R. Richmond of Northbay Plastering Co., who is president of the Northbay Plastering Institute, secretary of Marin County Plastering Contractors Assn. and a member of the board of directors of the Builders' Exchange.

Novato, County Officials Hold Discussion Of N. Marin Plan

Mrs. Mary Summers, Marin County planning director, took Novato city officials on a "guided tour" of the North Marin master plan last night.

In passing, she probably landed a job for herself and her staff.

Before adjourning the meeting, Mayor Wayne Womack instructed City Clerk Robert O. Bailey to investigate the cost of hiring the Marin County planning staff to serve the City of Novato for the fiscal year 1960-61.

The basic theme of her talk to city councilmen and planning commissioners was: "Don't plan for only the area you incorporated. Plan for the area you should have and eventually will incorporate."

By this she meant the broad North Marin area from Black Point to the Marin County airport, which is included in the master plan she and her staff have been developing since 1953.

"I urge you to remember—when planning for your subdivisions, recreation areas, industrial sites, roads, schools and shopping centers—that someday you will be a city of 100,000 people," she said.

Surrounded by enlarged maps of the area which had been prepared by her staff, she detailed the current status and future needs of the city in almost every field of its potential growth.

"The whole effort is useless if you figure out your general plan needs, have them printed and then put the whole thing in a drawer to gather dust," she said.

It was apparent that the city officials were definitely interested in employing the services of the county planning staff. Their interest sharpened noticeably when Mrs. Summers—who was "Mary" to the officials and audience before the evening was over—announced that her personal consultation fee was a modest $3.50 an hour.

In recent weeks the city has listened to two other professional planners, Lawrence Livingston Jr. of Sausalito and Herman Ruth of Oakland. Both have offered their services to the city in developing a master plan, Livingston at $25 an hour and Ruth at $17.50.

"Do you think we need a professional planner?" asked Councilman Harvey J. Vicchio.

"If you hired us I would say you do have professional planners," Mrs. Summers answered.

Insisting that she was not "soliciting business," Mrs. Summers said she and her staff are now performing planning staff work for Mill Valley and would consider taking on Novato with approval of the board of supervisors. Services of the planning staff are free to Novato under contract with the county until July 1.

Federal funds would be available to the city whether a private consultant or a county planning staff was employed, she said.

Drunk Driver Draws $150 Fine, Probation

Earl Francis Lawrence, 62, a San Francisco bank employee, must pay $150 fine and remain on six months probation for his first drunken driving offense.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him yesterday for driving while intoxicated on the frontage road north of Richardson Bay Bridge on Feb. 6.

'GO GET HIM, YOURSELF,' THINKS DOG

ROSELLE, N.J. (UPI)—When a bandit entered Frank Mulasz's liquor store and announced a holdup by firing a shot into the floor, Mulasz shouted to his cocker spaniel:

"Go get him!"

The spaniel sat down and the thief escaped with $150.

Retiring Transit Director To Talk

John C. Beckett of Kentfield, retiring director of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, will talk to the League of Women Voters of San Anselmo at its annual luncheon meeting Wednesday at Rubini's, Fairfax.

He will talk on Bay Area problems and their possible governmental solutions. Also on the agenda is the election of officers, presentation of a budget, possible by-law changes and selection of the current-study item for the coming year.

Luncheon tickets may be ordered from Mrs. Mervyn Dowd Jr., 14 Fay drive, Kentfield, and Mrs. Richard Foster, 63 Almenar drive, Greenbrae.

Dominican Pupil First In Area Science Fair

A Dominican Convent eighth grade pupil will receive a first place award tonight for her project in the seventh annual Bay Area Science Fair held in the Academy of Sciences at Golden Gate Park in San Francisco.

Eleven other Marin students also won awards.

Award ceremonies will take place in Morrison Auditorium at the academy.

Selected as grand prize winners in the senior division were Donald Shapero, 17, of Cubberley High, Palo Alto, for a project titled "Precession Magnetometry," and Clare Martin, 17, of El Cerrito High, for a study dealing with "A Theory of Reproduction." Both will be sent with their projects and teachers to compete in the national science fair at Indianapolis May 11-14.

Junior division grand prize winners, who receive special awards of scientific books or equipment, were Warren Anderson, 15, of San Mateo High, for a project on "Polarization Effect of Reflected Light from Metals," and Randy Olson, 12, of Portola Junior High, El Cerrito, for "Skin Resistance; It May Save Your Life."

Other Marin winners:

Eighth grade, Winslow Howard of Maguire School, Mill Valley, second place, physical sciences, "Radiation Through Solids"; Barbara Roth of A. E. Kent School, Kentfield, fourth place, biological sciences, "Taste."

Eleventh grade, Baxter Farley of Tamalpais High, fourth place, physical sciences, "Pascal's Triangle," and Robert Schaaf of Redwood High, third place, biological sciences, "DNA in Cancerous Chickens."

Group projects, seventh grade, Kathleen Sieck, Patsy Hougland, Linda Laybourne and Debbie Hart, Reed School, Tiburon, honorable mention for "How Do Crystals Grow?"

Award winners were announced last night by the judges after reviewing more than 350 projects.

The fair will be open free to the public tomorrow through Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Movie Program Set

Films on children will be shown the Marin County Foster Parents Organization at 8 p.m. Monday at 820 Fourth street, San Rafael. After a short business meeting, the films "The Meaning of Adolescence" and "Little World" will be shown.

Novatans Criticize English Teaching

A standing-room-only crowd estimated at 60 heard a panel discussion last night at Novato High School urging more adequate teaching of English in Novato schools.

The panel members were: Mrs. Peter Yarish, member of the sponsoring Novato Advisory Council for Education; Mrs. Stephen Craig, former Massachusetts school teacher and William Q. Wright Jr., former Marin County supervisor.

Also speaking at their own request from the floor were Kathleen McNally and Serena Pollak, both students at San Francisco State College. Both said they "felt gypped" in their early education and were now "floundering around" due to lack of fundamentals.

Each panel member presented a different view of English teaching. They ended the presentation by offering recommendations prepared by the educational standards committee of the council.

Mrs. Yarish, chairman of the committee, said the council had spent more than a year in preparing the recommendations.

The panel members said the following three views were prevalent in Novato's schools today:

1. The "very outmoded and extreme" view that grammar is taught for itself and not related to composition.

2. The "extreme opposite" view that grammar is unnecessary and there are "no rights and wrongs."

3. The view held in Marin County study courses that English requires a "functional approach" with language adapted to a student's needs as a means of communication.

The fourth view was that of the committee itself. It is being used, the committee said, by certain teachers in Novato.

The committee members reminded the audience that their opposition was not "directed solely at Novato schools" but at general trends in California.

As evidence that California schools are behind those in other parts of the nation, Mrs. Craig offered students' English papers, taken at random from Novato classrooms, as compared with similar papers she had acquired from Massachusetts schools.

Stating that "Me Tarzan, you Jane" is not sufficient for the necessary exchange of complex ideas in today's society, the committee report agreed with Dr. James J. Lynch of the University of California English department, that the three major components of English are grammar, composition and literature, and that they should be taught as a separate unit of study.

The committee report "wholly rejects" the philosophy "approved by some Novato teachers . . . that correct sentence structure is useless, unnecessary and a waste of time."

Recommendations by the committee include:

1. Basic rules of English grammar and sentence structure should be so taught that they are mastered by the average student upon completion of the eighth grade.

2. High school English should be devoted to an application of the rules of grammar and syntax learned in elementary school.

3. High school courses should be designed to "enrich the knowledge and analytical powers of the student, advance his skill in rhetoric and help him to mature in written and spoken English."

4. Students who plan to go to college should be prepared to pass college entrance examinations in English in any reputable college or university in the nation.

5. A full period should be spent in the teaching of English in each grade every day.

Marin Poets Win Honors In Contest

Two Marin poets have received honorable mention in the biennial Ad Schuster-Arthur Price Award poetry contest, according to the sponsoring Ina Coolbrith Circle of San Francisco.

They are Jean Esteve of Stinson Beach for "Song For A Brave Arrival" and Annette Weddell of San Rafael for "Panegyric for Ceres."

Competition was limited to poetry published in California newspapers.

Marin Mayors Endorse Plan For Fire Tax

The Marin Council of Mayors has endorsed the concept of taxing areas outside a city or fire district for structural fire protection which they receive from the county fire department.

As outlined to the council by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, the plan would call upon unincorporated communities to (1) provide the county with funds for structural protection, or (2) establish their own fire departments.

'DOUBLE TAX'

Jensen said this presumably would eliminate complaints from city and fire district taxpayers about "double taxation" for their own fire protection and that of non-city or district residents.

The proposal is contained in one of six alternate county fire service plans which Jensen presented to the Marin County Board of Supervisors in January and to the mayors' council Wednesday night.

"This," said his report, "would correct the irregularity whereby Inverness residents pay approximately 40 cents on their tax rate for fire protection, while Point Reyes Station enjoys the same basic protection, because of the location of a county fire department substation, without a local tax."

VOTE 7-2

Carefully avoiding specifics of the taxing plan explained by Jensen, the mayors voted 7-2 to endorse the general concept. Dissenting were Mayors Arthur W. Smith of San Anselmo and Arthur Kanzee Jr. of Ross. Absent was Mayor Robert P. Watkins of Belvedere.

The council, which met in Larkspur's Blue Rock Inn, declared its action was "in no sense criticism of the present county fire department, and Chief Charles Reilley is to be commended on the job he is doing."

Parents Of Deaf Kids To Meet Wednesday

Her topics will include the aural approach to education of the deaf and hard of hearing, films and discussion on HEAR foundation and answers on hearing aids.

ONE ABSENTEE

Sausalito Candidates Discuss City's Issues

City acquisition of Shelter Cove, the parking situation and the proposed new zoning ordinance were the three major problems discussed by candidates for Sausalito City Council at a Sausalito Woman's Club meeting last night.

Eight of the nine candidates were present. Leonard (Lee) Pieraccini, having recently come out of the hospital, was unable to attend.

None of the candidates felt that the proposed zoning ordinance is right as it is presented. L. Stuart Linton urged a complete withdrawal of the ordinance, but the other candidates felt it could be worked over and that this should be done slowly.

All candidates felt the city should acquire the Shelter Cove area. Edward L. Ripley insisted the appraised value is only $21,400 and said he feels the property can be acquired by condemnation if necessary.

The total price of the Shelter Cove lots has been estimated at $115,000. However, City Councilman Phillips S. Ehrlich Jr. has said it might be possible to purchase the land for as little as $75,000.

Ehrlich said last night that already $21,000 has been raised" and he feels the rest of the money needed should be obtained through a bond issue.

None of the candidates had an answer to the central waterfront area's parking and traffic flow problems. Carl C. Wooley said he discovered that New York had taken care of it in the midtown area by charging $3.50 a day for parking. Linton urged inhibiting tourist traffic into the present entrance and said it should be routed to the city's north end.

Helen B. Kerr told the audience that more fire prevention is needed for the city. Someone in the audience asked if there were any plans afoot for a second firehouse, to which Mayor Howard Sievers, answered "no."

Artist Serge Trubach was again the court jester. He said he feels the city needs an art commission to prevent some of the monstrosities going up. He also said Sausalito should have two donkeys for the Vina del Mar Plaza so the Democrats won't feel hurt. (There are two stone elephants at the plaza's Bridgeway entrance.)

Wooley suggested a street pattern for Marinship and said he would like to see apartments on the Bridgeway frontage with light industry in the rear.

Dr. Ronald B. Mackenzie moderated. Former Mayor Robert Goshen was timekeeper, and Mrs. Warren Zimmer was chairman.

New City Of Novato Gets First Annexation Request

The first application for annexation to the new City of Novato came before the city council last night when contractor John Novak asked that about 10 acres of uninhabited land he plans to subdivide be included in the city limits.

The property is located southwest of Novato boulevard between Walnut Park and a point west of unincorporated Kendon Lane. According to Novak, the property was to have been included in the original city boundaries but was inadvertently omitted.

The council passed a resolution placing the application before the county boundary commission.

Councilman Harvey J. Vicchio urged the other councilmen to give serious thought to asking other persons, now outside the city limits, to join the city by annexation.

The Novato council last night also re-enacted the animal control and food handling ordinances which had previously been adopted as emergency measures.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. advised the council to re-enact both measures to prevent any possible dispute of the laws as emergency measures.

The council was informed by G. M. Henderson, Marin Division manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., that his firm was drawing up a franchise agreement with the city and would request a meeting with the council when the agreement is completed.

The council will meet again on April 5, at 8 p.m.

School Funds For Pro-Bond Ads Illegal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The state attorney general held today that a board of trustees can't use school district funds to buy advertising urging passage of a school bond issue.

The case involves a full-page newspaper ad sponsoring a Madera High School bond election in 1959. The county auditor rejected the newspaper's claim for payment and was upheld by the county counsel.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk ruled that the law prohibits the use of public funds advocating adoption of a proposition which has been opposed by a large number of electors.

"The public funds entrusted to the board," he said, "belong equally to the proponents and opponents of the proposition, and the use of the funds to finance, not the presentation of facts, namely, but also arguments to persuade the voters that only one side has merit, gives the dissenters just cause for complaint."

SOLAR FLARES DISRUPTING RADIO, CABLES

NEW YORK (UPI) — Communications throughout the world were severely disrupted today as a result of solar flare activity.

Radio and some cable circuits between Europe and the United States were especially hard hit.

Astronomers said the disruption apparently was caused by solar flares reported early this week by a number of observatories.

Man Injured In Fall Off Truck

Preparing a load of lumber to take to San Francisco, Hadden slipped from the top of the load. The Sausalito ambulance took him to the hospital, where he was treated for concussion and a cut scalp.

Red Revenge Ambush Kills 3 In Philippines

MANILA (UPI) — Outlawed Communist Huks today ambushed and killed three persons, including the aunt and uncle of actress Cely Carrillo, now starring in New York in the musical comedy "Flower Drum Song."

The vengeance slayings were the first major outbreak of violence in three years by the Communist-led movement which tried to take over the Philippines at the end of World War II and was defeated in mountain fighting.

The victims were wealthy land owner Jose Carrillo, an intelligence officer in the 1950 government drive that crushed the Huks, his wife, Carmen, and Miss Mariana Salas, 25, a teacher. Police called it Communist revenge against Carrillo's anti-Huk activities.

Carrillo's 19-year-old daughter, Zenwida, escaped death by pretending she was dead.

A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK — Caring for her six children and keeping up a house of 25 rooms plus garden would, in themselves, seem to be more than enough work for any one woman. But Mrs. Elizabeth Deedy of Ross takes care of those chores, and still finds time for civic service. Her position as a Marin Junior College District trustee is, in itself, a demanding and time-consuming task. But it is a job into which Mrs. Deedy plunges with her customary vigor and zeal. She also brings to that job some refreshing and frank views on the proper role of a junior college in its community. You will read about those views, and about the life of this interesting woman in an article written for tomorrow's Marin Magazine by Independent - Journal reporter Dorothy Blackman.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

Stanford Confab Slated Tomorrow

"Cigarettes: Smoke Signals From a Thinking Indian," is the title of a talk to be given tomorrow at the Stanford Conference at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, Ignacio.

The speaker, on one of several panels, will be Lincoln E. Moses, professor of statistics at Stanford University's department of preventive medicine."

The 28-year-old conference is sponsored by the Stanford Club of Marin County, the Stanford Alumni Assn. and the university.

Registration will be held in the lobby at 11:15 a.m., followed by a noon luncheon in the Marinoma Room. The luncheon talk will be given by W. P. Fuller III, a Stanford trustee, on "Stanford's National Visibility." Toastmaster will be William A. Niccolls.

Four different sessions are planned at two meeting times in the afternoon. At 2:10 p.m. in the Marinoma Room, William R. Kimball will be chairman of "Marketing: The Challenge of the '60s," to be conducted by Robert T. Davis, associate professor of marketing, graduate school of business.

At the same time in the Garden Room, Russell R. Klein will be chairman for Moses' talk.

At 3:10 p.m. in the Marinoma Room, John E. Cahill will be chairman of "Will Highways Strangle California?" to be conducted by Clarkson H. Oglesby, professor of civil engineering.

At the same time in the Garden Room, Judge Richard M. Sims of Tiburon, will be chairman of "Crisis Diplomacy," to be conducted by Graham H. Stuart, professor political science.

At 4:10 p.m. in the Marinoma Room will be a group discussion of "What's in the Cards?" Carl G. Brown Jr. will be chairman.

Members of the panel will be James T. Watkins IV, professor of political science, conference faculty coordinator, moderator; Kenneth M. Cuthertson, vice president for finance; William F. Kartozian, 1959 head yell leader; Rixford K. Snyder, director of admissions; Charles A. (Chuck) Taylor, assistant director of athletics; Mrs. Milton M. Teague, trustee; Milton M. Teague, president, Stanford Alumni Assn., and Brown.

There will be a reception in the cocktail lounge at 5:15 p.m.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Eugene F. Kern Jr. of 584 Fairhills drive, San Rafael.

Mollie West Love and Margaret Miller Trembley are co-chairmen. James Reed Jr. is finance and registration chairman; Paula Stephenson Kern, hospitality; Clark M. Palmer, program; Kenneth Paul Todd Jr., publicity, and Marian Righetti Goepp, rooms, equipment and menu.

Corte Madera Gains 1,686 In Population

Corte Madera has a population of 5,850, a gain of 1,686 residents since 1957, according to a new estimate by the state Department of Finance.

The estimate, as of March 1, was reported today by Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow. He said the new total indicates a 40.5 per cent increase since a special federal census of October, 1957, which set the population at 4,164.

The previous state Finance Department estimate, reported as of May 1, 1959, was 5,300. Brandow said the gain of 550 since that date means the town will receive approximately $4,400 additional from the state this year in gasoline tax and motor vehicle license funds.

High School Girls Win Essay Awards In Movie Contest

Several Marin high school girls have won awards for essays on books they would like to see made into movies. The contest was sponsored by the Marin Motion Picture Council, and awards will be presented April 19 at Rubini's restaurant, Fairfax.

Rosemary Barkhurst for her essay of "Mrs. 'Arris Goes to New York," won $10, and Patricia McCallum for an essay on "This Is Goggle," won $5. Both are students at San Rafael High School.

Winners of $3 each were: Shirley Simpson, Woodacre; Bonnie Hoag, San Anselmo, and Linden Press, San Anselmo. These girls are students at Sir Francis Drake High School. Mary Jane Tacchi and Barbara Anne Best of San Rafael won honorable mention an theater tickets.

Marin Girl To Be In College Opera

Claudia Colburn daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Colburn, 10 Seminole avenue, Corte Madera, will appear in the American premiere of the opera, "A Tale of Two Cities," at San Francisco State College.

The performances will be given at 8:30 p.m. Saturday and April 9, and at 3 p.m. Sunday and April 10.

Miss Colburn, 15, a 1959 winner in the Marin Music Chest's scholarship awards. While at Tamalpais High School she played the lead in the opera, "The Telephone." She is a member of the college a cappella choir, and hopes to pursue a professional singing career.

In Talent Finals

Christine Elizabeth Clark, 14, of 1807 Novato avenue, has advanced to the Bay Area finals of the "Talentsville, U.S.A." national search for new recording artists, operated in this area by radio station KEWB. The finals are to be held in the Oakland Auditorium tomorrow.

Schools Schedule Music Program

Fourteen bands, orchestras and choruses will give a concert entitled "A Showcase of Musical Performances," starting at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Sir Francis Drake High School.

Each group will play or sing several selections under regular directors from their schools in Marin. Orchestras and choruses will play at 1 p.m., and bands will perform at 3 p.m.

There will be choruses from Dixie, Mill Valley, Novato and Ross School districts; orchestras from Mill Valley, Reed and Ross, and bands from Dixie, Mill Valley, Novato, San Jose and West Marin.

Anti-Car-Smog Bill Clears Senate Group

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's first major statewide anti-smog bill, tough on new cars but containing local option for used vehicles, had approval of one Senate committee today.

Only two major steps remained before final adoption of the measure authored by Assemblyman Ronald B. Cameron (D-Whittier). They are:

1. Approval of the Senate Finance Committee on money aspects of the smog control bill. Chairman James McBride scheduled a hearing for Monday.

2. An affirmative vote of the entire upper chamber, expected to get the bill in the middle of next week.

The Senate Transportation Committee approved the bill late yesterday with a minimum of objection and on a unanimous voice vote.

The administration-backed bill is aimed at wiping out smog by requiring motorists to install exhaust-control devices on their trucks and cars.

Two major amendments to the Cameron bill were adopted by a voice vote yesterday. They were submitted by Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) and would allow the state to lease a private or public air pollution laboratory and appropriate $500,000 for its first year of operation.

Dr. Albert Schweitzer, celebrated scientist-physician of French Equatorial Africa, is 85 years old.

Church To Decide If Pastor To Be Fired

The First Missionary Baptist Church of Marin City will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m., April 15 for an election to decide whether the pastor should be dismissed.

John G. Buresh, attorney for the church, said the deacons and the board of trustees of the church met Wednesday night and set the special election date.

The date of the election and the purpose will be announced at the church on the two successive Sundays before April 15, the attorney said.

Purpose of the April 15 meeting, said Buresh, is to decide whether the pulpit will be declared vacant, whether Rev. James W. Harris should be dismissed, and what action should be taken in connection with the first two decisions.

Rev. Harris and the church just wound up a preliminary court battle on whether the pastor should be allowed to continue preaching. The deacons contend their pastor was voted out at a Feb. 29 meeting, but the judge decided that the legality of that meeting is in doubt.

Attorney Buresh declared that this time, the date and purpose of the meeting will be fully publicized so there will be no question of legality.

Speedy Help Needed Now Trying To Get Canal Funds

Last Lincoln's birthday we discussed in this space the need for bringing pressure to bear on Congress to dredge San Rafael Canal. In answer, Rep. Clement Miller sent us a lengthy explanation about what was going on, the essence of which was that there has been no local support to back up a request for the funds for the dredging.

Since that time several things have happened. The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce sent a letter explaining the economic importance of the canal to the area. Marin Industrial Development Foundation called a meeting of interested persons to see what could be done to help get the needed funds.

All of this activity was none too soon. In fact it was barely in time at all. Next Monday in Washington there will be a hearing held on next year's appropriation for rivers and harbors. Congressman Miller plans to attend and request insertion of funds for the dredging. None are at present contemplated.

This is no move to appease a few rich boat owners. We're talking about a major segment of Marin's economic foundation, the recreation industry. The Chamber of Commerce letter estimated that 15 million dollars worth of boats use the canal weekly. They used more than 185,000 gallons of marine fuel last year sold at pumps on the canal. Boat facility operators have more than $3,500,000 invested in facilities, and that amount is doubled by related industries along the canal.

Unfortunately, even at a critical time such as this, some of the boat facility owners decided to go to court to try to stop development of Richardson Bay's channel with state funds even as they were begging for the dredging of San Rafael canal with federal funds. We can't see how the congressmen could overlook the inconsistency of the actions.

Yet we urge everyone who has interest in or experience with shoaling San Rafael canal to get off a telegram or an air mail letter to Representative Miller in Washington so he'll get it in time for next Monday's hearing.

Marin's Siphon-Tongue Corkpecker

Of all the county's wild creatures none is more mysterious than the siphon-tongued corkpecker. This rare bird is so shy it is seldom seen, but its depradations are notorious.

In appearance it resembles a robin-sized hummingbird with a Burgundy-red throat. It is also like the hummingbird in its fondness for nectars, though it prefers them fermented. This bird is strictly nocturnal in habit.

Have you ever cherished a valuable bottle of wine or spirits and noticed how rapidly the contents sometimes disappear? What is the cause? Obviously it is a siphon-tongued corkpecker which has drilled a microscopic hole in the cork and removed a quantity of the beverage through its siphon-tongue.

It is extremely difficult to capture, but sometimes it can be trapped by a good sherry or a strong martini. Its flight is naturally very erratic. The mating call of the species ranges from a soft "hiccup" to a loud "wowee!"

Although this bird is very rarely seen, those who have wine and liquor about the house have a good chance of meeting this exotic little fellow. He will also be seen by a few April Fools!

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

DEATH FOLLOWED QUICKLY

Few people drop dead just after completing their own funeral arrangements. But a 78-year-old Ohio laborer did just that, not long ago.

He took his family to the cemetary one day and, after showing them the plot, stopped at the funeral home, where he had made arrangements for his funeral.

Upon returning home, he gave his nephew a copy of his will, along with some of his belongings, which included canned goods and two shoe brushes.

When the boy protested that he might need them himself, the old man said: "I won't need anything any more." With that, he slumped to the floor, dead of a heart attack.

The angel of death issues his summons in a wide variety of ways. But whether that all important visit comes sooner or later, make sure that you are prepared to render an account of your stewardship to the Judge of Judges.

Fill your life with deeds that honor God and benefit your fellowman and you will always be ready for the final summons.

"Watch therefore, for you do not know at what hour your Lord is to come."
(Matthew 24:42)

Let me so live, O my Redeemer, that I will always be prepared to die.

Only Real Remedy For Baldness Is Philosophy, And It's Just Opiate

NEW YORK (AP)—Some men are born bald — and others just get that way later in life.

Very little is known about baldness except that, like cigarette smoking or martini drinking, it is habit-forming.

A fellow starts with a little baldness and brags he can take it or leave it alone. But he can't. In time he discovers it has the better of him.

Once a fellow has become a real addict of baldness the only known remedy is philosophy, taken in ever-increasing doses, and this remedy is actually more an opiate than a cure.

Baldness is the sternest test of character known to civilized mankind. If you look around the office or factory where you work, you will probably find a few of these familiar types of baldies:

The brave fronter — "My real name is George, but my friends call me cueball," he tells everyone he meets. His theory is that the best defense is a strong attack.

The frightened amateur — His hair is noticeably beginning to fall out but he won't admit it. "My wife pulled it out in a fight," he lies — the coward.

The eternal optimist — he has spent $6,000 on baldness cures over the last 30 years and still won't give up hope.

The romanticist — "It happened all at once with me," he explains. "During the first World War I had to crawl across a barbed wire barricade and through two miles of poison gas in no-man's-land to rescue a buddy. When I got back my hair had turned white — and the next day it all fell out."

THE TIME-SHEARED Romeo — He read somewhere that baldness is really a sign of virility, and since then no stenographer in the office has been safe within 20 feet of him. Behind his back they call him "Lil'l ole coldpaws."

The realist — "So I'm bald — and so what else is new," he tells the jeering gang at the office water cooler. "Laugh, clowns, laugh. Tomorrow it will be my turn to laugh."

ONE THING all guys who lose their hair agree on. Baldness has one consolation — it is the quickest known way to end dandruff.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Regarding your article on March 25, about the Novato Horsemen's first Play Day of the year, Paula Hansen, not Paula Anderson, was the high point junior winner.

The Independent-Journal has always been very cooperative with the Horsemen's publicity. But for six years as a Novato Junior Horsemen I have worked very hard in competition to win awards and it seems for these six years the type-setters in both your paper and our local paper have had an aversion to my name. Usually it is printed Paul Hansen, who is my father, not only not a junior horseman but also does not ride horses.

Now, I've not only lost my last name but I've lost my Danish descent!—

What The Poll On Raggio Means

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Because the question of Mr. Raggio's resignation and the City Council's refusal to rehire him has aroused great feeling amongst Larkspur voters, the request of one of our citizens at the recent candidates' meeting that all candidates answer "yes" or "no" on the question of his reinstatement now seems improper.

The incumbent councilmen gave their answer to the question when they refused to rehire Mr. Raggio. They decided on this course for reasons known only to themselves as no publicity has been given the facts leading to their decision.

The unfortunate result of a "yes" or "no" answer for a candidate who is not an incumbent is that those present probably conclude by his answer that he must if he says "yes" favor Mr. Raggio's reinstatement regardless of the secret facts or that he sides with the present council if he says "no."

Let it be recorded here that my "no" answer at the meeting does not mean that I endorse the action of the council. Surely any one who has had to deal with personnel problems would shudder at these methods. The council's responsibility is to know the personnel of the city administrative departments, to understand their strengths and weaknesses and to take corrective action in the event of difficulties in a timely and positive way.

I answered "no" because I believe that the damage has been done in Mr. Raggio's case. We run grave risk of reopening and deepening old wounds when we talk of reviving this matter. However, we can vote "no confidence" in the incumbents, selecting candidates who, including myself pledge themselves to close attention to personnel matters from this point forward.

Slogans Won't Solve Problem

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Perhaps many of us have a tendency to dislike doctors because we hate illness and the thought of needing help.

Personally, I have always found doctors to be pretty decent types. They wouldn't have put up with the long strain of their training if they hadn't felt a strong desire to help people in trouble. Surely it's unfair to blame some of them for also wanting what the advertisers get the rest of us to want.

It seems to me that the public discussion of health insurance legislation has gotten sidetracked by letters pro or con doctors. We need instead to sensibly weigh the merits of each propose ' plan.

Some people aren't getting adequate medical care because they can't afford it. This has to be changed. But what is the best way? I think we have two aims:

1—Everyone should get good medical care; and

2—Bureaucracy should be kept to a minimum (bureaucrats tend to care more about papers than people).

The difficult problem is to achieve both aims. Such slogans as "socialized medicine" and "country-club doctors" won't help solve the problem.

Let Him Save Million Dollars

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

May I bring your attention to the enclosed item which was on page 6 in the issue of March 24. It is all with regard to state finances and statements made by Director Robert McCarthy of the Motor Vehicles Department.

If the statements contained in this article can be substantiated as trustworthy and factual then there is something very much out of line in the thinking of some of the political representatives in Sacramento.

If Mr. McCarthy can eliminate 186 positions and still render a good or even better service and is denied the privilege of demonstrating this statement, then I as one taxpayer, and there are many others I am sure, would like to ask the big question. "Why?"

Here is a man who wants to save over a million dollars for the state and it is tucked away in the inside pages. It should be headlined!

JOHN W. BOYD

(NOTE: The Associated Press dispatch referred to by Reader Boyd was both trustworthy and factual. However, cooler heads in the Senate prevailed and the final budget was as McCarthy asked.)

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Out in California, a husky six-foot athlete sued his tiny, Dresden china wife for divorce, charging cruelty. "Give me an example of her cruelty," challenged the skeptical judge. "Well, when I came home from work one evening," recalled the athlete, "I found a brown derby on the table."

"What's cruel about that?" asked the judge. "Your Honor," said the athlete, "I cannot live with a woman who wears a brown derby."

A foreman at a huge construction job collared a new workman and demanded, "How come you're only carrying four bricks when the others carry eight?" "They're just plain lazy, I guess," shrugged the workman. "They won't make two trips like I do."

A night club chanteuse confessed to her maid ,"Gad, but I had a dull time with that false alarm from Washington. He took no for an answer!"

A baseball manager sought out one of his catchers in the locker room. "Joe," he said, putting his arm around the player's shoulder, "it's perfectly OK for you to forget all those batting tips I've given you. We just traded you to Kansas City."

An Open Letter To King George III About Marin Bureaucrats Today

Well, King George III, were you alive today you would be warmed by this information. The sound of defeat, those battles your colonists fought against you and won, would be muffled. You might even think there was some measure of success for your side.

Our forefathers fought hard for liberty, and they have been fighting to keep it ever since those revolutionary days.

Knowing this it makes it all the harder today to accept some of the bureaucratic ways of the government we have developed. This is what happened last week in Marin:

CURIOUS TO learn more about the exemptions given veterans in assessment matters, I went to the courthouse offices of Assessor Bert Broemmel one evening.

I asked a woman clerk for one of the forms that various veterans, standing around the counter, were filling out. She brought forth one from beneath a counter and with it a small white card.

I said all I wanted was the form, just to read. I said I'd like to take it home and look it over.

It was just that simple; a simple request to take with me a government form that was printed from tax funds which I helped pay.

SHE ASKED if I had my discharge papers with me, and I said no. That, she said, would have to be produced first in order to prove that I would be eligible for the form.

The form was one of those printed things with lots of little boxes and squares and lines and numbers, instructions, warnings, etc., that government agencies are wont to get up so that they can look important and scare the public. She handed the paper to me to look at, but said I could not take it with me.

I told the clerk that I was entitled to the form and demanded she give me one. She seemed unimpressed that I was a taxpayer and that the document was a public matter. She said the office wasn't allowed to give them out, that if they did, just about anyone could fill one out and claim an exemption. Finally she sought reinforcements and called over another behind-the-public-counter bureaucrat.

THE SECOND woman attempted to take the paper from me and a mild tug of war ensued. Finally she took it saying she would give it back, and she wrote "sample" in large letters across the face of it, and handed it to me.

That was all right with me, and I told her so. I told her she could write "void" or anything else across it, just so I could have it. I don't know where that woman studied her government, or if she ever took a civics course. Maybe she just doesn't know that there is such a thing as the public, that she is a public servant, and that the public is entitled to public information — and what is more just a little courtesy.

HER PARTING shot, delivered in a crisp I-am-the-government type manner, was "As far as that goes, we don't have to give this form to you at all."

Well, George III, that kind of burned me up. Of course, if you were alive today, I guess you would think it was just fine. Only thing is, we don't have a king.

But once in a while people in government act like they are sitting on a throne.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — Some political writers — and politicians — are predicting a falling out between President Eisenhower and Richard Nixon because of policy differences when the campaign approaches. They suggest that privately there is already some strain.

No one knows this for sure; it is speculation. But one thing can be reported with knowledge: Eisenhower feels certain there will be no falling-out between the 1960 Republican nominee and himself. He believes there is no basis for it. He has expressed this opinion strongly to recent visitors at the White House.

PERSONAL FRIENDS outside the government are some times the first to know when the President is "burned up" about something. Their appointment may be for an informal 15-minute chat but, when they get there, Ike will unburden himself for an hour.

Lately he has been unburdening himself about these rumors of an Eisenhower-Nixon rift — of which there are plenty around town, some nourished by wishful thinkers.

The President has been telling his visitors on these occasions — and at some length and with some heat:

THAT HIS endorsement of the Vice President for the Republican nomination, far from being cool and reluctant, is cordial and positive.

That in his basic thinking and philosophy of government, Nixon, as the President sees it, is "clearly the best man to carry on what the Administration stands for."

That for the past seven years and three months, during which Nixon has been at the center of policy formulation, attending Cabinet and National Security Council meetings regularly, there has not been "that much" — and here Eisenhower holds up thumb and forefinger not more than a quarter-inch apart to illustrate his point—"difference between us" over what should be done.

Eisenhower also makes clear to friends that it is reasonable to expect Nixon as the nominee and leader of the Republican party, to have views and proposals not necessarily parallel to the President's in every detail.

But the President is emphatic on one point: he is confident that as the campaign develops, there will be no major Eisenhower-Nixon rifts and no divergencies in policy which would cause the White House any real concern or deter the President from exerting his maximum influence to help Nixon get elected.

THESE ARE spontaneous remarks on the part of Eisenhower and, I am sure, reflect both his instincts and his judgment.

Eisenhower and Nixon may diverge somewhat in two areas. Nixon will be likely to commit himself to more spending than the President would relish and will favor increases in federal activity the President has usually opposed — medical aid to the aged, more federal aid to school construction, a larger space-exploration program, and increased federal authority to guarantee civil rights.

The Country Parson

"The horse was replaced by the tractor because he had to be fed whether he worked or not — which just could have a moral for us."

Few Corte Madera Vote Issues Raised

That was the indication last night at a public forum featuring the three contenders for two town council seats at stake in the April 12 balloting.

Mayor Roger F. Morse, Ray L. De Young and Jack I. Miller, in that order, addressed a "candidates' night" audience of about 70 in Corte Madera Recreation Center. Moderated by Charles Pendleton, the forum was sponsored by the Corte Madera Lions Club.

Morse, a Standard Oil Co. engineer completing his first council term, stressed "three topics that affect us directly as residents and taxpayers of Corte Madera: Planning for expansion and growth, budget and our relationship with other public agencies."

Describing Corte Madera as "probably the fastest growing community in Marin County," the mayor said the town general plan, adopted in 1956 as a long-range guide for orderly development, is "a very valuable asset" to Corte Madera. He also praised the town subdivision and zoning ordinances and street, park and flood control master plans.

Increasing sales tax revenue, coupled with a broadened property tax base, enabled the council to cut the town tax rate about 10 per cent last year, he noted. He said a "tight rein on the budget" should permit a continued low tax rate.

De Young, a special agent for California Compensation and Fire Co., said he feels qualified for a council seat by virtue of his service on the park and recreation commission and work in affairs of Reed Union School District and Marin Estates Home Owners Assn.

Like Morse, he lauded the town general plan and said it is "imperative to the town that we continue it."

De Young said he favors the existing town manager system. "We have an excellent town manager," he said of Arthur H. Brandow, who was in the audience.

De Young advocateed development of park facilities "within a reasonable budget and a logical priority on the town agenda," and in conformance with the general plan.

Miller, superintendent for Glendale Construction Co., co-builder of Mariners Cove, said there are "three or four things I'd like to see changed in the town."

He claimed that some streets in the older section have been "very badly neglected." The various town commissions and boards, he charged, are sometimes guilty of disrespectful and undignified conduct "in regard to the people who come before them." Without naming names, he said he knows some men ("all intelligent people") who have pleaded their causes and, in return, gotten nothing but "cigar smoke in their faces."

Miller recommended a shakeup of the town board of adjustments to give it broader representation from "different parts of the city." He also urged that more police protection be provided in the fast-growing residential developments east of Highway 101.

During the question period, chairman John Adlard of the planning commission asked Miller if he thought it would be "in keeping with good, clean government" to serve on the council at a time when his home construction work was being "passed on and supervised" by the town building inspector.

"Yes, I do," Miller replied. "I do for a fact. I would still insist that we keep up with all the requirements of the city and do the very best job we can."

Asked about the proposed Larkspur-Corte Madera merger, Morse and Miller advocated a public vote on the question, but the mayor said there is "considerable work to be done before a clearly defined issue can be put on the ballot." He said it has been "fairly well established" that Corte Madera would receive no immediate financial gain from a merger.

De Young, urging no election be held until 1960 census results are known, said he plans to give the merger question close study.

School Playground Law Clarified In Mosk Opinion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — So long as they're competent, school districts may employ non-certified personnel to supervise playground activities, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk says. But they cannot use volunteers.

His opinion, released late yesterday, says hiring non-certified supervisors would not increase the district's liability.

State Board of Education regulations call for qualified teachers for playground supervision, but doesn't require them if other supervision is provided.

Music Chest Drive Will Open Monday

The Marin Music Chest will open its 27th annual summer concert series subscription drive Monday with headquarters at Hoy's, 1133 Fourth street, San Rafael.

The headquarters will be open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mrs. William Rattray is general chairman.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

The Woodlands: Lots Of Tasty Food Without Those Fancy French Names

"No French names on our menu to confuse the diner," says Rosemary Mills of the Woodlands in Kentfield.

Pot roast is simply that and not "boeuf brase" and roast lamb will never be known there as "rote d'agneau" as long as she has anything to do with it.

"Can you imagine someone with a taste for corned beef and cabbage having to order it as 'boeuf de conserve au chou?'" she asked. "They'd never come back for more."

The Mills family is proud of the nice surroundings at the Woodlands and its simple but healthful fare. We agree that there's a place for French cooking and this isn't it.

It's well worth visiting, however. Good place to take the youngsters, too. All sorts of entrees to choose from.

SOMETHING YOU don't see around these parts very often is an English lamb chop. You can get one—more, if you like—at El Paseo in Mill Valley.

Chop is cut clear across the saddle, making it a duplex. Earl Harkins pulls in the two ends and skewers in a slice of lamb kidney and broils it just so. M-m-m!

Another of El Paseo's new delicacies is stuffed manicotti. It's a paste tube on the order of an overgrown macaroni, filled with ground country sausage, spinach and seasoning. Served with tomato sauce it's a real Toscani dish.

Order either of the above along with Mary's popovers and lemon chiffon pie, both of which are getting deeper and fluffier every time I see them.

Lunch menu at El Paseo now offers a selection of Mexican dishes along with the regular fare. These are prepared by Mary's brother, Tony Giannini, who's up from Southern California. Tony is an experienced restaurateur, has been learning south-of-the-border technique to add to his other accomplishments. Mexican dishes are during lunch only. Dinners will continue as usual. Earl is doing the cheffing.

One thing more: Mary's pies are now being offered at El Paseo to take home. They went thataway if you got there too late for yours.

BIG ATTRACTION Friday and Saturday nights at the Ranch Wagon is petite brunette Terry Dillinger, singing cocktail waitress with a voice three times her size. Teamed with the Gene Byrnes Trio she adds to the highway restaurant's entertainment program on weekends.

Baseball season is almost here and both the Ranch Wagon and Sabella's will again offer fans an opportunity to take in home games at the Giant's Stadium now at Candlestick Point, San Francisco.

Opening game is a sellout and no tickets are available, but Sabella's has a package arrangement for Sundays starting April 17 when the Giants play Chicago. Theirs includes fizz, brunch, transportation to and from San Francisco and stadium tickets. Bus will probably leave Sabella's around noon to compensate for the extra time needed to arrive at Candlestick Point.

Ranch Wagon has picked Friday nights—all Los Angeles or Milwaukee games—and will give first preference to those wishing season tickets, singles available thereafter. Their package is for transportation, cocktail and ticket—dinner not included.

First on their schedule is May 13 with Los Angeles. They are also offering the double header with Chicago on Memorial Day, May 30 a daytime game

Both restaurants should move their bookings fast, so pick up early reservations.

IF REGULAR CUSTOMERS at Caprice in Tiburon were crowded this last weekend with extra callers, it was due to Kirby Atterbury's visiting firemen moving in on him.

First it was his stepfather, Maj. Gen. John M. Leutz, retired, followed by George O'Day of Boston, world champion dinghy racer; Bill Crealock, an old shipmate and now naval architect at Newport Beach, along with his parents from England; and Bob Wheeler of Wheeler Yachts in New York. I don't know how many others.

"Meaning what?" I asked.

"I can feed all of the people some of the time, and some of the people all of the time, but I can't feed all of the people all of the time."

Well, I remember what we used to do with stowaways.

BONNIE CLARK
Scholarship winner

Tam Girl Win Teachers' Scholarship

Bonnie Clark, 17-year-old senior at Tamalpais High School, has been chosen to receive a Mill Valley Teachers Assn. scholarship to be used in preparing for a teaching career.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark of 369 Richardson way, Mill Valley. The scholarship will go toward Miss Clark's studies at University of California at Berkeley, where she has been accepted for the fall term.

The senior, chosen on the basis of scholastic ability, personality and need, was selected by a committee consisting of Glenn Skelton, Park School principal, Blanche Jackson and Mrs. Kathleen Ibanez, both Park School teachers.

She will be introduced to persons attending the April Follies revue at 8 o'clock tonight at Park School. The Mill Valley Teachers Assn. has had several fund raising events, one of which is the follies, to raise the scholarship money.

Miss Clark is a member of the Honor T, Spanish Honor Society, Pi Alpha Tau and is Girls' League secretary and head song leader. Her father is an assistant trust officer at the Bank of America in San Francisco. Miss Clark has three sisters and a brother.

2 Marinites Start Active Marine Duty

They are Pfc. David C. Brown, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Brown of 197 Tunstead avenue, San Anselmo, and Pvt. Norman J. Paterson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Paterson of 11 Watt avenue, San Rafael. Both are members of the 14th Rifle Company, Marine Corps reserve unit in Kentfield.

MARIN FILM FARE

Rafael Offers Satire By Former I-J Editor

By LESLIE DARD

Details on this week's films at Marin's movie houses:

RAFAEL THEATER

Once upon a time in a far off place called San Rafael, Calif., someone began bottling a wine which caused no end of fiscal trouble in a tiny land named the Duchy of Grand Fenwick.

Grand Fenwick's only export was a similar wine and now, impoverished by the competition, it decided to declare war on the United States. Its hope was for quick defeat—and lots of foreign aid.

This story, a charming and happy bit of satire, was written by Leonard Wibberley, a former editor of the Independent-Journal. It's titled "The Mouse That Roared" and it opens Sunday on the Rafael screen (in color).

It's a made tale. For my part, I greatly enjoyed its healthy humor and the performances (in three different roles) of comedian Peter Sellers.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"Sink the Bismarck" (CinemaScope) is an exciting—and true—tale of how the British navy defeated and sank a Nazi Germany's most dangerous sea weapon.

It is now showing on the San Anselmo screen.

The events happened early in the war when Britain's fortunes were at low ebb. The powerful Bismarck sprinted into the North Atlantic convoy lanes. Britain sent every available plane and ship to hunt it down.

Part of the story is told in terms of action at sea, part of it in the war room of the Admiralty, where Capt. Kenneth More deploys his limited forces. The film—based on a book by C. S. Forester (he wrote "The African Queen") tells how More outwits the Nazis.

MARIN THEATER

For the record, the Claridon is actually the once-proud queen of the French line, the Ile de France, which the producers of this suspense-filled tale fired, flooded and wrecked.

This sea spectacular opens Sunday and is co-featured with a comedy, "The Gazebo," starring Glenn Ford and Debbie Reynolds.

LARK THEATER

It's a good-natured comedy (in color) about his search for a wife who has sturdy legs, wide hips, good health and a knowledge of cows and chickens.

By the time he has gone to the mainland (for the first time in his life) Ewen McEwan (Travers) has more adventures than most men have in a lifetime. He becomes involved with the police and with women, all kinds.

The scenery of Scotland is lovely, the lasses charming, the comedy very pleasant.

The show opens in Larkspur Sunday.

NOVATO THEATER

Cary Grant stars along with James Mason.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Alec Guinness is the star of "The Horse's Mouth" (color), a notably funny film about a gutter genius, or more specifically, a brilliant artist whose refusal to compromise his principles leads only to farce.

Guinness wrote the script, too, and while his execution of Joyce Cary's best-seller is not always on the mark, it's close enough to make the film well worth seeing.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

This weekend, the peninsula playbox is bringing in a Technicolor combination with a proven record of financial success: "Samson and Delilah," one of DeMille's big coiners, and "Ulysses," which helped make Kirk Douglas a favorite of the tax people.

Hedy Lamarr appears as Delilah and Victor Mature as Samson in the main feature, whose cast also includes George Sanders, Angela Lansbury and Russ Tamblyn.

Silvana Mangano, one of the best-looking of the Italian screen beauties, appears in the co-feature. She plays Penelope, faithful wife of the mighty warrior, as well as Circe, the enchantress who holds him in luxurious bondage during his wanderings.

Estimate: Two adventure epics.

MOTOR MOVIES

Two highly popular films of several seasons back—"Country Girl" and "The Bridges at Toko-Ri"—have been put back in circulation. Both offer Grace Kelly and William Holden and both picked up some Oscars.

Bing Crosby co-stars in the first as a once-great singing star turned lush.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Bramble Bush," a new drama in the "Peyton Place" tradition, takes apart a New England community. It opens Sunday on the Mill Valley screen.

The participants are:

Tom Drake, Richard Burton, Barbara Rush, Angie Dickinson and Jack Carson, an opportunist politico.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, April 1st, the 92nd day of the year, with 274 more to follow in 1960. The national census begins officially today.

It's also April Fools Day.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1815, Otto Von Bismarck, founder of the German Empire, was born.

In 1905, the first traveling library started rolling in Washington County, Md.

In 1918, Great Britain founded the Royal Air Force.

In 1949, Newfoundland became the 10th Canadian province.

A thought for today: German leader Otto Von Bismarck said: "Not by speechifying and counting majorities are the great questions of the time to be solved . . . but by iron and blood."

Papers In Fireplace Touch Off Roof Blaze

Papers being burned in a fireplace today caused a fire that ruined the roof of a home at 216 Belle avenue, San Rafael.

Mrs. Gladys Monti said that about 9 a.m. she put a few bags full of papers in the fireplace and started them burning. At about 10:30 a.m. she heard "a crackling noise." Her call to the fire department coincided with those from neighbors.

Deputy Fire Chief Vance Trivett immediately issued a warning against such burning without adequate protection. He said fire crews brought the blaze under control in five minutes.

The amount of damage was not estimated, but was confined to the roof. There was some water seepage through ceilings, but firemen had covered furniture with waterproof material.

As firemen snapped smoking shingles off the modest two-bedroom frame dwelling, Mrs. Monti's husband, Lee, a driver for a local moving company, arrived from his job in a small, empty moving van.

They said the house and its belongings are covered by insurance.

The couple lives next door to Monti's brother, Chester, at 224 Belle, and Mrs. Monti said they might stay there until the roof is repaired.

Trivett said a burning paper flew out of the chimney, landed on the shingles and started the fire. He said chimney openings should be covered with a heavy gauge metal screen.

Hunt Pressed For Missing AF Officer

Surface craft of the Air Force, Coast Guard and Navy continued to search today for 1st Lt. Richard K. Ratliff, 25, presumed dead since Tuesday when the T33 jet trainer he was flying went down in San Pablo Bay.

At the same time, the 4th Air Force Rescue Coordination Center at Hamilton Air Force Base announced it is taking part in four other search missions for persons missing or overdue.

The body of Ratliff's observer, Capt. Moritz K. Fromme, 32, was found Wednesday afternoon.

Also reported missing and being sought by rescue teams directed from Hamilton, are:

1. A Cessna 172 missing since March 24 on a flight from Modesto to Belmont with three persons aboard.

2. A Stinson Voyager carrying the pilot and his wife missing since March 26 on a flight from San Jose to Redding.

3. A Piper Comanche, carrying two passengers, missing since March 27 between Santa Ana and Marysville.

4. Four Army personnel missing on foot in the mountains east of Ogden, Utah. This search, started today, involves both air and ground teams.

Youth Wounded In Mishap With Gun

Kent L. Woodman, 21, of 18-A Elm avenue, Kentfield, who accidentally shot himself in the leg Tuesday, said today the report of his injury in Wednesday's Independent-Journal was inaccurate in three respects.

In the first place, said Woodman, he was not at the target range near China Camp when the accident happened, although he was in that vicinity. In the second place, the weapon was a six-shot Ruger pistol, not a nine-shot ("they don't make a nine-shot," he said).

In the third place, Woodman staunchly denied that he was practicing the fast draw. He belongs to an organization which frowns heavily on the fast draw, he said. He was putting the gun in the holster when it mis-fired, he reported.

Woodman suffered a minor flesh wound.

meeting yesterday in Santa Rosa, the Sonoma County Labor Joint Council Committee voiced strong criticism of the CDC's convention which endorsed Joseph G. Wilson, San Rafael attorney.

The committee, composed of fulltime officers of unions affiliated with the Sonoma County Central Labor Council and Sonoma-Mendocino Counties Building Trades Council, called the CDC candidate-picking session "cut and dried" and noted that "no attention had been paid to sentiments of labor people and others who felt that no endorsement should be made."

Matzen is business manager for Butchers Union Local 364, which extends from Novato to Willits, and a long-time vice president of the Western Federation of Butchers.

Long active in civic affairs, he is a member of the Petaluma City Council, having been elected in 1957 to a four-year term. Previously he had been a director of the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce, a member of the city planning commission, the Sonoma County Grand Jury for two years, and such groups as the Citizens Water Committee and the Petaluma Schools Citizens Committee.

Born just outside of Petaluma, he has lived there most of his life, but lived in San Rafael from 1940 to 1942, during which time he was manager of the meat department at the Purity Store.

Matzen served in the Coast Guard three years in World War II part of the time in the South Pacific. He is a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He has served as secretary of COPE, labor's political education organization, in Sonoma County, and secretary of the Sonoma Labor Council.

One of his opponents, Wilson, welcomed Matzen to the primary. His entry "effectively answers the statement that the purpose of the CDC endorsing convention was to force candidates out of the race," Wilson declared.

The third Democratic candidate for Assembly, Mrs. Helen Putnam of Petaluma, was in Washington

the figures locally. And I guess Santa Rosa will give out some information from time to time."

TODAY'S ESTIMATE

As of 8 a.m. today, the Commerce Department, which is doing the counting through the Census Bureau, estimated the nation's population at 179,921,434.

How close this is to the final figure will not be known until some time next fall. Preliminary population totals for local areas will be given out later this month, but state figures will not be published until autumn.

Census takers wear small cards pinned to their clothing. The card is red, white and blue and identifies the wearer as a census enumerator. The words "official and confidential" are printed on the card.

TRANSIENTS COUNTED

Last night was T (for transient) night, Mrs. Chaille said. Motels, hotels and like places throughout the nation with 50 or more rooms were canvassed to count people on the go. In Marin, Bermuda Palms at San Rafael and the Edgewater Inn at Corte Madera were included.

"This first phase—the population count—will be finished by April 14," said Mrs. Chaille. "Oh, there will be a little clean-up after that, but the later part of the month will be devoted to the housing census."

This concerns one family in four that will get special treatment. The family will get a questionnaire to be filled out and returned by mail. In sparsely settled sections, however, the additional data will be collected through personal interviews.

The door-to-door canvass, required once every 10 years by the U. S. Constitution, will continue until census workers personally visit each of the 55 million households in the nation.

"It's spring . . . and just a wild expression. It happens often all over the country," the principal said. He declared Thomson is respected and well liked by the students.

Thomson, who is dean of boys as well as vice principal, said it was probably a natural reaction from some disciplinary move he had made. "It hurts a little," he admitted.

Service District Candidate Files

W. Remington Hodgson, an architect, filed his papers today with the county clerk for a post on the Terra Linda Community Services District board.

This means six candidates are running thus far for three posts. Hodgson lives at 1065 Las Obejas.

Hospital Here Faces Union Strike Threat

A strike next Thursday against San Rafael General Hospital was threatened today by Hospital Workers Union Local 250 of San Francisco.

A single issue blocks agreement between the foundation operating the hospital and the union, which has had a contract at San Rafael General for several years. The issue is the union shop.

Tom Kelly, secretary of Local 250, said 24 of the 35 employees at the hospital—apart from doctors and nurses, who are not covered by the contract—had signed a petition for a union shop. The 24 are all now union members, he said.

OTHER ISSUES

Other issues in dispute during negotiations that began last December were resolved yesterday at a meeting of union and Marin County Labor Council executive board members with Lawrence Corbett of Oakland, attorney for the hospital, said Scott.

However, he said, Scott told the negotiators he was not empowered by the hospital foundation's board to grant a union shop. (A union shop clause provides that all employees not covered by the contract must become members of the union, although they need not be members before they are hired.)

Hugh Cassidy, secretary of the Marin County Labor Council, said he was informed today by John H. Prescott, hospital administrator, that the union shop issue would be discussed again by the foundation's board at a meeting next Monday or Tuesday. It was rejected at an earlier meeting. Prescott confirmed it would be discussed by the board before next Wednesday.

'ARBITRATION REFUSED'

Scott and Cassidy said the union had offered to submit the union shop issue to arbitration, but the hospital directors had refused.

The Labor Council will be asked to grant strike sanction at its meeting next Wednesday night, unless the hospital directors have agreed at least to arbitration in the meantime, said Scott.

"We'll hit the bricks Thursday morning," he declared.

The contract, as agreed upon aside from one issue yesterday, would raise pay by $12.50 to $20 per month in the various categories of employees covered, Scott reported.

Man Arrested On Charge Of Assault

John E. Moncheck, 24-year-old clerk at a title company in San Rafael, was arrested early today by San Anselmo police for assault and drunkenness after he allegedly kicked and broke the leg of William Sitchler at the Hideaway Bar, 2 Tunstead avenue, San Anselmo.

Police said Sitchler, 31, of 309 Greenfield avenue, San Anselmo, told them he was standing at the bar when Moncheck "tried to talk him into a fight." When Sitchler refused, he told police, Moncheck [illegible]ed and then kicked him in the left leg.

Six witnesses at the bar, including the bartender, refused to tell police what happened, said Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani.

Sitchler was admitted to the Marin General Hospital, where he was reported in good condition.

OBITUARIES

McDonough Rites Set For Monday

A Requiem High Mass for Mrs. Beatrice McDonough of Terra Linda, who died Wednesday in a San Francisco hospital after long illness, will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Monday at Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia.

Mrs. McDonough, 52, resided at 398 Holly drive. She had lived in the San Rafael area since 1949 except for a four-year period in Europe with her husband, where he was with the staff of the commander in chief, U.S. Army, Europe, at Heidelberg, Germany.

She was a member of the National Council of Catholic Women of Europe.

Mrs. McDonough is survived by her husband, Lt. Col. (retired) Mark D. McDonough; a son, Michael F. McDonough; a brother, Le Roy Mertens of St. Paul, Minn.; two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Hilgers of Jordan, Minn., and Mrs. Hazel Horn of Santa Monica.

She was a native of Jordan, Minn.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Russell and Gooch chapel in Mill Valley. Interment will be in Presidio National Cemetery, San Francisco.

Visitor To Marin Dies Unexpectedly

A mill owner from Elk, Mendocino County, died in Tiburon last night, apparently of a heart attack while visiting Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Havstad of 2131 Paradise drive.

Percival Warren Daniels, 55, was having dinner at Sam's Anchor Cafe with Mrs. Paula Havstad and Calion Beacon of Elk when Daniels became ill. He had been under Dr. Havstad's care for the past five years for a heart condition.

They went to the Havstad home, where Daniels was pronounced dead at 10:45 p.m. The body was taken to Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley and transferred today to the Robert E. Cain Funeral Home at Fort Bragg.

Funeral Slated For Marinite's Mother

Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen D. McLeod, of Santa Rosa will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the Santa Rosa Memorial Park Mausoleum Chapel, Santa Rosa. Mrs. McLeod, who died yesterday in a Santa Rosa hospital after a long illness, was the mother of Mrs. Myrtle McCarthy of San Quentin Village, wife of prison Sgt. Eugene McCarthy.

Mrs. McLeod, 64, is survived also by her husband, Neil F. McLeod of Santa Rosa; another daughter, Mrs. Neva Alves of San Francisco; three brothers, Ben Carlson of San Luis Obispo, Oscar Carlson of San Francisco and Alex Carlson of Eureka; a sister, Mrs. Christine Paul of San Pablo and three grandchildren.

AAUW Book Meet April 5

The reading arts section of the Marin branch of American Association of University Women will discuss James B. Conant's "The American High School Today" at the meeting to be held in the Kentfield home of Mrs. Hugh G. Marchant, Tuesday at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Marchant, branch president, will preface the discussion with a review of Conant's major theories on secondary education. Dr. Conant is currently preparing his survey of primary school education and expects to publish a report soon.

The morning and evening arts sections are reserving The Barn for a Friday evening production of "Sabrina Fair" by the Ross Valley Players on May 6. Tickets for this performance are being distributed at all AAUW section meetings this month. Also in May, the morning group will hear a survey on satire, being prepared by Mrs. R. A. Miller of Mill Valley.

Co-hostess for the Tuesday meeting is Mrs. Jay Simon, and members interested in discussing the Conant report are asked to contact Mrs. Thomas L. Rogers of Greenbrae, section chairman.

Baptist Missionary Guild Has Luncheon

The Jessie Drexler Missionary Guild of the Mill Valley Baptist Church recently held a dessert luncheon meeting with Mildred Broome, the hostess. She also gave a review of Dr. Munger's book, "My Heart Christ's House."

Members of the guild are now cutting pieces for quilts to be sent to a missionary working with the Indians. All members of the church and their friends are invited to attend

Mt. Carmel Plans Sunday Food Sale

A food sale after each Mass Sunday has been arranged by members of Mill Valley's Mt. Carmel Women's Club.

Co-chairmen Mrs. J. L. Nannery and Mrs. Paul Henneberry have requested that donors deliver all food before the 10:30 o'clock Mass. Featured will be home cooked foods of many varieties, including hot dishes. Proceeds from the sale will go into the building fund.

On the agenda for the club's next meeting at 7:45 p.m. April 13 in the lower hall of the Mt. Carmel School will be completion of plans for the April 30 Spring Champagne Fashion Show and a demonstration of Japanese flower arranging to be presented by a well known professional.

The president, Mrs. J. J. Rasella, advises members to take advantage of the opportunity to make their Easter decor more attractive.

MV Watercolor Preview April 2

Mill Valley artist Helen Gapen Oehler will have a preview showing of water colors from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Sunday at the Artist Associates Gallery in the El Paseo.

The paintings will be on display throughout the month of April. Anyone interested in attending the preview who did not receive an invitation may make arrangements by calling the Gallery.

Guild Will Sponsor Traffic Boys' Week

Beginning April 4, a full school week of special activities has been scheduled for the Traffic Boys units of St. Raphael's School.

Acting on the recommendation of the National Safety Council, the school's Mothers' Guild is sponsoring this initial Traffic Boys' Week in co-operation with the faculty and the Rev. Daniel McAlister, parish administrator.

It will serve as a means of honoring the young boys on the squads and also emphasize good safety practices on sidewalks and streets for all students.

An address by juvenile officer Sgt. Louis Foster of the San Rafael Police Department, to the student body Monday morning will open the week's events. Tuesday the children will be entertained with motion pictures dealing with safety and traffic problems, which have been made available to the school by the California Automobile Association. On Wednesday a representative of the California Highway Patrol, Officer Paul Zensius, is to conduct a stop-distance program.

Thursday's activities will represent the high point of the week for the traffic boys' units alone. On that day the four squads will perform a drill program on the school grounds for the student body, after which their awards and promotions will be given by their school faculty mentor, Sister M. Alicia, O.P. The squads will round off the day with refreshments, provided by Guild members and served in the cafeteria.

Sergeant Foster is to return to the school on Friday to conduct a bicycle safety inspection. The Guild has donated prizes for the students of each class receiving highest points in over-all bicycle safety observance. Also on that day the traffic units will conduct quizzes on safety for the primary grades. Prizes will be awarded for this event, and each child in the first four grades is to receive coloring booklets on children's safety lessons.

There are 48 boys in Saint Raphael's traffic boys' group, consisting of four squads of 12 members each. Each squad has its own insignia and leader. In the past, the drill work of the units has merited them several trophies in all-city competition.

MARIN CLUB'S THIRD DANCE SCHEDULED

The Marin Club, an organization for single people over 21, is giving its third dance on Friday, April 8. This will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at Bob's, Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. Miss Bobbie Moore of Corte Madera is in charge of the monthly dances. Miss Margaret Schaeffer, San Rafael has been responsible to keeping up the large mailing list. Anyone who wishes to receive the Marin Club's monthly bulletin may do so by getting in touch with Miss Schaeffer. At the dance, installation of officers will be held. These officers will be the first permanent ones. Other officers have been serving pro tem.

Plans Made For Seashore Hearing

Following a luncheon given by Mrs. Russel Merret of Kent Woodlands, meetings were held across the county to prepare for the arrival of the U. S. Senate Interior Committee which will conduct a hearing on the Pt. Reyes National Seashore project April 14 at Olney Hall, College of Marin.

The meetings were held in the homes of Mrs. L. J. Hollmon, San Rafael; Mrs. Stanley Dick, Tiburon; Mrs. Carl Brook, Mill Valley; Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Gutstade, Terra Linda; Mrs. William Searles, Mill Valley; Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Marinwood; Mrs. Daniel Turrentine, San Rafael; Mrs. Martin Griffin of Kent Woodlands; Miss Doris Schmiedell, Ross, and Mrs. Samuel Hanzel of Kent Woodlands.

7 Initiated At Fairfax CDA Court

A reception for new members to Court St. Agnes, No. 1428, Catholic Daughters of America, was held recently at St. Rita's Hall in Fairfax. New members are Mesdames Margaret E. Colteaux, Katherine Colwell, Ralph P. Devlin, John J. Judge, Eulalie Kempt, F. M. Lara and George A. Stevenson.

The Rev. John J. Cunningham, state chaplain of the CDA, greeted the new members. Mrs. Edwin A. Clancy, state regent, welcomed them into the order and told about the work of the courts. Other guests of honor were Mrs. Eleanor Hogan, district deputy; Mrs. Marie Logan, state chairman of extension; Mrs. A. E. Fox, state chairman of missions; Mrs. Mabel Sherry, archdiocesan chairman of Share the Faith; Mrs. Antoinette Cerosi, district deputy from Oakland, and the Grand Regents and members from Court of Our Lady of Miracles in Novato, Court Raphael, and Court Vallejo.

After the installation ceremonies refreshments were served. Chairman of the committee was Mrs. M. T. Anderson. She was assisted by Mesdames Leo Cronin, D. R. Mercer, W. J. McPartland, John Weitzel, and T. E. Weitzel.

'April Showers' Focus Show To Honor Junior Auxiliary

The Junior Social Service Auxiliary of Marin will be the honorees April 5 at the "April Showers Bring May Flowers" fashion show at Rickey's in Ignacio.

Chairman for the day is Mrs. William Donohoe, who is also first vice president of the Juniors.

Juniors who will model the newest Easter bonnets and hair styles are Mesdames Daniel Aughney, Victor Burner Jr., Walter Coyne, William Donohoe, Henry Hillebrand, Norman Sanguinetti, A. J. Simonini and Raymond Zierolf.

The purpose of this Auxiliary is to raise funds for the Catholic Social Service in Marin, a member of the United Crusade. Since the Juniors started in 1947, they have gradually enlarged their membership and their fund-raising activities and their welfare activities.

They have member groups which monthly go to Jonesville Hall and to St. Vincent's School for boys with planned programs and refreshments. They have a yearly Easter Party (this year April 9) for about 90 children of less fortunate homes. Their fund - raising events include the Silver Fantasy Ball, a Junior Theater production, card parties, and the spring fashion show.

All funds derived are turned over to the Catholic Social Service whose purpose is to assist individuals and families in the solution of their emotional and reality problems. The director of the club is the Rev. James D. O'Shea, M.S.W. and the president this year is Mrs. Rome Brusati.

Fashions to be viewed April 5 include those of designer Georgette Trilere with distinctive group of jacket dresses; Designer Man'selle who has an exciting line of comprehensive casual to dressy cottons; designer Townley, who is the successor to Claire McCardell, and the latest creations of Dorothy O'Hara with emphasis on sportswear. Gorgeous spring hats and spring jewelry will be featured. Commentator will be Mrs. John Bellamy Jr. and the public is invited, just phone Rickeys.

SILVER HILLS CLUB GIVING STYLE SHOW

The Silver Hills Country Club in Novato is having a Spring Fashion Show tomorrow night commencing at 8. A color scheme of spring pink will be carried out with carnations for the ladies and programs. Door awards will be pink champagne and flowering plants.

Play clothes, casuals, street, and evening wear will be modeled by club members, Mesdames John E. Bowen, Howard G. Brown, Vaughn T. Butner, Marvin S. Dahlquist, Ronald L. Gibson, Steve V. Hall, John M. Lane, H. G. McFarland, Esther Kennedy, and Betty Tieche. Chairman for the event is Mrs. Juren M. Wolff who is assisted by Mrs. M. E. Verhonik and Mrs. E. G. Yates. Flower girl will be Patricia Handlin and ushers will be Lee Bridgman and Paul Clifford. Commentator for the event will be Lucile Bowen. Refreshments will be served.

Youngsters Tour Local Hospital

Two bluebird groups and one brownie troop were taken on tour through Marin General Hospital by three members of hospital Service League recently.

Mrs. Hugh Carruthers, Mrs. Ward Hawkins and Mrs. W. S. Anderson conducted the tours and served ice cream and cake to the youngsters.

Hummingbird Bluebirds, under the leadership of Mrs. E. B. Pike and co-leader Mrs. Thomas Carson of Kentfield who toured the hospital were: Sally V. Carson, Cathy Croos, Joanne Harris, Christine Lauder, Michele Perrone, Judith Pike and Lauren Wardlaw.

Another young group taking advantage of a community hospital tour was Brownie Troop No. 160 under leadership of Mrs. George Storz and Mrs. Harley Pryor both of San Anselmo. Girls on this tour were Lynn Dempsey, Yvonne Pryor, Margaret Krinkel, Pat Jones, Maureen Sibbald, Cindy Stoner, Ellen Storz, Patsy Brady, Colleen Whipple and Sandy Butterworth.

Also enjoying the tour through the community hospital were the Babbling Bluebirds of San Rafael, under the leadership of Mrs. Donald Anderson and her assistant leader, Mrs. David Young. Girls in this group were Debbie Anderson, Vickie Bujag, Sue Bartlett, Corey Mallett, Michele Nelson, Wanda Hendrix, Diane Zappettini, Lynette Peterson, Marsha Young, Cathy Taylor, Lorie Fransen, Melinda Holloman, Laura Fulkerson, Trina Hudson and Gloria Humphries.

DON SHOTWELL, Bay Area square dance caller, will be featured at the Buzzin' Boots party night tonight at Star Hall in San Anselmo. Visitors are welcome to the party which begins at 8:30.

Hawthorne Assn. Sets Spring Dance

The Hawthorne Terrace Property Owners Assn. will hold a spring dance tomorrow night at the Southern Marin Recreation Center, according to Stanley E. Behrens, president.

Chips and dips will be available and a planter box complete with succulents will be a prize at the event which will start at 8.

Planning the affair is the recreation committee composed of Mesdames James V. Olson, Donald Learnard and Ronald W. Crawford.

Several parties are being planned to precede the dance. These will be hosted by the J. P. Kampmeyers of Mara Vista drive and the Robert MacCarthys of Hawthorne drive.

Tickets will be available at the door and guests are welcome.

Day Of Recollection For Institutes Set

At the recent meeting of Rosarium Institute 175, of Larkspur, plans were made for a Day of Recollection for members of all the institutes in District 5 to be held on Sunday at the Ursuline Convent High School, 90 Mark West Spring Road, Santa Rosa. Brunch will follow the 11 a.m. mass.

Following the recent meeting of Rosarium games were played, proceeds going to the charity fund of the institute. Miss Rene Tomasi was in charge of refreshments. Mrs. Ed Albertoni presided at the meeting.

Next business session will be held April 7 at St. Patrick's Hall, Larkspur. Members are asked to bring cans of vegetables or fruits to stock the pantry shelf for the luncheons to be held during the summer months.

Special Master Named To Study Hopps Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A special master is determining whether financier Stewart B. Hopps of Belvedere has any liability toward receivers of the defunct Inland Empire Insurance Co. of Salt Lake City.

Judge Louis E. Goodman appointed the special master in federal court yesterday and made a partial ruling in Hopps favor. He said that evidence in the long trial of 1959 failed to "show with any degree of clarity" that Hopps was a controlling stockholder "at the time of the pirating of its (Inland's) assets."

Hopps wass ued for $2,549,701 damages by Continental Bank and Trust Co. of Utah, receiver of Inland.

Continental said Hopps controlled the Leadenhall Corp. of Nevada, which in 1952 acquired 90 per cent control of assets of Inland for $250,000.

Continental accused Hopps of ordering Inland to cancel reinsurance agreements with two concerns and place them with Alabama Insurance Co. which Hopps controlled. It asserted Hopps conspired to divert funds from Inland.

Hopps denied he ever imposed his will on Inland and said he was merely the company's reinsurance broker.

Judge Goodman said he found Hopps was "at all critical times the alter ego of Leadenhall Corp. . . . Consequently if there is liability of Leadenhall to Inland, it is a liability of Hopps."

Judge Goodman said he cannot determine if there is such a liability without an accounting and appointed U. S. Commissioner Joseph Karesh special master to make such an accounting. Judge Goodman added that a final decision awaits a report from Karesh.

New Storms Hit Flooded Middle West

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Snow, sleet and even some April showers today hit the Middle West, already stricken by floods which drove 6,000 persons from their homes.

Winds up to 80 miles an hour and hail battered central Kansas and Oklahoma. Three inches of snow were forecast for Nebraska, hardest-hit state in the Midwest flood belt.

Although almost 4,000 persons were homeless in Nebraska, the floods failed to make a major breakthrough.

National Guardsmen, civil defense workers and volunteers were winning the battle of the levees with around-the-clock sandbag operations against the enraged rivers.

However, the tons of water surging down flooded streams in the country's mid-section were pouring into the Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

U.S. Bond Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury next week will sell a long-term bond issue for the first time in 12 months. It will offer a 25-year issue paying 4¼ per cent interest—the highest rate permitted by law.

The department also announced late yesterday it is prepared to take a number of administrative steps — including the possible imposition of margin requirements — to nip any speculative fever that might break out in the bond market in the months ahead.

Foreign Aid Fund Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee has cut 136½ million dollars from President Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

Although the reductions in the first round skirmish were comparatively small for the $4,175,000,000 program, the big test lies ahead when the Appropriations Committee passes on the actual money bill.

Plane Blast Survivor

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Air Force investigators will rely on the memory of a burned, shocked first lieutenant for details surrounding a jet bomber explosion here.

The B47 blew up over the city at dawn yesterday, raining death and destruction over a wide residential area.

The only survivor from the plane was 1st Lt. Thomas G. Smoak, 26, of Richmond, Va., the co-pilot. He parachuted to safety but three other airmen died. Two civilians were killed in their homes.

X15 Flight Success

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The X15 rocket ship, roaring through the desert sky at 1,300 m.p.h., made another powered flight yesterday — its second in 48 hours.

Pilot Scott Crossfield steered the Black Dart through a violent roll pullout to test the X15's maneuverability under conditions similar to those encountered on re-entering the earth's atmosphere from outer space.

Non-Nuclear Blasts Set

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A series of non-nuclear explosions next month will launch the Atomic Energy Commission's 1960 test program at the vast atomic test site near here.

The tests will provide information for the Plowshare Program, a study of peaceful uses of nuclear explosives. They will last several months.

Strike End Hopes Dim

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hopes dimmed for an early end to the Screen Actors Guild strike yesterday when a negotiating session was canceled—the second cancelation in two days.

No date was set for the next meeting.

Tailors Get Pay Raise

NEW YORK (AP) — A new three-year contract gives 125,000 workers in the tailored men's clothing industry a 17½-cent hourly pay raise.

An industry spokesman said the pact probably will mean a "modest increase" in the price of men's tailored clothing.

Malaya King Dies

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (UPI)—Sir Abdul Rahman Ibni El-Marhum Tuanku Muhammed, 64, first king of independent Malaya, died in his sleep today, apparently of a heart attack.

Malayan Prime Minister Tengku (Prince) Abdul Rahman, no relation to the dead monarch, proclaimed a 44 day period of mourning by his nearly seven million subjects—native Malays, who are mostly Moslems, Chinese and Indians.

Six Die In Fire

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — Two mothers and their four small daughters burned to death early today in a fire which was believed to have started in a television set left on all night.

Another child, the son of one of the women, managed to escape and rouse a next-door neighbor who called firemen.

Nixon Petition Filed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Backers of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's Republican presidential candidacy yesterday filed petitions qualifying a California delegation pledged to Nixon.

Some 10,555 valid signatures are needed to qualify the delegation. Nixon backers said 29,085 names were filed with voting registrars in Los Angeles and in 11 other counties throughout the state.

Air Base Bomb Hoax

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two thousand civilian employees and airmen were ordered from Mather Air Force Base yesterday when the 6,400-acre Strategic Air Command facility received a telephoned bomb threat which proved a hoax.

Trustees At Reed Discuss Capital

After review of more than 100 capital outlay priority items on the 1961 budget at Tuesday night's adjourned meeting, Reed Union School District trustees sent the list back to the admistrative staff for reclassification and recommendation.

The items, amounting to a total of $54,195 were classified in priorities of one, two and three.

"Before we can make any decision on the capital outlay portion of next year's budget, we should have these similar items grouped together and a recommendation from the superintendent," trustee chairman Richard J. MacLaury said.

Apostoli Has Scanlon In Top Shape; Giants Face Gruelling Schedule

No doubt about it, Irish Bobby Scanlon will be in perfect physical condition next Tuesday night when he climbs into the squared circle against fancy Johnny Gonsalves.

This is the word sent us from the backwoods of Nicasio by Big Nick Kobseff, who is the new co-manager of the little Irish lightweight.

BOBBY SCANLON

"Honest, Gil," rasped Kobseff in his well-known gravel-voice, "this little punk is really serious about getting back into the big time. Why, do you know that for 25 straight days now he's had about three to six miles of road work every morning? I'm tellin' ya' he never worked so hard for any fight before."

Apparently Scanlon was never noted for his serious training, but times have changed under the new co-management of Kobseff and restaurateur Lou Sabella and the training of former World Champeen Fearless Freddie Apostoli of Fairfax.

"We're darned lucky to have the services of Apostoli," Kobseff noted. "He knows as much about the game as anyone and has whipped Bobby into perfect shape." Noted manager-trainer Dolph Thomas will serve as a second in Scanlon's corner Tuesday. If moxie means much, the Apostoli-Thomas team will "think" Scanlon to victory, although fancy-dan Gonsalves has been installed the 7-5 favorite.

This is a return match, Gonsalves having won a split nod in their first meeting. Scanlon was decked in that one and was penalized a point for a low blow.

That was such a dandy tiff that Oakland Promoter Don Chargin should have no trouble peddling ducats. We understand several busloads of Marin fans will take in the bout. Kobseff has one, maybe two busses chartered from his Rancho Nicasio. Incidentally, tickets ($6, $5, $3 and $1.50) can be purchased locally at Rancho Nicasio, Sabella's of Marin, Western Hotel in Pt. Reyes Station, Tony's and Peri's in Fairfax, Bit O' Bohemia in San Anselmo and George's Recreation Parlor in San Rafael.

Getting back to Scanlon, the little guy has a 33-4-1 record and has whipped some pretty tough hombres, although inactivity, and a couple of losses to Italy's Paolo Rossi has dropped him from the top 10 ratings. A victory over the ranked Gonsalves could vault Bobby back into the ratings and lead to some juicy matches in the near future.

Apostoli says Scanlon has all the good moves and despite his "Little, Mr. Innocence" face, can punch with authority. Since he hasn't fought in seven months, Scanlon's timing may be off, his braintrust fears. However, his physical condition and frame of mind may make up for that. Under his new management Scanlon is as happy as a tick in a kennel, they tell us.

Interest is running high locally and Scanlon will have strong vocal support from his new Marin fans.

But a check of the 1960 schedule brings up a good point: They'd better have plenty of depth to carry the club through a gruelling, arm-breaking period starting August 2 and ending on Sept. 20.

In that period the schedule shows the Giants playing 16 consecutive days, finally a day off on Aug. 18, then 33 more consecutive days. With one double-header slated in that period the Giants must play 50 games, or approximately one third of the schedule, in seven weeks.

That is why a deep pitching staff and a capable bench is so important.

W E MAY have a future Olympic skiing champ in our midst if San Rafael High School senior Kramer Herzog continues to improve on the slopes. Young Kramer has won a number of races this season and only last Sunday picked up the top pribe in the annual Dick Buek Memorial Giant Slalom at Donner Ski Ranch.

SEVERAL adults in the Larkspur-Corte Madera area are trying their darnedest to organize a Twin Cities Boys Club but they're running into that big hurdle—lack of parental interest.

John Pagliaro, spokesman for the group, said only 25 persons attended an organizational meeting Wednesday night. "I don't know what's wrong with the people down here," said Pagliaro, "We're trying to do something constructive for the boys in the area and their parents just don't seem to care. Yet, they're the same people who complain about juvenile delinquency."

Pagliaro said the club will sponsor all sorts of recreation for boys 8 to 18 years old, including Pony League ball clubs, basketball teams, track, dances, etc.

Another meeting has been set for next Thursday, April 7, 8 p.m. at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur. So, come on, Mom and Pop, get off your rusty dusty and lend a helping hand.

Newell Stars Hailed As 'The Greatest'

DENVER (UPI)—The NCAA All Stars—four All-American basketball players supported by eight collegians almost as good — swept into tonight's semi-finals of the U. S. Olympic Trials at the astounded expense of the once master Phillips Oilers.

Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati was most brilliant, but all his teammates were impressive as they out-shot, out-defensed and thoroughly humiliated the Oilers, 96-79, at the Denver Coliseum last night. Phillips is the National Industrial League champion.

The University All-Stars meet the Akron Goodyear team and the Naia (small college) All-Stars play the AAU champion Peoria Cats in the semi-finals.

The small college crew whipped NCAA champion Ohio Statt, 76-69, and the Goodyear Wingfoots hustled past the Armed Forces All-Stars, 82-76, in last night's first round. The Cats needed all their skill to defeat the NCAA College All-Stars, 96-89.

NEWELL PRAISED

Phillips Coach Bud Browning, whose club has won nine AAU championships and twice has gone to the Olympics, said University of California Coach Pete Newell did "a tremendous job in three days" to organize the talented University All-Stars into a smoothly functioning team.

"It's the greatest array of talent ever assembled for an Olympic playoff," Browning said. "Every man is a great shooter. They could beat any team anywhere."

Robertson scored 23 points, 17 of them in the first half when the runaway was established. He moved his six-foot, five-inch frame with such grace and skill, on defense and beneath the boards, the turnaway crowd of 10,000 was in constant tumult.

But the Oilers had no answer, either for the abilities of 6-11 Indiana center Walt Bellamy, who scored 18 points and dominated the rebound game, or for 17-pointer Jim Darrow of Bowling Green. Robertson's fellow All-America selections, Tom Smith of St. Bonaventure, Darrell Imhoff of California and Jerry West of West Virginia, were more straws than Newell needed to break the Oilers' backs.

Ortiz To Defend World Title In S. F. On June 1

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Matchmaker Bennie Ford announced that Carlos Ortiz will defend the world junior welterweight title June 1 against Duilio Loi of Italy in a 15-round televised bout at the Cow Palace.

Loi, 30, is rated as the number one contender for the junior welter crown. He has only one loss recorded against him in more than 100 fights.

Ortiz, of New York City, retained the junior welterweight title Feb. 4 in Los Angeles where he stopped Battling Torres of Mexico in the ninth round.

Weightlifters To Perform In Marin Tomorrow Night

Strongmen from throughout the Bay Area will invade Santa Venetia's Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall tomorrow to match their strength in the annual Northern California Weightlifting Championships.

And sharing the spotlight with the muscle department will be two glamor events—Miss Northern California beauty contest and Mr. Northern California physique contest.

Sponsored by the MarVel Athletic Club of San Rafael, the event will start with weightlifting at 5 p.m. The beauty and physique contests will follow at 8 and 9 p.m. A donation of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children will be charged.

According to weightlifting Commissioner Jack MacPhee of San Rafael, "Some of the best lifters in the United States will be on hand to attempt new records. This is an official AAU event and trophies will go to the first three places in each weight class. Also, a trophy will be presented to the highest scoring team."

MacPhee said more than 50 lifters are expected, plus a handsome supply of beauty and physique candidates.

McCovey Blast Cheers Giants Despite Loss

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — When baseball spring training started, fans eagerly awaited the Cleveland-San Francisco games when batting stars Tito Francona and Willie McCovey would meet.

Despite their tremendous batting exploits of last season, when Francona hit .363 for Cleveland and McCovey became National League Rookie-of-the-year for San Francisco with .354, the first half dozen meetings brought nothing exceptional.

Then came yesterday's seventh game and both came through with the long ball.

In the first of the eighth inning, McCovey crashed a drive that traveled 370 feet before hitting a screen that actually was constructed for an adjacent field. It went for a double, driving in two runs, but in any other field would have been a 400-foot homer.

It was the hardest blow of the spring for the 6-foot-4 first baseman who broke into the major leagues last July 30 with two triples and two singles.

That put the Giants ahead 10-6.

Rocky Colavito walked to start the last of the eighth to bring up Francona who had only one extra base hit—a double—this spring.

TRIBE RALLIES

Tito smashed a pitch from Giants rookie Georges Maranda, seeing his first spring action, for a 380-foot home run to start a four-run rally.

Cleveland went on to win 11-10 in the last of the ninth as Russ Nixon singled home the winning run.

Despite the loss, San Francisco Manager Bill Rigney was relatively happy.

Cleveland Manager Joe Gordon could be equally elated. Francona hasn't been belting the ball this spring with the authority that won him a regular spot in 1959 and sparked the Indians' pennant challenge.

Just before the game, Tito said, "I haven't been hitting the ball well yet."

To Much Pressure In Little League?

CHICAGO (UPI)—Two doctors said today that Little League baseball could prove harmful to the health of youngsters.

The doctors, writing in the American Medical Association's magazine, Today's Health, said athletic competition for children was undesirable when organized along adult patterns.

Shaffer and his colleague, Dr. John L. Reichert, Chicago, said a child should not be subjected to "forced development of special athletic skills."

Shaffer and Reichert outlined a four-point reform program for the Little Leagues:

End sponsorship of teams by business organizations.

Eliminate tournaments except on a community-wide championship schedule.

Require medical examination at the start of a season and during the season if accident or illness occurred.

Require trained, experienced individuals in positions of leadership.

The two doctors said Little Leaguers were at the age where they were particularly susceptible to injuries, especially dislocations of joints and bone injuries.

"Competitive drives must be allowed to develop normally and not be overstimulated or suppressed," Richert said.

A whale's brain is similar in shape to that of a human being.

Giants Once Gave Up On Amalfitano, But Now He's Delivering The Goods

CONNOLLY

The subject is very distasteful to Horace Stoneham, boss of the S.F. Giants.

It is all on account of the fact that Joe Amalfitano, infielder, is hotter than a pistol.

Seems whenever you mention that unpronounceable name, Stoneham shudders so badly he has to pin on his hat.

Amalfitano out of Loyola College in Los Angeles, cost the Giants a bonus of $40,000. And after watching him for awhile Stoneham and his aides were so disappointed they would have gladly paid the State of New York 95 cents to eliminate him via the Sing Sing electric chair method.

But instead of a horrible end we find "Joe Sneezt" Amalfitano back in the Giants fold at an additional cost of $25,000 for the draft.

So that the club that "brought and bought him" in 1954 from Loyola College winds up with the same piece of "damaged goods" they cast adrift after the 1955 season.

But time is a great healer and soother. Although Joe got a full cut of the 1954 World Series melon and a fat and juicy salary in 1955 he was shipped away like a guy with coronary insufficiency or something.

Since that memorable day in 1955 Joe has performed in the upper brackets of the minor leagues serving terms at Minneapolis, Dallas, Phoenix and finally 1959 in Toronto.

THE IRONICAL part of the Stoneham-Amalfitano story is that Joe originally was bought as a third baseman. True, he played all the infield positions with great skill.

In his last season he starred as a second sacker. In 115 games he hit .308 and in the draft Amalfitano was bought once again by the Giants, this time for $25,000 scootes. That last nudge brought his present day value plus two years salary up to a total of $65,000, quite an investment.

All of which is just a preface to bring you up to the cold facts of today . . . Amalfitano is the hottest prospect and the most solid of all utility infielders at present in the Giant fold.

I SAW and watched Joe Sneeze Amalfitano. He isn't a high fly ball hitter or a fence buster. He is a spray hitter who whacks line drives to all fields, can run like a jackrabbit and is built along the lines of a baggage car.

Amalfitano isn't sure whether he prefers second base, shortstop or third base. In fact wherever he is planted he'll do a good job. He's that anxious for steady work.

So today we find the same boy the Giants, while in New York, liked so well they paid a total of $65,000 to acquire, fighting his way back to redeem himself in the eyes of Horace Stoneham.

And on the other hand we find Stoneham inwardly regretting he ever gave up on the player, but all the same smiling through it all.

It takes courage, and it takes money to handle the Amalfitano case as Horace Stoneham has done.

And for the sake of Joe Sneeze and for the fortitude of Stoneham, we hope Joe Sneeze makes good. He's rated as a utility infielder now, but he could be a regular any day if anybody in the infield slips up.

Pringle, McBride Win Cage Honors At Drake High

Most valuable player awards went to basketballers Robert Pringle and John McBride last night as Drake High School's 1959-60 hoop season officially ended with presentation of Drake Benchwarmer awards to junior varsity, freshman and class C team players.

Pringle won the honor for the Jayvees and McBride for both the Freshman and Cs. In addition, McBride was voted team captain for both the latter squads. The two boys live in San Anselmo.

The sportsmanship award for the freshmen went to Kurt Jensen and for the Cs to Larry Fong.

Harry Sannar, Drake Benchwarmer president, was master of ceremonies for the award ceremony, held at Sleepy Hollow School All-Purpose Room. Dessert was served by a committee headed by Mrs. Edward Smith of Fairfax.

Tiger Choice Over Zalazar In TV Fight

BOSTON (AP)—Dick Tiger, the British Empire middleweight king, rules an 8-to-5 favorite over Argentina's Victor Zalazar for their 10-round nationally televised fight tonight.

Tiger, Nigerian who is entering the ring for the eighth time in six months—all for video consumption — and Zalazar, meet at the Boston Arena.

Tiger is ranked the No. 8 challenger by the National Boxing Assn. and No. 7 by Ring Magazine. He has a 22-9-2 record including 10 knockouts. Ace Armstrong, Joe Giardello and Holly Mims have been among his recent victims while he has a draw with Rory Calhoun.

Unranked Zalazar has 15 knockouts among his 29 pro starts. He is the third straight Argentinian to appear on the Friday night TV fight series following Edurardo Lausse and Frederico Thompson. He recently beat Yama Bahama on the TV circuit.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner, who has seen the two battle in Stillman's Gym in New York, says Zalazar never has taken the worst of it from Tiger.

"From experience Zalazar has learned not to go head hunting," Brenner said. "He's become a real good body puncher."

The bout NBC-TV, 7 p.m. (PST) will be conducted under the Massachuetts 10-point scoring system. The winner of a round gets 10 points, the loser nine or less.

Two New Umpires For Nat'l League

CINCINNATI (UPI)—National League President Warren Giles filled two vacancies on his umpire staff today with the appointments of Chris Pelekoudas and Ed Vargo.

The new umpires replace Vic Delmore, who was fired by Giles during the winter, and Hal Dixon, who has resigned because his request for a raise in salary was rejected.

Banks, Cubs Look Set For Big Year

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Chicago Cubs, paced by Ernie Banks' blazing bat, are making National League rivals sit up and take notice.

The Cubs haven't finished in the National League's first division since 1946, but the way they're clicking they could make it this year. They reeled off their seventh straight victory and 10th in 12 games yesterday with a 4-3 win over the Boston Red Sox.

Banks, the N. L.'s two-time most valuable award winner, is the key to the team, of course, and the lithe, homer-hitting shortstop seems set for a tremendous season. He's blasting the ball at a .463 clip, has hit five homers and driven in 12 runs in the Cubs' 17 games.

Banks, who hit 45 homers and drove in 143 runs last season, delivered a key blow yesterday when the Cubs rallied for three runs in the ninth. Lou Johnson, star rookie up from San Antonio, started the rally with a single and Banks promptly weighed in with a double. Singles by Frank Thomas, Sammy Taylor and Moe Thacker completed the flash rally.

The Detroit Tigers dealt the New York Yankees their 12th loss in 18 games, 5-2; the Milwaukee Braves nipped the Washington Senators, 7-6; the St. Louis Cardinals won a comedy of errors over the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-5; the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Kansas City A's, 5-4, and the Cleveland Indians outslugged the San Francisco Giants, 11-10.

Lew Burdette pitched five shutout innings for the Braves, but was hammered for six by the Senators in the sixth inning. The Braves finally pulled it out in the ninth on Mel Roach's bad-hop single after an error by shortstop Zorro Versalles gave them their opening. Harmon Killebrew hit his fourth homer of the spring for the Senators.

Pony League Baseball Tryouts In Kentfield

Tryouts for the Kentfield-Greenbrae Pony Baseball League team will be held tomorrow on the College of Marin diamond in Kentfield.

All eligible boys must report at the field at 8:30 a.m. Judges will be Dr. Ed Randol, Joe Reilly and John Newman. Boys must bring their own equipment.

Yankees Seek Trade

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—The New York Yankees, sporting a horrible 6-13 exhibition record, were reportedly today trying to swing a trade with the Detroit Tigers. The Yanks are seeking Tiger right-hander Paul Foytack and Detroit is reportedly after infielder Kent Hadley.

Dasher Class Makes Bay Area Debut

By ALFRED MATSON

Tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. a bevy of guests will be on hand at the Easom Boat Works in Sausalito to witness the launching of the first of the Dasher class sloops to be built in the Bay Area.

It will be a ceremony in keeping with the age-old tradition of the sea—the champagne christening, a toast by the gathering of well wishers for the safekeeping of the ship, her captain and crew and the formal acceptance of the boat by the owner.

In this case the latter part of the ritual will not be affected as the proud new master is the builder and owner of the yard, Hank Easom. First mate, Joy Easom, will employ her fast overhand with the champagne bottle and duly christen the good ship "Serenade."

While this will be the first of its class in the Bay Area the boat has been an outstanding success in southern California waters and undoubtedly will receive equal acceptance here.

It is from the drafting board of William C. Lapworth, a marine architect of national repute, and has proved ideal for the man with a yen for racing and who has an eye for comfortable cruising qualities as well. The Serenade is 32-feet over-all and the hull is of strip plank construction.

ON SUNDAY, April 10, local yachtsmen will be able to witness a match race that has been one of the main scuttlebutt items of the nation's sailing buffs for many years. It will be a match race between James Michael's Baruna and Dennis Jordan's Bolero, two of the greatest racing machines afloat today, well nigh identical and both are of Sparkman and Stephen design. It will be a contest of seamanship and strategy that should prove a spellbinder.

ANOTHER LAUNCHING of note recently took place at the shipyard of Roland Reed in San Rafael. The yard, for many years known as Godtfredsen's, was recently purchased by Reed, long identified with yacht brokerage in Alameda and an active amateur sailor as well.

Reed has moved his main base of operations to San Rafael, but the Alameda office remains a branch.

The launching involved the seventh edition of the Voyager class, designed by the yard's former owner, Harvey Godtfredsen. It is a 33-foot sloop of planked construction that was built to meet the bay's rugged conditions and has met every phase of the challenge.

The yard will continue to build the Voyagers and the general yacht repairs and will also handle a line of cruisers of Monk design which are built in Hong Kong.

NEWEST MODEL—Here is the new 1960, 18-foot Trailorboat manufactured by Trailorboat Engineering Co. of San Rafael. It handles up to two 70 horsepower motors, has built-in glove boxes, storage compartments and bow locker and features Ride-Guide steering. The complete 1960 line includes nine models in five sizes in fiberglas and five models in 15 sizes in aluminum.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

New York (Sunnyside Garden)—Al Milone, 155½, New York, outpointed Ike Jenkins, 156½, New York, 8.

L. A. Skipper Deceptively Mild; Howard Discovered The Hard Way

HANLEY

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Rookies here in the Cactus League still can't understand how Frank Howard got himself in the dog house of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"He was a model of deportment in the minors," said Joe Amalfitano, the most promising rookie in the Giant camp.

The big bonus baby of the Dodgers, Minor League Player of the Year after hitting 44 homers (43 in minors, 1 with Dodgers), had the reputation of being a quiet fellow at Victoria and Spokane where he belted the ball at .356 and a .319 clips.

"Well, Walter Alston is a deceptively mild individual," he said. "Perhaps Howard is, too. When you put two like this together, you come to realize all at once the safeness of a match, say, between Charlie Dressen and Leo Durocher.

"ALSTON and Howard were led to debate at Vero Beach when the oversized slugger skipped a minor league game at Vero where he had been left behind as the varsity took off for West Palm Beach. The week before he had missed the plane when assigned to the varsity.

"It is axiomatic in warfare that one know his enemy. Players with the Dodgers often make the calamitous mistake of appraising Alston as a soft touch. Walter is one of those peculiar people who can be equally at ease with a Boy Scout troop as he can with a gang of merchant seamen.

"Once aroused, Alston responds with a fury and fires language that would make a ship's parrot blanch.

"You may recall during the calms of 1958 that Alston leveled on Don Newcombe when Newk forgot to come home one night in Chicago. Then in Philadelphia later that year, Duke Snider and Clem Labine decided on a sociable round of golf the day of a night game. They, too, stepped into the mouth of a connon.

"Of all the ball players encamped at Vero Beach, Howard would appear the least likely to create a disturbance of any kind. As gentle as a basket of puppies, the guy rarely provokes anyone. In fact, he is considered filibustering if he puts together more than two sentences.

"SOMEWHERE within his chemistry, though, the beast must stir. During a winter game in the Dominican Republic recently, a player on Howard's team got a bad call from an umpire. All of a sudden Frank came roaring from the dugout. He grabbed the ump by the lapels and lifted him off the ground.

"While the umpire sustained no physical injury, you can imagine the trauma he suffered being set upon by a man 6 feet 7 and 245 pounds. Howard drew a three-day suspension.

"As we say, both Frank and Alston are the quiet, placid types. When disturbed, this kind goes better in a match against an opposite. Together, the collision is terrible."

MERCURY
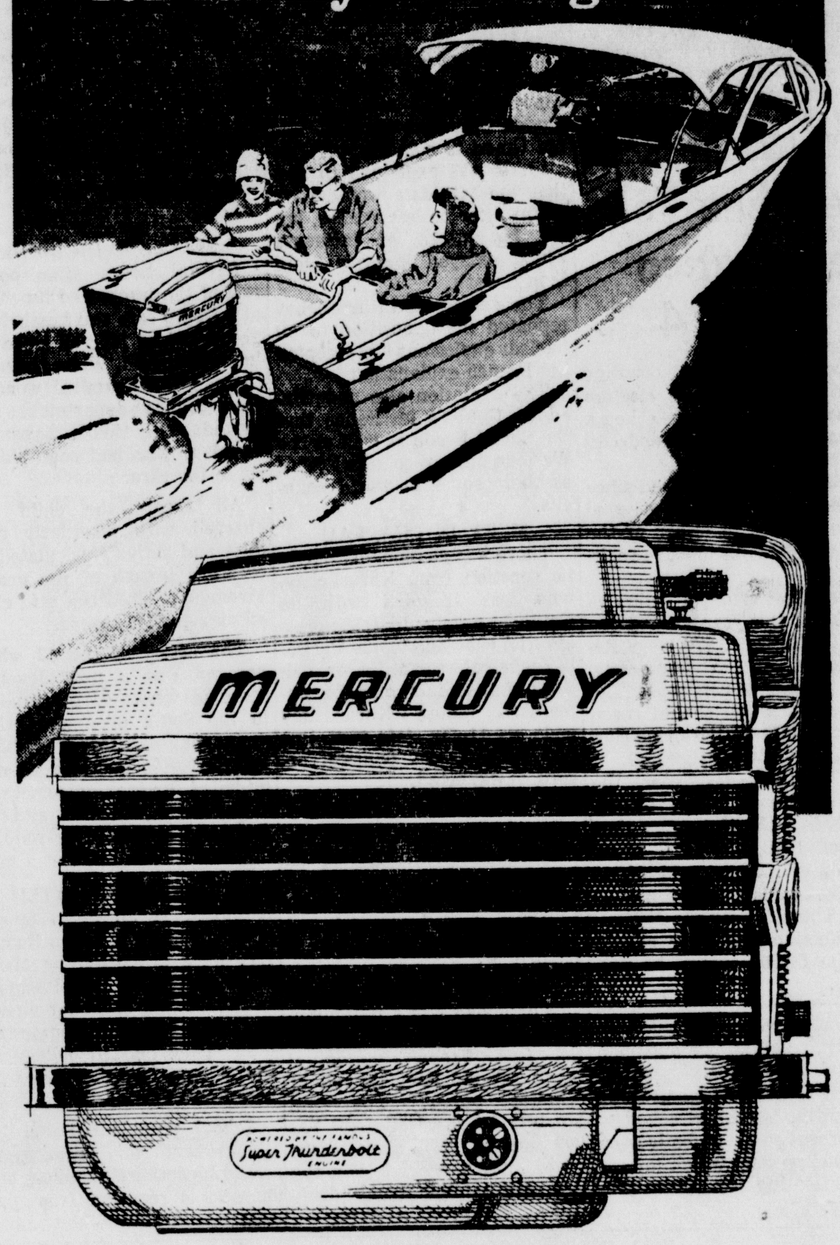
world's No. 1 outboard for family cruising!



Get the most from the wonderful world of Outboard Living with the matchless dependability of a 45 hp Merc 400! Constant refinements and improvements over eleven years of four-cylinder production have made the Merc 400 the most unbeatable, yet the most reliable performer ... the most proven motor in its horsepower range. This explains not only its outstanding popularity but its high resale value as well. Often outperforming fours with much larger displacement and higher horsepower, it's the most respected engine in the industry.

One demonstration will convince you the Merc 400 is the sweetest four of all ... the toughest, most rugged four built ... the biggest dollar value in outboard history!

• SINGLE-LEVER REMOTE CONTROL — the world's fastest, easiest to operate ... puts throttle, forward, neutral and reverse in one hand!

• FIXED-JET CARBURETORS — guarantee efficient carburetion and eliminate all adjustments throughout the speed range. Merconomizer Ignition Linkage gives up to 50% more miles per gallon at cruising speeds.

• FOUR-IN-LINE CONSTRUCTION — rugged one-piece, die-cast cylinder block — four power impulses every turn of the crankshaft, for super smoothness. Small-bore, short-stroke design means less wear, longer engine life, more dependability.

Get the most for your outboard living dollar — see your Mercury dealer for a boat, trailer and Mercury outboard combination matched to your family's boating pleasure ... and budget. Nine Mercury models — 6 to 80 hp. Ask about liberal trades, easy terms.

France Explodes 2nd Nuclear Test Blast In Sahara

PARIS (AP)—France held its second nuclear test explosion today under the nose of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The blast in the western Sahara came as the Soviet premier met with President Charles de Gaulle for final talks today and tomorrow. Khrushchev leaves for Moscow Sunday.

In the past two days Khrushchev had twice spoken out against further nuclear explosions by any nation, including France. De Gaulle in effect rejected the Soviet premier's call, just as he earlier contradicted Khrushchev's contention that West Germany is bent on new aggression to avenge the World War II defeat.

Informed sources said Khrushchev was told in advance the bomb would be exploded and that the test was not timed to coincide with his visit. It was explained to him that the test date would have fallen after he left France, but for his attack of influenza which delayed his trip more than a week.

The sources said Khrushchev repeated his opposition to all nuclear explosions but accepted the French explanation.

The explosion also underlined de Gaulle's insistence that the Soviet Union as well as the Western allies recognize France as their equal in world councils.

MEET IN CHATEAU

There was no immediate public reaction from Khrushchev, who was secluded with de Gaulle at Rambouillet, the presidential chateau outside Paris.

Technical, scientific or cultural agreements may be announced before Khrushchev ends his 11-day state visit. But no French-Soviet political accord is expected.

TERMED SUCCESS

De Gaulle's government announced that the nuclear blast, just before dawn at the Reggane test site 1,500 miles south of Oran, was successful and that all safety precautions were taken.

A communique said the device exploded was a plutonium bomb of much smaller size than the first French plutonium bomb set off Feb. 13 and of "limited power." The first bomb had a force of about 70,000 tons of TNT, about three times more powerful than the first U.S. atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima in 1945.

Deadline For Registration Is April 14

Voter registration deadline for the June primary election is April 14, County Clerk George S. Jones reminded citizens today.

Those who have moved since the last election or those who failed to vote in either of the last two elections must re-register.

The latest count of voters as of Jan. 15 this year showed 57,577. Of these, 29,670 were Republicans, 26,193 Democrats, and 1,714 non-partisans. The total registration should reach amost 60,000 by the primaries, the county clerk estimated.

In April of last year, the total registration was 56,463. Just before the November election of 1958, the total count was 62,107. Jones said that registration is increasing each year. The total for the November election this year should top the 62,000 figure, he predicted.

Whites Jailed For Lunching With Negroes

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eleven white college students from Illinois making a study of Southern racial problems as part of a sociology course occupied jail cells at Montgomery, Ala., for several hours because they ate in a cafe with Negroes.

This first-hand experience with Dixie's sociological setup also caused the arrest of their teacher, Prof. R. D. Nesmith of MacMurray College at Jacksonville, Ill., his wife and seven Montgomery Negro students with whom they lunched yesterday.

RELEASED ON BOND

Several hours after police raided the integrated luncheon at a Negro cafe and hustled the group off to jail, all were released on bond. When they left the jail the Nesmiths went to the welfare department and picked up their 2-year-old daughter who had been placed there for care.

All except the child are charged with disorderly conduct and activity calculated to create a breach of the peace. Firemen ordered the cafe closed as a public hazard.

The arrest of the 13 white persons was a new development in weeks of controversy in the South over where Negroes shall eat. Hundreds have been arrested and scores fined or jailed for seeking service at white lunch counters and refusing to move at the request of proprietors.

CLASSES BOYCOTTED

Classes at all-Negro Southern University at Baton Rouge, La., were boycotted by about 2,000 students as an aftermath to the ousting of 18 for engaging in sympathy demonstrations. They flooded college officials with applications for withdrawal forms.

School president Felton G. Clark said no withdrawals would be authorized unless permission is received from parents.

U.S. Pressures Soviets For Outer Space Weapons Ban

GENEVA (AP) — The United States appealed to the Soviet Union today to join it in an immedate program to ban weapons of mass destruction from outer space before this problem reaches a point of no return.

U.S. Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton made the appeal to Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin at the 10-nation disarmament conference.

Eaton said at present only the United States and Soviet Union are involved, as other nations are not yet able to fire mass destruction weapons into space.

For this reason, he said, a "unique opportunity" exists now to make some arrangement between the two nations.

Eaton said the world had an opportunity in 1945 to head off a nuclear arms race but let it slip by. He declared a similar opportunity exists now—and may never come again—in the development of space weapons.

The American delegate pointed out there are only two launching sites in the United States. The number in the Soviet Union is known to be small.

This means that no elaborate control machinery would be necessary to make sure an agreement was being kept, he said.

ONE OF 800 RECOMMENDATIONS

Youth Conference Urges Federal Funds To Improve U.S. Schools

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House Conference on Children and Youth called today for an outpouring of federal money to improve America's schools.

It also:

1. Expressed support for southern Negro students conducting sit-down demonstrations against racial segregation.

2. Urged President Eisenhower to "use all means at his disposal, including the prestige of his office," to speed nationwide compliance with Supreme Court desegregation decrees.

3. Endorsed the principle of "family planning" and said both public and private agencies should be prepared to assist married couples who seek "medical advice and services for child spacing."

4. Proposed a general strengthening of public welfare programs, with particular emphasis on relieving social conditions such as acute poverty and overcrowded housing which breed juvenile delinquency.

5. Appealed to parents to give their children a living "example" of moral and spiritual values rather than merely "preach" at them about high ideals.

6. Affirmed "the importance of personal faith in God," as the source and bulwark of all values that Americans hope to transmit to their children.

These were the highlights of some 800 "recommendations" which emerged from the week-long conference called by President Eisenhower to assess the needs and problems of the nation's young people. The conference, concluding today, was attended by 7,570 delegates from all states and territories.

The forum assigned to educational problems approved 268 to 50 a resolution urging Congress to enact "at this session" legislation providing "substantial general federal support" for public schools throughout the nation.

SHELL

Why do so many of the liveliest cars on the road use Super Shell with TCP? One clue is that Shell is America's largest supplier of commercial aviation fuels (we have been for 10 years). And many of Shell's aviation developments have been carried over into Shell gasolines. TCP*additive is just one of these developments. TCP in Super Shell neutralizes the combustion deposits which make engines run rough. Why not discover how smooth your car can run–how far you can go on a gallon? Your Shell dealer is the man to see.

FUTURE OF IMPORTS? — Foreign auto makers, who have established a strong market in this country, anxiously watch the advent of America's new compact cars. Here a Fiat car is unloaded at Port Newark in New Jersey, one of 100,000 foreign vehicles expected to enter through the port

Marin's New Car Dealers Devoting 2 Weeks To Observing 'New Car Week'

Marin new car dealers are in the midst of nationwide observance of National New Car Dealer Week. Characteristically they are doing the thing bigger and better than it's being done elsewhere.

For their "week" of observance is actually two weeks, which started last Monday, and will continue through April 9.

Others are taking one or the other of these weeks according to which seems better for any given locality. But in Marin it seemed that the tremendous local interest in cars fully justified spreading this county's part of the national observance over the longest possible time.

There couldn't be a better year for such a decision, Marin new car men feel. For this year a ferment of forces has created innovations in all categories of automobiles, and full-scale creation of a fresh category which was previously a relatively small group—the realm of the "compacts."

Not only have the new compact automobiles now spurted into a prominent position in public interest by addition of one car from each of the "Big Three" makers to the already existing compacts produced by two independents, but there are two other developments creating interest:

First, a class of "super-compacts" developed this month with display of the new Comet, produced by Ford Motor Co.'s Mercury division as a longer, more luxurious version of the compact Falcon.

Second, sellers of the bigger "standard" cars find stimulation in the public interest stirred by the compacts. They say that people often go and look at the compacts, then decide they need a new car all right but it should be in the class they've had before.

"Anything that stirs interest in cars generally is good for everybody," said one Marin dealer. "Our biggest enemy was the fact that the public was getting too satisfied, taking cars too much for granted and finding in other things the interest cars used to arouse—and now arouse again."

The true compacts, a distinct class smaller than the "standards" yet larger than "economy imports," include the Falcon, General Motors' Corvair, Chrysler's Valiant, added to the two already established compact Rambler of American Motors and Studebaker's Lark.

Also new this year is the Dart added to the Dodge line as a short-wheelbase model yet well over the size thus far accepted as defining the compacts which stop with 110-inch wheelbase, whereas the Dart is 118 inches.

Similarly, the Dart's "economy six" rates 145 horsepower as compared with smaller engines in all the compact "sixes"—80 h.p for Corvair; 90 for both Falcon and Comet, as well as Rambler American and Lark; 101 for Valiant, and 127 for Rambler Six. It is only in optional equipment that the true compacts get up to Dart's power class.

Yet even the smallest of today's standards have engines as potent as those of the biggest and most costly cars of only a decade ago. Virtually every one of the standards has a considerable variety of engine options sometimes including fuel injection instead of carburetors.

While some of these features are mostly of appeal to the male, women's attention is sought by features of comfort, a variety of seat coverings, handsome instruments on the dash and all manner of power controls to put the feminine driver as much in command as any husky trucker.

Even the Mobilgas Economy Run starting tomorrow uses only new 1960 models, and A. C. Pillsbury, chief steward, personally took six of the newest compact entrants—two Falcons, two Corvairs and two Valiants—from factory assembly lines. It's the new cars which are getting the attention everywhere.

Senate Approves More Scholarships

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Senate has approved a bill doubling the number of state merit scholarships and making more flexible the amount of money granted to recipients.

The bill by Sen. Donald L. Grunsky (R-Watsonville) increased the number of awards to 5,210 from 2,560 a year and doubled the maximum number to 16 for each senatorial and Assembly district. It also allowed 3,200 to be awarded at large.

DEMAND'S STILL THERE

Car Makers Continue Foreign Importation

DETROIT (AP) — America's auto manufacturers are going to continue importing European cars in 1960 although they are building their own compact cars in the United States.

Eight foreign makes are imported by the American companies. These are the English Ford and German Taunus by Ford; the English Vauxhall by Pontiac; German Opel by Buick; French Simca by Chrysler; British Metropolitan by American Motors; and Mercedes-Benz and DKW, both of Germany, by Studebaker-Packard.

The English Ford, some models of Simca and the Metropolitan all sell in this country in a price range under the new compact cars. English Ford is third in overall import sales this year while Opel, Simca and Vauxhall all are in the first 10 import sellers.

Buick dealers, who had a relatively poor year in 1959, often turned to pushing Opels and these cars sold as fast as they could be imported.

Strong demand was, in fact, reported in all of these so-called "captive" lines.

As long as this demand continues the American manufacturers probably will continue to import. Since all of the cars are big sellers in their own countries they could lose their American market if necessary and not suffer appreciably.

The connections between these import makes and the American companies vary from wholly-owned subsidiaries to mere sales agreements. The English Ford and the German Taunus are both Ford companies, although not wholly owned by the domestic Ford Motor Co. Vauxhall and Opel are General Motors subsidiaries. Chrysler holds 25 per cent of the Simca stock. The Metropolitan is built for American Motors by British Austin.

The Mercedes-Benz and DKW arrangements with Studebaker-Packard are strictly sales deals. These cars are handled by Mercedes-Benz Sales Corp., of South Bend, Ind., which in turn is wholly owned by Studebaker.

Some reports have said Mercedes has not been too pleased with the deal, even though sales have increased in the U.S. The point of complaint is that Mercedes basically is a luxury car while Studebaker's Lark is a compact, economy-style vehicle. These reports are denied in South Bend.

Nine At Dominican Become Members Of Honor Society

Nine Dominican Convent Upper School students whose homes are in Marin County, were admitted into the National Honor Society in ceremonies at the school in San Rafael Sunday.

Honor scrolls from the society's graduate division were presented seniors Catherine Fogarty of Corte Madera, and Mary Cathleen Malley, Mary Teresa Malley and Judy Boss, of San Rafael. All the girls are members of the school's student council.

Undergraduate students admitted to the associate division of the society were Susan Applebaum, Martha Hamilton, Susan Lang, and Carol Lang, all of San Rafael, and Patricia Chapman of Ross.

Qualifications for election by the faculty into the national society are high scholarship, active school and community service, demonstrative leadership and good character, said Sister Thomasine, the society's chapter adviser.

Safety Big Factor In Design Of Cars

DETROIT (AP)—The auto makers' position on traffic safety was stated very simply by one executive when he said: "We want very much to keep our customers alive and driving."

Despite the fact that everybody is in favor of it, safety remains one of the most highly controversial aspects of the automobile business.

How safe are today's cars? Are designers and engineers doing everything possible to make them safer? What can the manufacturers do about the rising toll of death and injury on the nation's streets and highways?

These are questions to which there are no simple answers.

On every side the industry professes extreme concern about safety, Charles A. Chayne, vice president of General Motors in charge of engineering staff, recently wrote: "The first objective of an automobile manufacturer might be said to be to build a car that will move. His second objective is to build one that will move safely. All other objectives are subordinate."

Chayne put the general industry viewpoint this way: "The driver is, of course, by far the most critical element in the whole picture. No matter how easy we may make it for him to drive safely, we cannot make cars 'driverproof' any more than highway engineers can achieve this theoretical objective in the roads they build.

"Traffic accident records indicate clearly that driver errors are responsible for the overwhelming majority of traffic accidents. Even in the small percentage of cases where vehicle malfunctioning is involved, it is almost always traceable to the human error of improper maintenance."

The 1960 model cars carry few if any completely new safety devices. All of the companies say they are constantly refining what they have. More non-glare dashboards are offered. Sealed beam headlights have been improved. Visibility has been increased.

Dr. Andrew A. Kucher, Ford vice president for engineering and research, says, "The design of safety features is constantly being refined as accident experience more accurately pin-points how injuries are inflicted.

"Considerable freedom must be extended to reasearch and design to allow exploration of new solutions to the problem. The danger of formalizing rigid specifications and design criteria while potential improvements are still being evolved is a substantial one."

In this Kucher referred to attempts to pass federal legislation requiring certain safety standards on autos.

Most significant of the recent safety advances has been the use in cars of seat belts, deep-dish steering wheels, safety door locks and padded dashboards.

On many cars some or all of these are optional equipment and the public has made no great effort to buy them. But the safety locks and steering wheel design are almost universal on American cars.

Kucher suggests that any spectacular progress in accident prevention will require at least four evolutionary steps:

1. Extension of human senses by devices that "see" and compute more quickly and accurately than the human driver.
2. Relieving the driver of simple tasks, such as breaking.
3. Extension of automatic control to assure safe spacing between vehicles in traffic.
4. Development of fully automatic operating controls for vehicles, similar to the automatic pilots used in aircraft.

These factors are being tested by all of the auto manufacturers. Eventually they will come, although not this year or next.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Civil Defense, Patrol Expenses Deductible

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Civil Defense and Civil Air Patrol expenses are deductible by businesses as ordinary and necessary business expenses and are deductible by individuals as contributions to a governmental body.

Peter J. Wikel

Capital expenditures, such as bomb shelters, would have to be depreciated over the life of the structure.

Expense items such as blackout material, firefighting equipment, hand tools, the costs of participating in civil defense exercises, etc., would be deductible in the year of the expenditure.

Businesses would include these costs along with their other costs in determining their profit or loss for the year.

Individuals would have to itemize their deductions in order to claim the deduction.

This would be a contribution to a governmental agency and would be subject to the maximum limitations of contributions.

You cannot claim as contributions more than 20 per cent of your adjusted gross income for contributions to governmental agencies, etc. You can claim up to 30 per cent of your adjusted gross income, provided that at least 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income was contributed to churches, educational institution or tax exempt hospitals.

San Pedro School Fathers Finish Sprinkler Fund Drive

The San Pedro School Dads Club has completed its drive to raise $1,250 as its share in the cost of installation of a sprinkler system on the school recreation field in Loch Lomond.

Secretary Ronald Giambastini said the club has sent out letters to all persons missed in the house-to-house canvass and to those who had not donated.

With the proceeds that come in from these letters added to the amount already raised, the club will meet its goal, he said.

The sprinkler system was one of the projects of the Dads Club. Another has been urging construction of an underpass on San Pedro road in front of the school to eliminate the hazard of traffic to children.

The underpass was opened about the first of this year. Construction was jointly financed by the San Rafael School District, city and county, each paying $5,675.

Reports On Sausalito Zone Ordinance Slated

The Sausalito property owners committee on the proposed zoning ordinance will hold a public meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the IDESST hall on Caledonia street to hear reports on the ordinance.

Subcommittees have been investigating various aspects of the ordinance, according to chairman Alan E. Scurfield, and will present their findings to date.

CHEVY! YOU CAN'T BUY ANY CAR FOR LESS ...UNLESS IT'S A LOT LESS CAR!

Anyone who's looked around knows the majority of Chevrolet models—6's and V8's together—list for less than comparable models of other low-priced cars. But the price tag alone is only one of a whole raft of reasons a Chevy does better by your dollars. For in no other low-priced car will you find such priceless advantages as Fisher Body craftsmanship, an X-built Safety-Girder frame, Safety Plate Glass in every window and countless "extras" that don't cost you a penny more!

The price tags on a '60 Chevrolet and the other cars in its class may look somewhat alike. But there—very abruptly—the resemblance ends.

Nothing near Chevy's size and price can match the Full Coil cushioning of its ride, or the fine, finished workmanship of its Body by Fisher. That even applies to some cars that cost a lot more. You're up in the higher price brackets before you find a car that moves as quietly as a Chevrolet or offers the inner space that Chevrolet does.

Or look at the extras Chevy gives you—at no extra cost—that others in its class can't offer at any price. Shock-cushioned steering. Safety Plate Glass in every window. Keyless locking of all doors. A full wraparound windshield. Vent windows that crank open and closed. Chevrolet offers the widest choice of power teams, too—seven engines and five transmissions—including shift-free Turboglide, an extra-cost option.

Drop by your dealer's and drive a Chevy—just once. You'll have a tough time settling for anything less.

April 15 is a day that Volkswagen truck owners greet with less trepidation—and an appreciably greater net after taxes.

A Volkswagen truck usually costs less to begin with; always saves money every mile you drive. An honest 25 miles per gallon is average, or just about twice what you get in standard half-ton trucks. VW delivers 83% more cargo for its size, too: 1830 lbs. instead of the usual 1000.

Other gains are in proportion. VW's air-cooled engine rarely needs oil between changes. Because Volkswagen trucks weigh half as much, there's half the usual tire wear. You also save on service and depreciation. Result: the average operating cost for a Volkswagen truck is 7¢ per mile, against 14¢ for most half-tons.

Next fiscal year why not plan this 50% refund on your transportation dollar? Your VW dealer will show you how. There are 5 different commercial models adaptable to every business—white-collar or wilderness—that needs wheels.

'Arsenic, Old Lace' To Be Presented

The fictional elderberry wine that has been flavored with poison will come out on the boards once more this weekend and next in Ross.

The Ross Valley Junior Players will present "Arsenic and Old Lace" tonight and tomorrow nights at The Barn at Marin Art and Garden Center, and again next Friday and Saturday nights. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

The murderous maiden aunts will be played by Laurie Willingham and Mira Rice. Their nephews, Mortimer, the fiance of a minister's daughter, and Teddy, under the delusion that he is Theodore Roosevelt, will be supported by a cast of 14 under the direction of George Gray and Cassandra Lista.

The junior players have presented "The Drunkard." "The Yellow Scarf," "Love Rides the Rails," and "Desk Set."

The Marin Club, a group for single persons over 21, will hold a dance April 8 at the Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera. Installation of officers will be held.

February Traffic Death Toll Drops

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic accidents killed 2,370 persons in February, the first time in three months that the toll was lower than in the corresponding month a year ago, the National Safety Council said yesterday.

Last month's toll was 50 less than in Februarly, 1959, and was the lowest for any February since 1955 when 2,319 persons were killed. The council said severe weather last month probably held down traffic in many parts of the nation.

Square Dance Club Will Enjoy Party

The Charm 'n Farmers Square Dance Club of San Rafael will have the Westernaires Square Dance Band from San Jose play at its party from 8:30 p.m. to midnight tomorrow at the Davidson School, San Rafael.

Refreshments are being arranged by James and Margerie Yates.

The Pan-American Coffee Bureau expects that Americans will be consuming 41 million bags of green coffee a year by 1980, twice as much as they do now.

Road Tests Developing Design For Highways

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—The design for tomorrow's highways is being worked out to the drone of a convoy of trucks driving up and down an eight-mile test road near here.

The 70 trucks, ranging from pickups to semi-trailers and carrying various loads, have traveled nearly four million miles since November of 1958. The 22-million-dollar research project will continue another year.

Findings of the project are expected to have a big influence on future highway design and to provide information for studies in highway user taxation.

Also, they will be used by the Bureau of Public Roads in determining the maximum weights and dimensions of vehicles to be operated on the federal highway system, including the interstate system.

The project, sponsored by the American Assn. of State Highway Officials, is administered and directed by the Highway Research Board of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, a private non-profit organization.

Costs are being shared by all the states, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Bureau of Public Roads, the Automobile Manufacturers Assn., the American Petroleum Institute and the American Institute of Steel Construction.

The test road is built in 836 separate sections, with asphalt thicknesses ranging from a surface treatment up to 31 inches, and rigid pavement ranging from 2½ inches up to 12½ inches on 9 inches of subbase.

There are sixteen 50-foot test bridges — eight with steel beams, four with reinforced concrete beams and four with prestressed concerte beams.

One section of pavement stands relatively idle. It is being used to determine the effects of weather alone on highway pavements.

A million dollars worth of instruments and equipment collects and analyzes data on the behavior of the test pavements.

Some 7,000 small electrical devices are installed on, in, and under the pavements to measure strains, deflections, pressures ,temperatures and frost depths.

Walter B. McKendrick Jr., former chief engineer of the Delaware Highway Department, is in charge of the project. Trucks are driven on their monotonous, 18-hour day, six days a week grind by men of of the Army Transportation Corps from Ft. Eustis, Va.

Final findings of the project will be published in 1961.

Lemon.

This Volkswagen missed the boat.

The chrome strip on the glove compartment is blemished and must be replaced. Chances are you wouldn't have noticed it; Inspector Kurt Kroner did.

There are 3,389 men at our Wolfsburg factory with only one job: to inspect Volkswagens at each stage of production. (3,000 Volkswagens are produced daily; there are more inspectors than cars.)

Every shock absorber is tested (spot checking won't do), every windshield is scanned. VWs have been rejected for surface scratches barely visible to the eye.

Final inspection is really something! VW inspectors run each car off the line onto the Funktionspruf-stand (car test stand), tote up 189 check points, gun ahead to the automatic brake stand, and say "no" to one VW out of fifty.

This preoccupation with detail means the VW lasts longer and requires less maintenance, by and large, than other cars. (It also means a used VW depreciates less than any other car.)

The World's Most Unusual Small Car

THE NEW DKW-750

Why Terrific Traction? Front wheel drive pulls the car effortlessly along rather than pushing it. The DKW's ability to travel over mud, sand, ice or snow is absolutely dramatic.

What in the World are Inboard Brakes? The front brakes are positioned on the axle each side of the transmission to improve roadholding. The brakes feature immense finned drums so they won't fade.

How Can It Run on Three Cylinders? Why not? It runs with smooth perfection and tops 70 mph. Think of the gas you save! Has only seven basic moving engine parts, fewer repairs, less maintenance, less expense.

Anything Else? Yes, indeed! Large trunk, flat floors (no drive shaft), exceptionally comfortable seats, heater, defroster, turn signals. Most important . . . the quality of careful craftsmanship throughout.

Convalescent Hospital Schedules Open House

The new $250,000 Hillhaven Convalescent Hospital on San Rafael's Miracle Mile will hold an "Open House Preview" from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday for the public.

Hillhaven is a 55-bed, nonsectarian medical facility designed specifically for the care of chronically ill and convalescing men and women. It is the newest of 17 nursing homes and convalescent hospitals under the management of Hillhaven, Inc., a Tacoma, Wash. corporation, and all in western states.

The red brick, one-level building is located at 233 West End avenue. Designed so that a patient in a wheelchair can get anywhere in the building, Hillhaven has no stairs or ramps, extra wide doors, and "drive-in" showers. The latter accommodate patients in special chrome and canvas wheelchairs rolled right into the showers.

A lounge for patients and their guests is equipped with television and opens on landscaped grounds and a patio. Some of the bedrooms also open on the patio, permitting the patient to be wheeled outdoors in chair or bed.

There are private, semi-private and multiple-bed accommodations. Beds may be raised and lowered from hospital height to standard height. Each bed has a call button to summon assistance.

Food is prepared in a modern kitchen, following doctors' orders for special diets. A modern, automatic laundry on the premises provides a constant supply of fresh, clean linen and towels.

Throughout the building, a home-like, relaxing atmosphere is stressed.

Miss Helen Glea Riggs of 55 Crooked avenue, San Anselmo, heads Hillhaven's 35-member staff. She is a graduate of San Francisco State College, and formerly was a nurse at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco, Morrison Rehabilitation Clinic in San Francisco, and Marin General Hospital.

The building was designed by E. L. Mills and Associates of Tacoma, Wash., and is leased from the contractor, Arthur Nicolaisen Construction Co.

Scout Council Sets Leader Roundtable

The Miwok District of the Marin Boy Scout Council will hold a Boy Scout leader roundtable next Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the council office in San Rafael.

Commissioner Vic Myers announces that the coming "Survival Camporee" will be the topic discussed. Scoutmasters and senior patrol leaders will attend to plan the event under leadership of camping chairman E. Bruce Barron. Joseph Alumbaugh is chairman of the roundtable.

A Cub Scout leader roundtable will be held at the same time and place, with the principal topic being the "Scout-O-Rama." Chairman of this roundtable is Don Woods.

Corte Madera Artist's Paintings On Display

Ten paintings by Mathilde Snyder of Corte Madera, including three abstractions and seven figures, are on exhibit at Tia's restaurant in Corte Madera.

A self-taught painter, Mrs. Snyder is a member of the Marin Society of Artists. The exhibit, first public showing of her works, will continue through April.

Drunk Driver Gets 30 Days In Jail

A Novato motorist must pay a $250 fine and spend 30 days in county jail for his fourth drunken driving offense in four years.

Leonard Amuel Trimuar, 25, of 1256 Cambridge street, Novato, was sentenced by Judge Leonard A. Thomas in Marin Municipal Court. Trimuar's driver's license was suspended for six months.

He was arrested on New Year's Day on Highway 101. His previous convictions, all in Marin County, were in February, 1957; April, 1958, and August, 1959.

Four other drunken drivers were sentenced for their first offenses.

Mrs. Marge Jewell Gilmartin, 51, of 1309 Monte Maria, Novato, drew nine months probation and a $150 fine. She was arrested on Highway 101 near Ignacio on March 4.

Joseph Anthony Shedore, 47, of 997 Second street, Novato, also drew nine months probation and $150 fine. He was arrested on South Novato boulevard on March 13.

Leroy A. Ferris, 21, San Francisco, and Michael Henry McFane, 47, Oakland, each drew six months probation and $150 fines. Police arrested Ferris on Greenfield avenue in San Anselmo Monday. McFane was picked up on Highway 101 Sunday. McFane had a prior conviction in Oakland in 1942, but this was stricken from the record.

Congress Approves Bill To Lower Cabaret Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has sent to President Eisenhower a bill to cut the night club and cabaret tax from 20 to 10 per cent.

There was no debate and the measure was approved by the Senate in a voice vote. The House had previously passed it.

Sales Of Car Tires Reach Record High

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Car owners bought a record number of tires in 1959 for the third straight year. And the tire industry confidently predicts another record sale in 1960.

The 1959 figure is about 66 million replacement tires — new tires bought to replace those already on a car. In 1958 the figure was 61,570,000 and in 1957 it was 56,605,000.

The forecast for 1960 is at least 68 million.

The market for retread tires also is booming to record highs. It jumped from 29 million in 1958 to 31 million in 1959 and is forecast at 33 million or more in 1960.

A study by Alfred Politz Research, Inc., for the 12 months through May, 1959, showed that almost half of the car owners bought one or more tires during that period.

One industry executive says whitewall tires now make up about 40 per cent of all auto replacement sales and should increase by another 10 to 12 per cent in 1960. A rise of some 15 per cent in the demand for special mud and snow tires also has been forecast for the coming year.

Sausalito Players Give Amusing Performance

By DOROTHY SLATTERY

The production brought together a cast primed with enthusiasm, vitality and fun; a director who infused a glib tempo keeping the slapstick comedy on its feet and a costume designed who in the tradition of David Beslasco stole the show.

The bright yellows, oranges and tangerines of the costumes moving against the sunny yellow strips used in the tent-like background blended into a montage of color as electric as an impressionistic painting.

The colorful background is appropriate as the curtin goes up on a bright French spa during the late nineteenth century. The plot builds around two wealthy marriageable girls, three thieves who change disguises with great speed, a titled Englishman, an adventuring English lady and two pompous bankers trying to seek a fortune by way of the marriage contract.

Peggy Evans in the role of a bored yet compassionate Lady Hurf gave a stirring performance and her voice control and ability to pause just at the right moment proved her to be a master of comedy technique.

Contrasting Miss Evans controlled performance, Stan Alsop as Peterbono, leader of the thieves, broke up the house with his "Chestnuts" routine in the first act but later began overstraining his voice and facial muscles—faults that are very noticeable in a small theater.

Don Michaelian and Lou Mason as senior and junior Dupont-Dufort respectively were constantly amusing and Mason's impression of an American gunslinger in the beginning of the third act was one of the show's bright spots.

Hector, a quick change artist with a larcenous soul, was played by Walter Mahoney as though both Hector and the actor had a sense of humor. Mary Anne Hill bubbled over as Eva and David Sell was a properly intense Gustave.

"Thieves Carnival" is a carnival of fun, both for the actors who obviously enjoy doing it and the audience that views it.

The performance will be repeated every Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. through April 23.

Liquor To Minor Hearing Postponed

A hearing on charges that the Black Point Inn sold liquor to a minor has been continued indefinitely, the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control board announced today.

Charges were brought by the state agency against Giles L., Virginia E. and Paul L. Franklin, listed as owners of the tavern at 10 Grand avenue, Novato.

It was first announced that the hearing would be conducted in San Rafael April 13. The date was changed to April 31, and now is on a continued basis.

Advance Census Report Forms Still Available

Additional copies of the advance census report form for the 1960 census are available at the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, 801 B street.

The form is to be filled out in advance and given to the census taker when he calls.

'The Drunkard' Scheduled For April 22, 23

The Terra Linda Little Theater will present "A Night On The Old Barbary Coast," featuring the play about intemperance, "The Drunkard," at 8:30 p.m. April 22 and 23 at the Non-commissioned Officers' Club at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The program also will include a community sing, vaudeville, a barbershop quartet and gay nineties can-can dancers.

The production will be done in cabaret style, with the audience seated at individual tables. Refreshments will be served during the show. Only persons 21 or over will be admitted.

Marin Builders Group Sets Dinner, Election

The Marin Builders Exchange will hold its annual dinner and elect officers April 29 in San Rafael. Previously it was announced the dinner would be April 22, but a conflict in meeting dates resulted in postponement.

Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. at the Wye Club, followed by the election and dancing.

$1 MILLION A YEAR

Car Makers Spending Fortune Battling Smog

DETROIT (AP)—The automobile industry has spent about one million dollars a year for the past six years in an effort to beat the problem of auto fumes.

Several workable solutions are in the not too distant future.

Certain people, especially air pollution authorities in Southern California, don't think the auto industry has been trying hard enough. They belittle the million dollar expenditure.

Harry A. Williams, managing director of the Automobile Manufacturers Assn., which coordinates the research projects, says: "Although we've grown used to glib talk of government billions, a million dollars a year spent on one problem by one industry is still a substantial outlay."

Some Detroit research scientists prviately express doubt that auto exhaust is as prominent a factor in smog as the Californians believe.

The AMA researchers told the California Assembly in the spring of 1959 that another year should bring a workable unit that would reduce by about 70 per cent the unburned hydrocarbons in auto exhaust.

Three different types of units have been developed. One is a low temperature catalytic converter. This unit runs the auto exhaust through a catalyst at relatively low temperatures and converts the hydrocarbon to other forms of gases.

Another unit is a high temperature catalytic converter. This also works on carbon monoxide fumes present in the exhaust.

The third and possibly most efficient unit is a flame after burner. This works by adding air to the exhaust by means of an auxiliary pump and heating the mixture in a heat exchanger to a temperature at which rapid and complete combustion can occur.

So far this is the most expensive. However, in the catalytic converters the catalysts must be replaced while the after burner can be designed to last the life of a normal car.

The industry committee feels that its job is to come up with a unit that will work at a price that is within reason.

State Won't Need So Much Red Ink After Fund Switch

The 40 million dollars owed from the state's general fund to the water fund was paid back.

The general fund, which finances day to day operations, still owes the architecture revolving fund 48 million, but this also will be paid back within the next two months, said Controller Alan Cranston.

The involved bookkeeping became necessary earlier in the year because state income tax collections and other revenues to the general fund don't come in fast enough to keep up with the bills. The revenue pace steps up briskly at this time of year, however, as the tax deadline approaches.

Thief Steals Liquor, Cash In Forest Knolls

A thief broke into Roma's Market in Forest Knolls sometime Wednesday night and stole about $25 in change and five bottles of whiskey.

Owner Sterling Whitt, who discovered the theft yesterday, said nothing else seemed to be disturbed. A rear window of the store had been smashed for entry.

Jewish Unit Sets Program For Holidays

The program will begin on April 11, with a party in celebration of the Jewish Passover holiday. Children will participate in a scavenger hunt featuring all of the symbols used in the traditional Passover meal and will also have an opportunity to cook and to sample various holiday dishes.

On April 14, the Marin Center will be host to a group of children from the Peninsula Jewish Community Center for a special showing of "Hansel and Gretel" by the San Francisco Marionette Theater.

A trip to the San Francisco Zoo in a chartered bus is scheduled for April 15.

The holiday program is open to center members and will operate from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each of the three days.

Total Of Prisoners Hits Record High

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's prison population topped the 20,000 mark for the first time yesterday.

The actual count reported by the Department of Corrections was 20,036. This figure includes 849 women prisoners, also the highest number in history.

Corrections Director Richard A. McGee said a setup in the state's conservation camp program has aided in absorbing the increase in prison population.

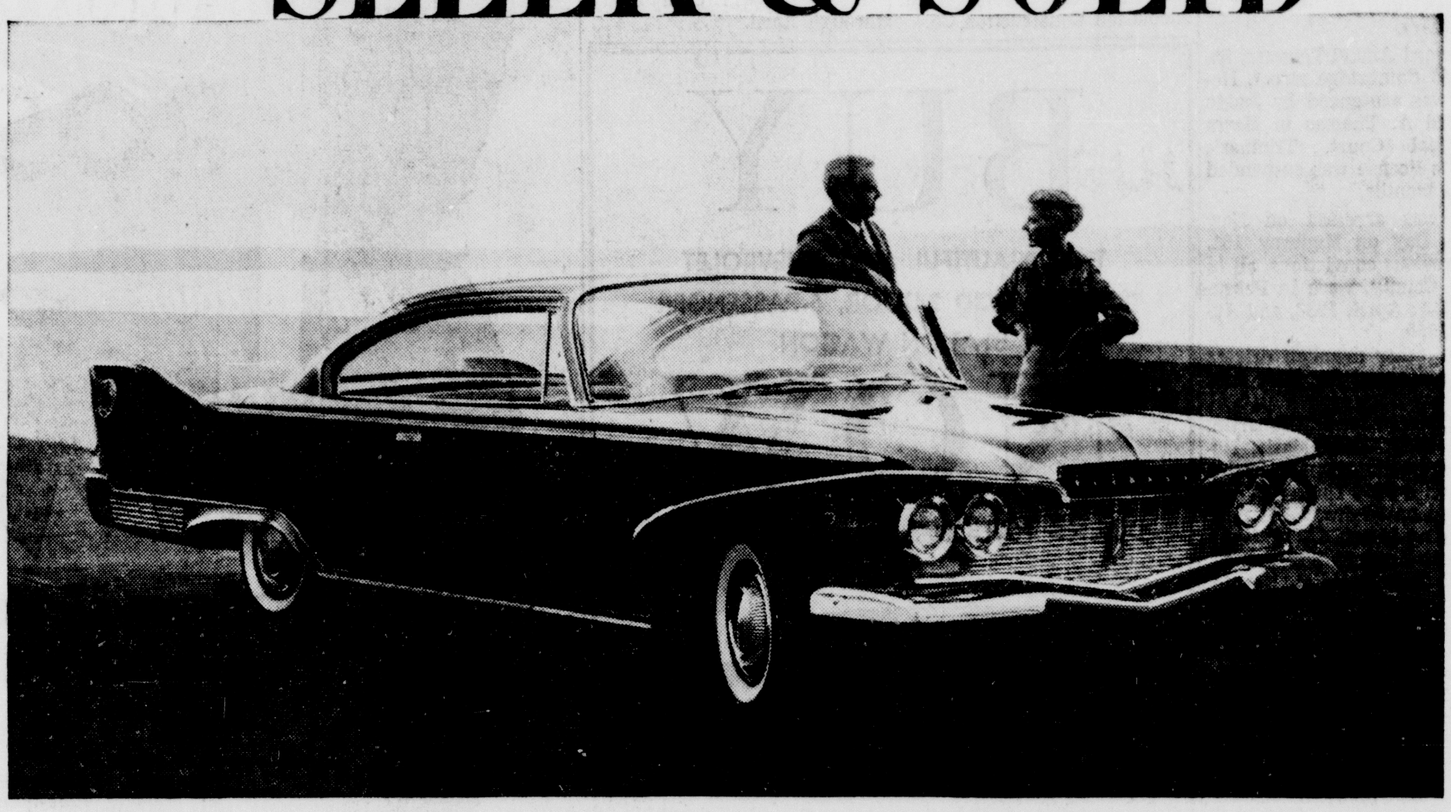
SLEEK & SOLID



Sleek describes what meets the eye. Solid covers the hidden virtues. For sure, you want the beauty. For sure, you want the brawn. Add the Fury V-8 power plant and you get the best of all in the sleek, Solid 1960 Plymouth.

Sleek means several things about the 1960 Plymouth. Neat, trim lines. Styling that says "no wasted metal, no wasted motion." The sure way this car daggers through the wind.

Solid fits, too. It means the strength and durability built into Plymouth's one-piece welded Unibody. It means the steady stance of Torsion-Aire Ride. It means the surging V-8 power up front.

This just might be your car. Best way to find out is to see your Plymouth dealer. This week's a good time. He'll supply the sleek, Solid Plymouth for your once-over. You can supply the rest of the words.

One-Tenth Of Planned Roads Already Built

In the past two years the United States has completed 4,050 miles of new roads as part of its long-range plan to build 41,000 miles if inter-state highways.

The cost to the taxpayers was $1,348,000,000 with the federal government providing $1,085,000,000 of the total.

In addition, 5,229 miles of highways are either under actual construction or contract and will cost $3,275,000,000.

FUNDS OBLIGATED

Funds have been obligated for construction of another 8,271 miles of the highways at a cost of $6,459,000,000.

Under the 1956 Federal-Aid Highway Program the federal government puts up 90 per cent of the cost of roads designated as essential to national defense, while the states put up 10 per cent.

The program is not to be confused with the regular highway program in which the federal government puts up 50 per cent of the necessary funds and the states put up 50 per cent.

PRESENT-DAY NEED

A report to Congress by the Bureau of Public Roads noted that "while the goal for the system is its ultimate adequacy for the traffic forecast for 1975, the pressing need is to cope with present-day traffic."

"The objective," the report continued, "has been to complete as much mileage as possible adequate for current needs and to defer improvement to 1975 standards. . . ."

Film On Nature Will Be Shown

"The Great Adventure," a film on nature, will be shown at 10 a.m., April 14, at the Marion School, Novato, by members of the Novato Overseas Relief Depot.

The film, to be shown free for children, will be over by 11:30 a.m. Admission will be an article of clothing in good condition. It will be used by the relief depot in its work with the American Friends Service Committee in responding to the needs of refugees in Algeria.

The film begins with a spring day on a Swedish farm. It has won a number of awards.

Any other contributions to the refugees may be made to the Friends committee, relief depot, 766 Kendon lane, Novato.

Production Of Small Cars Running Right On Schedule

This means they were built to the normal Detroit lead time of some 2½ to three years and are not the result of crash programs.

The average time from drawing board to assembly line in Detroit runs the best part of three years due to the many technical problems that must be solved before an automobile is ready for mass production.

In early 1957 General Motors, Ford and Chrysler decided the time had come to build smaller economy cars. They envisioned machines with a lower initial cost and good gas mileage, bigger than the small imports but smaller than standard Fords, Chevrolets or Plymouths.

"We wanted new cars," says one Chrysler official, "not just a little Plymouth." And the same attitude was shared by the other two big makers.

Even when Detroit starts to work in earnest on a new car, signals can be changed. It has happened before. One small General Motors' car which was designed for American buyers was scrapped for the domestic market but turned up in Australia as GM's Holden.

Ford has a similar experience and converted its model to the Vedette of Ford of France. Chrysler built several prototypes of a small car in 1949 before junking its program.

The Big Three like to pride themselves on keeping ever alert to the market trends and constantly dabble in research projects. Usually such experimental projects can be converted to production if market surveys indicate the time is ripe.

Chrysler, Ford and General Motors many times indicated they would give serious consideration to building smaller, domestic cars if the market for the small imports reached 500,000 units annually.

This figure will be beaten for the first time this year and Detroit has its smaller cars ready.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

UNSKILLED LABOR....$2.865

Employer payments other than those itemized above, as defined in Section 1773.1 of the Labor Code, are to be paid in accordance with the terms of the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the type or classification of the workmen or mechanics employed on the project.

Overtime, Sundays and Holidays—not less than one and one-half (1½) times the basic hourly rate plus applicable employer payments. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification or type of workman employed on the project.

Copies of all collective bargaining agreements relating to the work as set forth in the aforementioned Labor Code are on file and available for inspection in the office of the Department of Industrial Relations, Division of Labor Statistics and Research.

Attention is directed to Section 7-1.01G of the Standard Specifications providing for employment of apprentices on the work. Every such apprentice shall be paid the standard wage paid to apprentices under the regulations of the trade at which he is employed. Information relative to employment of apprentices shall be obtained from the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations, who is the Administrative Officer of the California Apprenticeship Council.

Plans, specifications, and proposal forms to be used for bidding on this project can only be obtained at the office of the State Highway Engineer, Public Works Building, Sacramento, California.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the State Highway Engineer at Sacramento, at the offices of the District Engineers at Los Angeles and San Francisco, and at the office of the District Engineer of the district in which the work is situated.

No bid will be considered unless it is made on a blank form furnished by the State Highway Engineer and is made in accordance with the provisions of the Standard Specifications and special provisions. Each bidder must be licensed and also prequalified as required by law.

BEES ARE BUZZIN'
Summer in Marin! What could be lovelier? And what could be lovelier than your own home in the western part of the county. Woodacre, of course—ideally located within minutes of San Rafael, and a short drive to many of the finest recreation areas in the county. Here is a 2 bedroom plus home, plus an unfinished room off the 3 car port. Drapes included, of course, as is the TV antenna. Only 5 years old. Ideal for year round living; close to schools and stores, or could be your very own, and private, summer retreat. See it soon!

LIFE'S WORTH LIVING
Life is worth living when you can put your family into a brand new home with all conveniences, clean, modern lines, and still preserve your own peace of mind, AND your budget. Here are 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, in a lovely woodsy area of San Anselmo. Lots of glass, and warm wood cabinets, full ceramic tiled baths, electric kitchen with built-in stove and oven. Brand new — awaiting YOU!

$21,950
CHILDREN? CHARMING!
Built with you in mind, this home has 4 full bedrooms, and 2 large baths. Commuters will love its proximity to bus lines and highway, and all the lovely new shops and schools. Completely fenced, this is a house that will take a beating. Bring the kids, they'll love it, and they will love you, too!

LARGE FAMILY?
It may seem impossible, but we have a new 4 bedroom home with 2 baths plus elec. kitchen and spacious family room for the just listed price of $28,950. Almost $21,000 of good financing can be assumed at approximately $155 per Mo. Location, too, is excellent in modern Hawthorne Hills. On level street, the home boasts a clear view of Mt. Tamalpais an Ross Valley. Especially nice is the fact the family room and one bedrm. and half bath are below main liv. area. Keeps the lovely living room with towering brick fireplace clutter free. A separate utility room for storage, sewing or what-ever-you-wish, completes the picture. Put your family into the home they deserve!

4-Dr. Hardtop $1895

A model 75. The most expensive Buick built in 1957. This is really luxury. Every conceivable power feature—steering, brakes, windows and 6-way seat. Original silver mist paint hasn't a scratch on it. The interior is absolutely like the one on our showroom floor. We took it in from original owner, who will pick up new Buick when he returns from world cruise.

4-Dr. Hardtop $1795

A standard Roadmaster 4-Dr. Hardtop in arctic white and red. Beautiful black and white interior like new. Full power-steering, brakes, windows and 6-way seat. Just over 30,000 miles put on by local family. We're the the only one who has ever serviced this car since the day we sold it new in 1957.

'POSSUM, CATS ARE BUDDIES; DOG ALOOF

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (UPI)—Farmer Paul Thatcher said today an opossum began taking his meals with the Thatcher cats last winter when heavy snows drove the 'possum from his natural habitat.

When spring arrived the 'possum remained but the cats didn't mind. In fact the only objector, Thatcher said, is his dog, Bandit, who eats alone.

Lawsuit Filed On Alleged Land Option

A Belvedere attorney, who says he has an agreement to buy almost 1,000 acres of Dr. M. R. Ottinger's land near Inverness for $350,000, has gone to court complaining the doctor refuses to honor the agreement.

Benjamin P. Bonelli of 21 Cove road, Belvedere, filed suit to force Dr. Ottinger to live up to an agreement to sell which he alleged was signed last December. San Anselmo attorney Lawrence E. Wright is representing Bonelli.

According to the complaint, Dr. Ottinger owns 979 acres of what is called Upper Muddy Hollow ranch near Inverness.

A written agreement made on Dec. 12, 1959, gave him a 90-day option to buy, Bonelli alleges. On March 3 this year, Bonelli says, he tried to exercise the option and tendered the entire purchase price, but Dr. Ottinger refused to sell.

Bonelli asks for a court order to compel Dr. Ottinger to convey the property to him.

Sausalito Little Theater Sets Tryouts For Play

Tryouts will be held at 2:30 p.m., Sunday at the Sausalito Little Theater for "East of the Rockies," in the theater's summer melodrama program.

Words and music for the lyric Western drama are by Jahn Sutton, with embellishments to the original drama by Lou Mason.
